ROHAWAY.—Yesterday a fine horse owned by Geo kilpatrick, butcher, started with a sleigh from the front of the market house and ran sharply through the streets of the village. Passing Dalby's stables the sleigh ran over and killed a valuable cooker spaniel, the property of Mr F Dalby, then owne in contact with the corner of a house, and went for a considerable distance before bothic brought to a stop. The sleigh was badly broken but the horse escaped uninjured.

Exes Day.—The twenty-fifth passed off quietly, but was nevertheless seasonably observed in mearly every houehold in this locality. The intense cold, and the want of steighing, although the roads were smooth and it for buggy driving, prevensed the usual turnout of pleasure seeking disease. Sleighing seemed so near and was yet so far, that young folks were bitterly disappointed st; its non-ristence. MURICIPAL ELECTRONS.—The nominations for Elora, Pilisington and Nichol came off yesterday and were well attended. That for Nichol took place in Saleman resulted in the unanimous election of the old Reeve and Counciliors, everybody seeming well assisted with the doings of those who rule the destines of one of the best governed townships in the Province. In Elora nominations were held in the town hall, and after the usual hour for nomination a little talk of a not very exciting character was indulged in. T P Smith, Erq, the retiring Reeve, was re elected by acolamation. The retiring Councillors were renominated, and counist of Mesers F Clarke, Hugh Clark, J Wells and W Campball. They are to be opposed, the following genilemen having been nominated for the purpose: Mesers E Golden, an ex Councilior, G Noble, T Lipsey and Jas McCabe. Mr Gen Noble will probably not go to the poll, but the other genilemen will solicit the suffrage of their fellow electors. The fight will undoubtedly be a keen one. For school trustees in Elors, the retiring trustees, Mesers G Noble and W Shepherd were renominated, and the following genilemen were also placed before the electors: Mesers W Lambert, F Dalby, J Bowes, John Mair and S Springer. From amongs the whole nomination there will be no difficulty in electing two good men. ... The electors of Pilkington essembled in the Armory hall, Elora, and the following nominations were indulged in now and again, but you from the second propriet of the proper in the country of the proper in the country of the proper in the country of the proper in the proper in the proper in the country of the proper i

The strike in Scotland Weak ening.

CILIEG.

GLASCOW, Dec 30.—The railroad strike situation continues to improve from the standpoint of the railroad. The strikers are evidently discouraged. The North British Company is slowly but surely reopening its closed routes and the passenger and freighs traffic along its lines is improving hourly. The railroad efficials announce that so far as the Caledonian is concerned the strike is ended. The Glascow & Southwestern Railway has reinstated many of its men, and this action is thought likely to cause a stampede of the strikers.

From our Correspondent)

You amounced on Saturday the comewhat sudden and unexpected death of Mr Geo Anderson, grain merchant, of Marziston, who was so well and tavorably mown in the city and county from his long business career in the same, Mr Anderson felt slightly unwell on Sunday, the 21st; on the following two days no serious consequences were feared. On Wednesday, however, Mr Anderson became much worse and Dr Henrywas called in, whas it was found that he was suffering from congestion of the lungs. On Friday morning bis medical steendant feared the result and Dr Groves, of Fergus, was telegraphed for. When he arrived in the afternoon a sonsultation was held but with no hope of recovery. About 9 c'clock that evening the old gentleman, surrounded by the most of his family, passed peacefully away.

The decessed was born in Kincardine, Scotland, May 5th, 1820, spending his younger days on his fasher's farm. Having deaire to go into businesshe opened out in the city of Dunfermline, where he carried on a successful business till the fall of 1856, when he emigrated to Canda, handing at Hamilton. When the influence of some of the directors of the G W R, he was induced to accept a position on the staff at Hamilton. When the line was opened to Guelph he was appointed station master. After a few years he left the Railway Company and commenced business has a grain and produce dealer in Guelph, where for many years he carried it on on a very extensive scale, and at one time was looked upon as one of the largest dealers in Canada, his trade was out off to a large extent with the Northern Counties. He then opened upwarehouses at Oliford, Drayton, Tara and Harriston, and settled down in the latter place and continued the grain business and and commenced business as a grain and produce dealer in Guelph, where for many years, he carried to any public offine, although the had often ben solicited.
