STROWAN LODGE
MORNINGSIDE PLACE
EDINBURGH

16th Nov. 1910

My dear Rev.

It was a great disappointment to think you were here and I did not see you.

I have been going to write you ever since to know what are the prospects of Sackalton University. Edinburgh has offered me the grandest church, and the people are loyal to an amazing degree.
But Dr. Mac Gregor's retirement adds a novel difficulty to the burden of such a change: and at present minuted, I do not intend to stay.
There is much wrangling as to the colleagues to be, some wanting to appoint a much older man, some inclined to one too young. The senior is the best hated man in our church, and lacks the note of sincerity!
