

KILLING THE DRAGON.

A little boy, four years old, was much impressed by the story of "St. George and the Dragon," which his mother had been reading to him and his sister, and the next day he said to his father:

"Father, I want to be a saint."

"Very well, John," said his father, "you may be a saint if you choose, but you will find it very hard work."

"I don't mind," replied John. "I want to be a saint and fight a dragon. I am sure I could kill one!"

"So you shall, my boy."

"But when can I be one?" persisted the child.

"You can begin to-day," said his father.

"But where is the dragon?"

"I will tell you when he comes out."

So the boy ran off contentedly to play with his sister.

In the course of the day some presents came for the two children. John's was a book, and his sister Catherine's a beautiful doll. Now John was too young to care for a book, but he dearly loved dolls, and when he found that his sister had what he considered a much nicer present than his own, he threw himself on the floor in a passion of tears.

His father, who happened to be there, said quietly, "Now, John, the dragon is out."

The child stopped crying, but said nothing. That evening, however, when he bade his father good night, he whispered:

"Papa, I am very glad Catherine has the doll. I did kill the dragon!"

The Demon of Dyspepsia.

Banished For Ever by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Snow cannot withstand the heat of the mid-summer sun. There's no ice on the creeks in August.

No more can indigestion and dyspepsia exist when Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are used. The sun melts the snow; Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food. That's all that is needed to banish indigestion and dyspepsia.

But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets do more. While they are digesting the food, they rest the stomach; tone it up, restore all its old strength, and give it a new supply.

You don't have to take Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for ever. A short course of treatment, two or three weeks, is enough for any case. Then you can quit using them and enjoy the benefits they have given you.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are specially suited to every form of dyspepsia. They will positively cure any form of the disease.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets prevent the formation of poisonous gases in the stomach by digesting the food at once. There is no time for it to ferment and create gas.

If the bowels need treatment Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets won't give it. But in each box is a package of smaller tablets that will. Thus there is a double treatment in every box.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, each box containing the double treatment, can be procured from all druggists, at 50 cents a box, or will be sent, on receipt of the price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

CLOCKS IN AFRICA.

Until white men came among them the people of Africa had no idea of timekeepers. They have no division of hours as we have, but since our missionaries have gone into West Central Africa, at Bailundu and Chisamba, clocks have been brought in, very much to the entertainment of the natives.

Mrs. Currie, writing from Chisamba, describes the effect produced upon the boys by the coming of several Waterbury clocks which they had brought. They were greatly interested in seeing them go, and were particularly impressed by the alarms.

The night after their arrival the boys set the alarms of the various clocks all the way from midnight to morning, just to hear how they would sound and to see what impression they would make when the boys were awakened from their sleep. Apparently there was not much sleep in those houses during that night.

One of the chiefs who had sent his men to the coast had them bring up a large eight-day clock, but not knowing how to manage, he brought it to Mr. and Mrs. Currie to be "healed," as he said.

Much amusement was caused by a little fellow, Oisapa by name, who after he had been watching the clock, happened to pass in front of it, when the glass door against the dark background of the clock made a mirror. Oisapa stood, and then shouted out, "Tundako" ("Go away"); then coming to Mrs. Currie he asked, "Who is in the clock?"

He knew as little about a mirror as he did about a clock. But these lads who know so little about what is to be seen in civilized countries are not stupid. They learn very quickly what is told them, and notice what they see, and, best of all, many of them act according to their knowledge, and when they learn Christian truth they accept it and try to walk in the light of it.

We want to give them not merely clocks and mirrors, but that Book which shall help them to see themselves as they are, and that gospel which shall enable them to measure time and eternity aright.

—Men of the noblest dispositions think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.

—Medical men say rheumatism is the forerunner of heart disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures rheumatism by its action on the blood.

—God intends that we should always be poor and needy, to give us constant errands to go to Jesus.

"MY LIFE DESPAIRED OF."

These are the words of Mrs. Wm. Burton, of Dartmore, Ont., after doctors had prescribed and she had taken every known heart remedy. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave relief in almost shorter time than it takes to tell it—it worked a wonderful cure in a case of long standing, and to-day she says: "I am a well woman." Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart has no case recorded against it where it did not give relief inside of 30 minutes.

The Success of anything depends upon the publicity it receives

Therefore, when a Sunday school entertainment is to be held, or special church services are to be conducted, it is important that as many persons as possible be made acquainted with the fact. There is no better way of accomplishing this than by attractive poster and newspaper advertising. We print posters that people stop to read, and compose advertisements for newspapers equally attractive.
