B. in Ancaster, Wentworth, Ont., Aug. 10, 1854, he was ed. at the Hamilton public schs. and at Toronto Univ. (B.A., 1880). Mr. M. is what may be termed a born journalist, having from his early youth had a marked predilection for a newspaper life. After having been on the reporting and editorial staff of several Can. journals, including the Toronto Globe, he established, in 1880, the Toronto World, as an Ind. Con. journal, a title it has since consistently maintained. Within recent yrs., the World has issued a Sunday edition, being the first of the Can. dailies to introduce that innovation. It was also the first daily paper in Can. to be published at the price of one cent. Conjointly with W. J. Loudon, B.A., Mr. M. published, 1887, the Fasts of the Univ. of Toronto. He was an unsuccessful candidate, in the Con. interest, for the representation of North Wentworth in the Ont. Assembly, g. e. 1890, and for East York, in the Ho. of Commons, against the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, g. e. 1891 (Vote: Hon. A. Mackenzie, L., 3003; W. F. Maclean, C., 2977). He was first returned, May, 1892, on the death of Mr. Mackenzie (Vote: W. F. Maclean, C., 3668; J. K. Leslie, L., 3417), and was re-elected, g. e. 1896. He is a strong protectionist, and a believer in Can.'s right to a national existence on this continent, and that Brit. connection is necessary thereto. He favours Sunday street cars, the closing of the Parliamentary liquor bar, the abolition of ry. passes to mems. of the Legislature and of Parlt., and the fixing of a uniform passenger rate on rys. of 2 cents per mile. In an editorial on the position of parties, he thus outlines Can.'s needs, according to his ideas: "What Can. wants is protection at home, preferential trade within the Empire, a Canadian policy, as against the U. S., and these principles administered by men who are honest in their profession of them, and honest in an effort to secure economical and progressive govt. in other lines." A mem. of the Presb.
