CAMPAIGN TO

DARDANELLES

London, July 21—The government has consented to the demand for investigations into the Dardanelles and Mesopotamia campaigns, which were asked for in motions Sir Edward Carson had given notice he would move in the House of Commons and Electric Shoe Repairing. Work which Baron Wemys gave notice of guaranteed. Phones: Bell 1207, Automatic 207. was moved, Premier Asquith said he recognized there was widespread genuine anxiety regarding these campaigns, and depreciating any debate which might give an impression that the country was in any way divided, the government thought right to institute two separate inquiries into the campaigns. The government had no desire to conceal the past shortcomings of the arrangenents in Mesopotamia or to shield those responsible. The inquiries would be held by small bodies composed of members of both Houses, and a representative of Australia, whose troops had taken such a gallant part in the Dardanelles operations, added the premier, and would be held in secret.

Sir Edward Carson accepted the Premier's offer, and withdrew his

It has decided, the Overseas News agency says that the explosion was caused by a torpedo of unknown origin.

The British adimralty announced on April 18 that the Eemdijk, while on passage from Baltimore to Rot-terdam with the Dutch colors painted on her sides had been torpedoed by "an enemy submarine." Fragments found in other cases in which ships were torpedoed by German submar-
