
4. In this day when Canada is in the making, and when the great nations of the East are turning to Christendom for light, the call for missionaries is loud beyond all precedent, and the opportunities of service great beyond our wildest dreams.

5. If ever this sin-cursed world is to be redeemed, it will not be through the soldier with his rifle and bayonet, but through the Christian Missionary with his Bible and his Christ.

6. The Christian Ministry is the highest calling because the minister and the missionary deal with the highest kind of raw material—human personality—and aim at producing the highest kind of product—a full-grown man according to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Jesus Christ.

WHAT KIND OF MEN ARE NEEDED?

For a calling so high and holy, a task so subtle and difficult, it is evident that we need—

1. Men of wholesome, healthy bodies, and natural ability.

2. Men of education, to whom the educated men in their congregations can look up with respect.
