This long exposure to the elements for eight hours to wet and cold brought on exhaustion and death.

Miss Jensen, who was 63 years old, was slightly deranged and had for many years lived by herself in the upper flat of her brother's, Thomas Jensen, house. Dr. Marven, coroner of Hillsboro, was telephoned for and on viewing the body and hearing the facts, as have been already stated, decided that an inquest was not necessary.

FREDERICTON. Fredericton, June 20.—(Special)—Frank E. Winslow, for several years manager of the Bank of Montreal at Chatham, died this evening at the residence of Mrs. Colwell, where with his wife and daughters he has boarded for some months.

Deceased who was eighty years of age, was a native of the province of Ontario, and T. B. Winslow, secretary of the provincial board of works department in this city. He is survived by a widow, two sons—Edward, connected with the Bank of Montreal at Stratford (Ont.), and Warren C. Winslow, barrister of Chatham; also three daughters—Mrs. J. W. Curry, of Campbell, Apohaqui, Kings county, and Misses Constance and Edith Winslow, residing in this city.

The death of Mr. Winslow removes from the scene of his labors a most active and useful citizen, and one who in his day had justly earned the esteem and regard of many of the leading men of the province. The late Mr. Winslow was the soul of honor in all his business relationships, while his talents and good judgment as a man of business are sufficiently shown by the fact that he was manager of an important agency of the Bank of Montreal in this province for a period of nearly thirty years, retiring on account of advancing years and failing health in May, 1901.

Mr. Winslow was born in Woodstock (N. B.), July 9, 1824, being the second son of the late Sheriff Winslow of Carleton county. He held for a time the position of deputy treasurer of Victoria county, residing at Grand Falls. This position he relinquished in 1854, and returning to Woodstock, entered the service of the Central Bank of N. B. He married in October, 1855, Miss Hannah, of Halifax, who, with two sons and three daughters, survives him.

On his removal to Chatham in June, 1859, Mr. Winslow was presented an address signed by nearly all the leading citizens of Woodstock, expressive of their respect and esteem. He always cherished a warm attachment to his native town, and after the disastrous fire of 1860, in which the greater part of Woodstock was destroyed, he was particularly active in gathering subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers. For his services on this occasion he received the public thanks of the mayor and council of Chatham.

The greater part of his life was spent at Chatham, where he was known as a most active and influential citizen. In religion Mr. Winslow was a member of the Church of England, and a regular attendant and generous supporter of St. Mary's church in Chatham. He was of a particularly genial and sympathetic nature and his heart and his purse were ever open to the relief of the unfortunate.

While at Chatham he filled for a short time the post of manager of the Commercial Bank, and on the 15th July, 1869, entered the service of the Bank of Montreal, retiring, as stated, after nearly thirty-two years' service, on a well-earned pension. Since his retirement Mr. Winslow had resided for a year in England and lately made his home in Fredericton. Although he had outlived most of his contemporaries, few men will be more sincerely lamented and more widely missed.

Mr. Winslow had in his possession the valuable manuscripts of his grandfather, Judge Edward Winslow, who was one of the founders of New Brunswick. These papers, by his generous financial aid and with the assistance of the New Brunswick Historical Society, have lately been printed, and are a most valuable contribution to early Canadian history.

Fredericton, June 21.—(Special)—Judge Barker, John Kilburn, Fredericton, and O. P. Stacey, William G. P., have been appointed a commission to investigate charges against the Restigouche Boom Company. The town of Edmundston has been separated as a health district from Madawaska county district No. 17.

Rev. H. E. Stewart, of Harcourt, has been registered to solemnize marriages. Harcourt, June 21.—The Rev. H. E. Stewart, of Harcourt, has been granted to Nelson W. Evesleigh, Sussex; Nelson Smith, Halifax; William Fowler, Sussex; Allan R. Cassidy, Hammondsville; and Harry C. Fairbank, Kings county, under name of "The Evesleigh Dairy Company." The capital stock is $9,000 divided into shares of $10 each.

The funeral of the late F. E. Winslow will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. C. Watson, of Harcourt, and after the funeral services have been conducted at the cathedral the body will be taken to Forest Hill cemetery for interment. Warren C. Winslow arrived here from Chatham yesterday. Edward Winslow is here from Stratford (Ont.) to attend the funeral of his father.

Mrs. James P. Clayton, aged 80 years, is dead at Riverview, California. Daniel and James Clayton, of this city, are sons. A man named Wright, who had two fingers taken off in an accident at Hartsville, while the wages amounted to $34,333.30. These figures, both for sales and wages, are not so large as last year, but just as much money was made. The Kings County Agricultural Society, New Haven, having been attending Yale University for the past year, Mr. Massie is a graduate of U. S. N. H. and will be B. A. at Yale on Wednesday next week.

absences. Dr. Carvath, of Riverside, is attending him. NEWTON. Newtown, June 20.—Rev. Mr. Barnes preached in the Free Baptist church on Sunday evening last. Rev. Fletcher Knollin and Mrs. Knollin were visiting in Newtown last week. Mrs. John King has been called to Kingston on account of the serious illness of her daughter. Ed. Pearce is visiting at Petticoat. The students of Apohaqui, spent Sunday visiting friends here.

The amount of milk received daily at and the cheese factory continues to increase each day, and is of first quality. There seems to be a greater demand for cheese this year than last and the prospects for a profitable season for the patrons are bright. The recent rains have been of great benefit to the grass in this section. If the weather continues damp and warm the hay crop will be good.

DIGBY. Digby, June 21.—No new developments have occurred in the Plympton murder case today. Your correspondent has interviewed several reliable citizens of Digby county who know Mary Hope Young, the prisoner, and many who know Hope's mother. The latter's name is also mentioned in a rather strange coincidence that this name is very common among so many connected with the prisoner. There is no doubt that the prisoner is considerably older than she is represented to be. Seven years ago she worked as a domestic in the home of a prominent family in Brighton, Digby county. She was then over eighteen years of age and was at that time noted for her intelligence and a habit from which she has evidently failed to recover. Her mother worked for many years in the family of John S. McNeill, of Barton, and while living with him she was a fool and prided herself in being taken for one, she was certainly, while in Barton, a smart and shrewd piece of humanity. The prisoner at one time was in the Home of the Good Shepherd at Halifax. She afterwards spent some time in Boston and vicinity. It is thought here that no such man as Fred B. Young referred to ever practiced law in Boston.

Elmer Young, of Boston, is known by several people here, some of whom have his business cards. He is now about 48 years of age. He is a son of the late Magazine Melanson, of Plympton, and is married. His wife left him some time ago. He is now in the Kings County Canning factory at Trout Cove, Digby Neck, and his father says his wife is now living with a man who belongs to Plympton.

When King was taken to the prison he was leaving their home in Plympton Monday night their kind feeling toward the cat was very noticeable. King said he had been in the Kings County Canning factory at Trout Cove, Digby Neck, and his father says his wife is now living with a man who belongs to Plympton.

George M. Lewis. Yarmouth, N. S., June 22.—The death occurred at his home, south end last night, of Geo. M. Lewis, aged 74 years. He had never been ill during his lifetime until his last sickness of about a fortnight's duration. He was formerly a member of the grocery firm of Lewis & Co. with his brothers William and Thomas M., who survive him. His widow was a Miss Murray, of St. John (N. B.).

Mrs. John Watters. Riley Brook, Victoria Co., N. B., June 21.—On Friday, 9th inst., there occurred at Riley Brook the death of Mrs. John Watters in the sixty-first year of her age. Deceased had been in failing health for nearly a year and during the last few months of her illness had been confined to her bed.

The funeral services at the house and largely attended. The funeral was held at the residence of Mr. H. G. Fraser, a Presbyterian minister, and was conducted by Rev. H. G. Fraser. The funeral was held at the residence of Mr. H. G. Fraser, a Presbyterian minister, and was conducted by Rev. H. G. Fraser.

Besides a sorrowing husband, there remain four sons—Fred, Everett, Charles, and James, of Nictaux; and two daughters, Mrs. Goodwin, of Boston, and Mrs. Penness, of Nictaux. Two brothers, Robert, of Nictaux, and John, of Nictaux, also survive him. Deceased was a member of the late Peter C. Kelly, of Miramichi.

Captain William Welch. Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 22.—(Special)—Captain William Welch, ex-M. P., died tonight aged eighty-two. Deceased followed the sea as commander of his own ships and for a number of years conducted a large shipping and shipping business of the late firm of Welch & Owen. He entered provincial politics more than thirty years ago, and was a member of the Liberal party. Deceased was the son of Sir Louis Davies, as premier passed his education at St. John's.

George E. Ash. Moncton, June 22.—The death of George E. Ash, of Moncton, occurred at his home on Monday, June 20, at the age of about a year. Deceased was 62 years of age and a highly respected farmer of that place. One son, Earl E. Ash, resides in Moncton, and another, Mr. Thomas Aspey, of Moncton; Mrs. Will Jones, of Sableville; Clara and Alice, at home, survive. The funeral will take place on Saturday.

More than a thousand people attended the 13th annual celebration and picnic held in New Denmark yesterday in honor of the founding of the colony.

MONCTON. Moncton, June 22.—(Special)—At a largely attended meeting of the First Baptist congregation tonight an unanimous call was extended to Rev. G. E. Fraser, of East Milton (Mass.). Mr. Fraser, who occupied the pulpit of the Moncton church the last two Sundays, is still in the city. It is thought he will also accept the call of the Father Meehan will be laid to rest in the R. C. cemetery here tomorrow morning, the last day being taken place at St. Bernard's church at 10 o'clock.

Bishop Casey and Vicar General Chapman arrived in the city from St. John this afternoon. This evening after a service in the cathedral, the Rev. Mr. Casey, assisted by Mr. Chapman, V. G. Hebert, Boutouche; Messrs. LeBlanc, LeBlanc, St. Mary's, Bouichaud, Fox Creek; Dufray, St. Ann; Cormier, cure of Moncton, the body was removed to the church and placed on catafalque, where it lies in state.

A service consisting of chanting solemn vespers and prophecies was participated in by the bishop and clergy during the evening. Large numbers of the members of the congregation and citizens took a farewell look at the body as it lay in state. At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning solemn requiem masses will be said in the church.

ELMER YOUNG HELD UP AT YARMOUTH

that has caused so much excitement here as the murder of the child. No other subject is discussed, and it is probable that if Melanson and Hope Young were placed on trial now a change of venue would be necessary to secure justice for them. The case against them is regarded by many as so strong that the opinion is freely expressed that Hope Young's only chance of escape will be a plea of insanity.

Hope Young Thought Queer. Every one of her former neighbors with whom the Herald correspondent talked today freely expressed the opinion that they had always thought her "queer" or silly or weak. Mr. Frank Nichols of Digby, counsel for the woman, when asked if this defence would be made, replied in the negative, but later qualified this by saying that he had not an opportunity to make an investigation of the case as yet.

He would not discuss the evidence, but plainly intimated that counsel had no hope of clearing either the woman or Melson from the preliminary hearing next Tuesday, but would make their fight then simply for the purpose of making the government show its hand. If probable is found in this hearing the prisoners will be held for the grand jury, which does not meet until September, and a trial cannot be had until fall.

The baby daughter of Hope Young has recovered entirely from the effects of the ill usage she suffered, and seemed happy and had already learned to call "mamma" when the Herald reporter called there today. Except for the face and wrists, which were terribly bitten by flies, the child bears no marks of ill usage. Her Comau residence is not more than 100 yards from Melanson's house, and it was to Mrs. Comau that Hope Young went with her story that her house had been robbed and the children were missing.

"It was between 5 and 6 o'clock," said Mr. Comau. "She didn't seem at all alarmed for the children's safety." Dexter Comau and Eldridge Melanson were sent out at once by Mrs. Comau to look for the children, and it was they who searched the neighborhood. Mrs. Comau said that her own little girl, 12 years old, had been away at school all day, and she had been in the fields with the men, so she had not been considered at all strange that they had not seen the children.

Mrs. Esther Boudreau, whose husband was a member of the coroner's jury, was the person of all her neighbors with whom "Hope Young," as she calls her, was most familiar. It was to her house that Hope Young came to live in the summer of 1901, but no return of the certificate has ever been made.

According to the statements of Mrs. Florence L. Erwin, a sister of Elmer Young, Miss Maxwell had two children by Elmer Young, one a girl named Hazel, who is now about thirteen years of age, and an eleven-year-old boy named Fred. Mr. Erwin said his first met Miss Maxwell about fourteen years ago this past spring when in company with Elmer Young she was in the city of Nova Scotia. Miss Maxwell, said, came from Digby county, and her parents, she thought, were named Annie and Joseph, and that they are still residing in that locality. The Maxwell woman and her children are now believed to be in Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Erwin, sister of Young, conducts a bakery in this city. "I knew this woman as Agnes Maxwell," said Mrs. Erwin yesterday, "but I do not believe that she is right name. She was a very pretty girl, about eighteen years old, when I first saw her. She was short and dark complexioned, and always dressed in a neat manner. She lived with Young some place in the Maine Plains, but about eleven years ago Young and she quarrelled and she returned to Nova Scotia.

"I believe that it was after she returned to Nova Scotia that her child Fred was born. She returned to Boston in a few years, and the last I saw of her was about four years ago, when she came in to tell me of having met May Ward.

"In November, 1903, Young rented two rooms from me on Mt. Vernon avenue and installed Hope Young as his housekeeper. The child Minnie Ward was with him and Hope Young had with her a two-months-old baby. They remained until the following April, when Elmer left because we did not agree. I had taken the child Minnie away from him because of the cruel and abusive treatment she received from Hope Young, but on his promise to give her proper care he was allowed to care for the child again.

It was last July that Hope Young went to Digby with the child Minnie Ward, and the last I saw of the child was the previous April. Hope Young always appeared to me to act rather sily."

June Weddings. McKim-Scott. On Wednesday afternoon, June 21, at the residence of the bride's father, Daniel E. McKim, of Armstrong's Corner, and Miss Margaret Scott, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, Clarendon, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Ross, superintendent of Presbyterian missions.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white, with cream trimmings, and wore orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Christina Scott, was dressed in pink and white. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. The guests, numbered upwards of fifty. The presents to the bride were numerous, of which bank bills of various denominations were much in evidence.

Bovard-Prince. Moncton, June 22.—One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that which took place last evening in Wesley Memorial church, when Claud Bovard, a well known I. C. R. trainman and base ball player, married Miss Mabel Prince, daughter of John Prince, I. C. R. general offices. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Penney, pastor of the church. The bride was given away by her father.

The death occurred today of Smith H. Brown at his home on Mountain Road.
