To think that 1,700 pounds of coal in the Down Draft Furnace produces as much heat as 2,000 pounds in any ordinary furnace.

Why? Because the

Down Draft Furnace

is built on proper lines and not a single heat-producing feature is overlooked.

The Down Draft Principle burns all the gas and soot from the fuel, and as the gas is the greatest heat-producing element, the benefit of this is derived. The air drawn down the Down Draft Pipes forces even burning over the whole surface of the fuel and does away with dead coal next to the fire-pots. The fire-pots are heavily flanged, and thereby additional radiating surface is acquired. Every particle of heat is extracted from the fuel. There are less clinkers and ashes. Additional radiating surface is furnished by the cast-iron heating dome, and as all the heat is discharged into warm-air spaces of proper proportion, the heat rises properly to the hot-air pipes, which are so installed that the warm air is carried where it is required and not wasted.

It burns either hard coal, soft coal or wood with equal efficiency. Send for copy of catalogue and an estimate on your heating.

ISN'T HE A BEAUTY

SAN FRANCISCO.

Isn't he a beauty? According to the expressed opinion of Ed. Geers, dean of drivers, a horse with such a head is the horse to buy. Intelligence, kindness, honesty are all there. A woman would call him a perfect boy of a horse. Just keep your eye on this fellow. He's trailing around the grand circuit.

with his off eye on that mark of 2024, the stallion trotting record for a mile, hung out by Cresceus at Columbus, Ohio, in 1901. San Francisco has taken one whirl at the figure, but a cool wind prevented him lowering it. Horsemen believe the year will witness the lowering of the time-honored figure, and that San Francisco is the stallion with a chance to lower it.

BRITAIN OPENS NEW PORT OF CALL

London, Aug. 29.—A dispatch from Fishguard, the new port of call on the Welsh coast, says that an elaborate celebration was held there today on the arrival of the Mauretania from New York, the first of the transatlantic liners to enter the new port on the east-bound trip. As the giant steamship came up the harbor with her masts dressed with bunting she was met by tenders and private yachts carrying the guests of the Cunard Steamship Company. Moving pictures of the arrival of the steamship were taken for production in the London theatres tonight. The passengers disembarking at Fishguard are due to reach Paddington station to-night in time to connect with the 10.30 Calais steamer.

The opening of the new port is regarded as a clever move on the part of the Cunard line and the Great Western Railway, as it enables the passengers from New York to reach London several hours earlier than could be done if they continued on to Liverpool. The change of route seems to have been induced, however, not so much by a desire to obtain a large share of the passenger traffic to the continent as by the necessity of doing something to counteract the attractions of Plymouth as a port for the eastward mails. Cherbourg, as a port for Paris and Central Europe generally, will also suffer by the change. However, the real object of the movement is apparently to get the United States mails and passengers as quickly to London and beyond as they can be transported via Plymouth.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

(By direct private wires to J. C. MacKintosh & Co., St. John.)

New York, Aug. 29.—Alarmist reports concerning Mr. Harriman's health again dominated the trading on the stock exchange today and further measurable declines in the leading stocks were reported. Union Pacific broke 5 points from yesterday's close, followed by Southern Pacific, Reading and the entire active list in lesser degree. Prices rallied somewhat in the closing hour but final levels were still unmeasurably below last night's finals. Genuine liquidation and bear hammering contributed about equally to the day's decline and the technical position of the market was still more strongly fortified. There was also a substantial demand in issues from investment support and more liberal inside support in others, notably the Steels which were taken in large blocks by houses popularly identified with so-called inside interests. As to the immediate future, much, of course, depends upon how soon the truth is known concerning Mr. Harriman's condition. Definite information on this matter would have a normal effect on the market.

U. S. SPENDING ON CANADIAN SIDE

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Through the British Ambassador at Washington the government of the United States has made application to the Canadian government for authority to carry on extensive improvements in the Detroit river in the vicinity of Bois Blanc Island and near Amherstburg. At that point the channel is almost wholly on the Canadian side, and it is in Canada that the two million dollars the estimated cost of the work, will be spent. It is not often that a government spends its money in the territory of another, but in this case the United States navigation, which is exceedingly heavy at that point, stands to benefit materially even if the waters are beyond its jurisdiction. The application which was received by the Federal Department of Public Works will be forwarded to the International Waterways Commission, which exercises authority in such matters. The works in view will make the channel straighter and wider and eliminate a number of dangerous bends near the Linekila Crossing, where the channel is common to both countries, though on the Canadian side. When those works are completed the United States government, it is stated, will have spent about four millions in improving international navigation, but almost wholly in Canadian waters. The Canadian government at the same time is also spending a considerable sum in improvement.
