The Best
IT PAYS BEST IN THE END
Have you seen the catalogue of the
CANADA BUSINESS COLLEGE,
Chatham, Ont.

If not, you are not yet familiar with the best Canada has to offer in the lines of BUSINESS TRAINING, ACCOUNTING or PENMANSHIP. We have supplied more teachers for other business schools than all other Canadian business colleges combined. 30 of our pupils have secured good positions during the past year. Send for list and hand-sample catalogue. Good board for ladies at $2 per week, gent's $2.50. We pay railway fare. If circumstances will not allow you to attend at Chatham, you can get instructions by mail, in BOOKKEEPING, SUBSCRIPTION or PENMANSHIP from Canada's greatest school of Business, by addressing D. McLACHLAN & CO., Chatham, Ont.

ST. THOMAS
Business COLLEGE

Four applications from other business colleges for teachers, is our record for last week. We cannot supply the demand on our school for such help.

We do not place 300 students in positions in one year; neither do any other Canadian College. No ONE Canadian College ever prepared 300 students for office work in one year. These are facts that cannot be contradicted.

We stake our reputation upon EDUCATIONAL RESULTS, and will refund the money to any student who is not satisfied with the instruction given in our school, after a trial of one month.

Now is the best time to enter.

TWO HOURS OF ROMANCE.

The play is on. They sit. She sees the stage. And watches every action there portrayed. He sees but her and, seeing her, sees all. Her face a page. Whereon the play is written, bit by bit. He reads, and then she smiles, unconscious maid. His lips into the mold of hers do fall.

Love comes. On her cheek There shines a pearl. Love triumphs. In her eyes there sits a song. Dreams her. If imitation claim a tear, Then, then, then, girl, What would passion claim? Nay, fool and weak. You want not tears and pity, but you long To make the love light in those eyes appear!

Below them pipe of wood And reined string. All vibrate softly, whispering of hope: These his heart beats higher with the thought Of reigning king. Burst into strains of triumph. Leap, O blood! The curtain's down. Lights up. The play is over.

She sighs; he sighs; and romance is no more. —Scribner's Magazine.

WANDERING FREIGHT CARS.

How They Are Rounded Up by the Car Accountant.

The car accountant is a typical instance of development in the railroad business. In the early days he did not exist. The superintendent was supposed to know in a general way what was being done with the company's cars. The custom was for railroads to carry through freight as far as the end of their own lines in their own cars. Then it was transferred to the cars of the foreign line, and so assisted on the next stage to its destination. So much time, however, was lost in making the transfers that the needs of shippers forced upon the railroads a departure which has now become their general custom. Railroads permit all loaded cars to go through to their destination without transfer and allow one another a certain sum for the use of the cars. This results in scattering the cars of the different roads over every section of track in the country. It produces the extraordinary processions of many colored travelers from distant lands that delight the eyes of youngsters at a railroad crossing.

In theory the cars are permitted to run through over foreign roads to their destination on the condition that on their arrival they shall be unloaded promptly and started on the return home. In practice the freight agent is apt to use the cars that are most handy regardless of their ownership. An agent in Minneapolis would hardly think twice before filling up a Maine Central freight car with a consignment for Manitoba. The agent at Manitoba would not suffer a pang of conscience when he found himself stuffing the same Maine car with a cargo of supplies for Waco, Tex. Thus are begun the wanderings of a car to which, if it were not for the car accountant and his memoranda, there would sometimes be no end.

It is by no means easy to bring the wanderers home. When the Maine Central's car accountant learns from his reports that his car is being unduly knocked about on foreign roads, his first news is that it has spent two weeks in the yards at Minneapolis. A tracer is at once forwarded to the transportation department of the railroad which is believed to be holding the car. By this time the car is on its way to Manitoba. A tracer follows it there, but with the similar result of finding that the car has been dispatched for the southwest. A letter to the company operating the line out of Waco brings an answer to the effect that it is crippled and has been run into the shops for repairs or that it has been loaded again, in which case the company promises politely to unload it and send it home immediately. Then the car is promptly switched on to branch line for some local consignee and is not heard of again, except by the needy agent who captured it, until it turns up in a tall end collision in the state of West Virginia. Luckily it is not a big injury and is able to continue its wanderings, pursued by more and more vigorously worded correspondence, until somebody sends it home.

How Whistler Dressed Up.
Whistler, on one of his visits to Sir Alma Tadema, shocked his famous brother artist. On the night of his arrival Whistler's host announced that he intended to give a breakfast next morning. "There will be a number of ladies present, Whistler," he said, "and I want you to pull yourself together and look your best."

"All right," said Whistler. The next morning Whistler's voice was heard ringing through the magnificent halls of the Tadema mansion: "Tadema, Tadema! I want you, Tadema!" "Thinking of nothing less than fire, Sir Alma rushed to the room of his guest. "For heaven's sake, Whistler, what's the matter? You've waked every one in the house. What is it?"

"Oh, don't get so excited, Tadema," he said. "I only wanted to know where you keep the scissors to trim the fringe of cuffs with; thought you wanted me to pull myself together for the ladies."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Cost of Harvesting Wheat.
The expense of harvesting a thousand acres of wheat is not more than $600. This amount is exclusive of, of course, the planting. The plowing of a field costs $1 per acre. If the wheat raised is worthy, he will purchase a steam plow and do the work of plowing himself, thus saving one of the biggest items of expense. To drill the wheat in the ground costs 50 cents per acre, while seed costs about 50 cents a bushel, three pecks being used for each acre.

He was a very shy young man, and the girl—well, she was like most girls. "How do you pronounce 'K-i-s-m-e-t'?" she asked.

And he did, although he was a shy young man.—London Answers.

IT COST MONEY.

Many a man has spent all his earnings in trying to get rid of rheumatism. It cost Mr. James Davison, Ontario, Ont., between $1,000 and $2,000 before he tried Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure. He was a helpless invalid for six years but suffered from sciatica in his hip joint for ten years. Six bottles cured him completely. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

CONSIDERATE.

"Why is that picture turned toward the wall?"

"O, that is a haying scene, and we have to hide it whenever Uncle Thomas visits us, because he's a hay fever sufferer."

A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There is generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor but they don't strengthen it. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood-making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its body building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other ingredients. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

The Pain of Sore Feet.
Just about the most tantalizing of all pains comes from sore feet. To get relief, bathe the feet in warm water and rub them with Polson's Nerviline. It penetrates through the pores of the skin, takes out the soreness, reduces swellings, invigorates the tired muscles, tones up the circulation, and prevents the feet from becoming sore again. Nerviline is a protection and safe-guard against the pains and aches of the entire family and cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, etc. 25 cents.

"RIDING THE STANG."
An Old Custom That Still Lives in the North of England.

In some portions of the world the customs of the "good old days" still obtain. The method pursued in the treatment of drunken husbands in the north of England is a survival from the time when there were no magistrates convenient before whom the erring husband might be haled.

This method is known as "riding the stang," and though a very old practice, quite recently two cases of its being enforced were brought before the public notice.

The erring husbands were tied astride long poles and carried in this ridiculous and uncomfortable position through the streets of their town and followed by a jeering crowd of men, women and children, who did not hesitate to pelt them with refuse, according to the time honored usage on these occasions.

There are variations of the methods of "riding the stang," however, that mentioned above being perhaps the severest form.

In parts of Yorkshire and other northern counties, for instance, "riding the stang" is practiced more as a vicious punishment for any frailty on the part of a man or wife than a direct and personal punishment, as in the cases instance above.

Needless to say, in the cases in which the ceremony is performed vicariously the person who rides the stang is not subjected to bodily ill treatment at the hands of those who perform it.

It is usually some good natured friend who is selected for bestriding the stang. He is carried through the streets in the back of the stang, and the shoulders of the two men, preceded by another carrying a lantern.

At every fifty yards or so the procession makes a halt, during which the accompaniment of stang rider recites these verses:

Good neighbors attend while I you harangue; 'Tis neither for your sake nor for my sake That I ride the stang. But it is for the wife of John Smith That I ride the stang.

In the fullness of time the procession finds itself outside the house of the guilty husband, where it disperses after a few choruses of boots and jeers.

The vocal discord, however, is seldom deemed sufficiently soul stirring; a supplementary pandemonium produced from pots, pans and kettles usually being employed against the offender.

Mountains Made of Skeletons.
Many of the most imposing mountain ranges of the globe are largely made up of limestone composed almost entirely of the hard parts of animals which once lived in the sea, the most important of these rock building forms being of a very small size. The solid earth is, in fact, a colossal graveyard, and many of its most imposing elevations are stupendous tombstones.

The chalk making up the white cliffs to which England owes her name of Albion (Latin, albus, white) is chiefly composed of microscopic shells closely resembling those now found at the bottom of the sea. Hills and mountain ranges largely made of this chalk extend from Britain and France round the shores of the Mediterranean and away into Asia, and are largely represented in other parts of the world. Even more remarkable is the limestone of which the pyramids are built.

This is chiefly made up of coin shaped shells (mammillites), partly responsible, no doubt, for eastern legends of magic money. The limestone containing them attains a thickness of several thousand feet and is the material of which many mountain ranges are largely built. Beginning on the west, we have the Pyrenees and Alps, followed by the Carpathians, Caucasus, mountains of Asia Minor, North Africa and Archidistan and, lastly, the Suleiman mountains, Himalayas and ranges in China and Japan.

Love and Gold.
The English papers are telling a story of Daniel O'Connell, the Irish statesman. His great rival was Sergeant Tom Gould, pronounced Gould, Tom was a confirmed old bachelor, but when over eighty years of age proposed to and was accepted by a girl of eighteen. He announced his engagement to O'Connell in verse, concluding thus:

So you see, my dear Dan, that though eighty years old, To which O'Connell replied: That a girl of eighteen may love gold it is true, But, believe me, dear Tom, it is gold without U.

The Personal Argument.
"Do you think the world is growing better, George?"

"De I understand that you want me to decide whether I am a better man than my father or not?"

"How funny!"

"Oh, I don't know. Are you a better woman than your mother?"

"Why, of course not. How absurd!"

"Then how do you expect the world to grow better when you fail to help it along?"

"George, you are very rude."

Didn't Get Her Money's Worth.
Clara—Why, Ethel, what makes you so blue?

Ethel—That fortune teller told me I would be married twice, and she told Edna she would have three husbands, and to think I paid for having both our fortunes told!

The Lawyer: The precedents are against you, madam.
The Lady—Well, sue them, too, then.

It is a Wonder To Everybody.

How Speedily and Certainly the Wretched Itching and Uneasiness of Piles is Removed and Thoroughly Cured by DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

It seems wonderful that after all these years of investigation and research the physicians are still hopeless to relieve and cure one of the most common and most distressing afflictions to which men and women are subject, viz., itching, bleeding piles. In nine cases out of ten the doctors still recommend a surgical operation, with its expense, extreme pain and danger, as the only cure for piles.

Justice alone keeps the physicians from prescribing Dr. Chase's Ointment in all cases of piles. It has made for itself a world-wide reputation, and is sold under a positive guarantee to cure any case of piles, no matter how long standing, no matter how many operations have failed, and no matter how intense has been the suffering.

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Concession, Prince Edward County, Ont., states:—"I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years and they ultimately attained to a very violent form. Large lumps of abscesses formed, so that it was with great difficulty and considerable pain that I was able to stool. At this severe crisis I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but I had little or no faith in it, as I had tried various remedies before and to no purpose."

"Now, imagine how great and joyous was my surprise to find that just one box cured me, so that the lumps disappeared, and also the external swelling, I feel like a different man to-day, and have not the least doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation and many years of suffering. It is with the greatest pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Dr. Chase's Ointment has done so much for me. You are at perfect liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

You are invited to make this test and prove to your own satisfaction the almost magical power of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Ask your neighbors who have used it what they say of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Use it when you have the opportunity, and remember that it is guaranteed to cure any case of itching, bleeding or protruding piles. 50c. a box, at all dealers or by mail from Edman-son, Bates & Co., Toronto.
