

TWO PICTURES.

This is what the great Edmund Burke says of the duty of a Representative. We want Mr. Snowball and his friends to read it:—

'It is the duty of your Parliamentary representative to sacrifice his repose and his pleasures to yours, and above all, to PREFER IN ALL CASES OUR INTEREST TO HIS OWN.'

FREE GRANTS SETTLEMENT.

We reprint from the Advocate today a summary record of Hon. Michael Adams tour through the Free Grants Settlements so far this summer. Those who are interested in the colonization of our Crown Lands and in the progress of our own people, will read these notes with much interest. Districts only a few years ago wildernesses, are now thriving settlements, producing excellent crops of wheat, and oats, and potatoes, and hay, and supporting hundreds of families of thrifty, frugal energetic settlers.

Some men set out with a great dash, bring up as suddenly in a rut, and stay there. But Mr. Adams began with a dash, and has continued as he began. He has not trusted the management of his office to subordinates; he has looked after it himself. The first year he was in office he visited every new settlement; and every proposed settlement. He personally noted the wants of the settlers; assisted the commissioners to locate the roads, and made the money appropriations on the spot. He abolished the old foggy way of doing things; broke up the rings, and secured value to the settlers for every dollar laid out. Some of those who were watching, ready to pounce upon him if he did not visit the settlements, began to ridicule him when he did—both the public, and the legislature saw his course, and approved of it. Some then said, his duties are only a novelty; he will not visit the settlements any more. But they are sorely deceived and disappointed. This is now his third year in office, and he is now making his third visitation. He is doing now as he did last year, as he did his first year. He is giving the settlements his personal attention; and is for himself seeing what the settlers require and upon the spot making the appropriations. The people appreciate his efforts, their praise is unbounded; for he is doing what was never done by any Surveyor General before.

DIOCESAN CHANGES.

Rev. Father McDonald who has been stationed in Chatham the past two years is we understand to leave this parish next week, and assume the pastoral charge of the Parish of Campbellton, etc. We can only say to the people of the Parish of Campbellton, since their present worthy priest is to be removed to another station that we congratulate them in getting the services of such a pious and zealous priest as Father McDonald. We have heard, but do not write authoritatively, that Father Fitzgerald, lately ordained in Montreal, is to take the place of Father McDonald here. Father E. Bannon, of Dalhousie, we have heard, is to be stationed in a Parish of Kent County.

MR. SNOWBALL'S POSITION.

What position will Mr. Snowball take on the Syndicate question when Mr. Blake comes here? If he approves the "bargain," that will be a desertion of his party, and to proclaim himself a Mitchell man. If he denounces it then a voice will cry out from the meeting and ask him, "Why did you not stay home and fight it?" And by and bye when the bargain comes to bear its fruit, should that fruit be bitter, Mr. Snowball cannot trade upon it before the people, for they will say, "Traitor, when we wanted men to resist that bargain, you ran off to England, in the interest of your pocket; you broke your pledges to us, and your faith with your country. We will no more of you." It would take a good many Blakes to galvanize over the deed of Mr. Snowball.

One hundred and ninety-two persons have been imprisoned in Ireland under the Coercion Act.

THE MODEL FARM.

In spite of the protestations of several newspapers, and in the face of outside practice, intelligence and common sense, the Local Government, through the Board of Agriculture, viz., Mr. Julius L. Laches, have decided on squandering some thousands of dollars of the peoples money on a stock farm. We have shown by our Editorials and by our correspondence what an abortion such an establishment would be,—but if Mr. Julius Laches insists that the stock farm must be, we suppose the only thing the people can do is to pay and hold their tongues.

HARTMANN IN CANADA.

The Republic is now getting too hot for the Nihilist Hartmann. He has fled for Asylum to Canada. We do not see why Canada ought to harbor such a man as Hartmann. If his offense were a political one, we believe he should have asylum here, on all grounds save that perhaps of national etiquette, but since his offense is against humanity, since to kill or to try to kill is a crime the world over, he should not be harbored among us.

PLAYING HAYMAKER.

Mr. Blake had small audiences in Woodstock, and St. Stephen, and in Sussex, and the Opposition papers said the people could not come because they were haying. We are glad the haying will be over when Mr. Blake visits us; but potato digging may have commenced. Now why did not Mr. Blake go out into the field and harangue the haymakers? When the mountain could not come down to Mahomet, Mahomet should have gone up to the mountain.

THE LUMBER "RISE."

We have told our readers all along that this wonderful depression in the lumber market was all "put on;" that the prices were up to high water mark, and that the reports floating about were manufactured for a purpose. Now when it is "no harm to tell it," they are all admitting that deals have raised 10 shillings sterling per standard.

A PHARISEE.

There is a pharisee in St. John and he has been standing before the public for the last week telling them that he is not like unto other men; and what he has done for the people, and the humility he has shown through all his greatness. If a man's actions cannot speak for themselves, then they are not worth bragging about.

EDITORIAL CLEANINGS.

THE SURVEYOR GENERAL.

During the last few days the Hon. Mr. Adams, Surveyor General, has visited the Free Grants Settlement in the lower portions of the counties of Northumberland and Gloucester, for the purpose of ascertaining the progress made and obtaining such other information as will enable him to further the interests of the settlers. It cannot be denied that Mr. Adams is an energetic and painstaking departmental head, leaving nothing undone on his part to become thoroughly acquainted with all the matters coming under his supervision, making regular visits to the various settlements in order to obtain personal knowledge as to their progress and requirements. The settlements visited during the late trip are as follows:—

ST. JOSEPH.

This settlement is situate in rear of Negus. There has not been many applications for land there as yet, owing to the fact that no road had been built, without which settlers cannot be induced to locate. Grants were made during the building of the road, work on which is now being pushed forward rapidly. Commissioner Allain's work is most highly spoken of by the Surveyor General. While visiting Negus Mr. Adams took a run through the Fair Isle Settlement for the purpose of examining some of the bye-roads. The same day, in company with John McKenzie, Esq., of Tabusintac, he made a tour of some of the roads in that section, and also examined the site for the new bridge across the Stymest Brook. The bridge about to be built there will be 298 ft. long and 20 ft. high, and will contain three spans, plans and specifications for which have been prepared by Mr. McKenzie.

ST. ISADORE, GLOUCESTER.

On arriving at Tracadie, Saturday, 30, ult., he visited and inspected the new road leading from the highway and connecting with Paquetville Settlement, which was opened up last year. He speaks very highly of the work done by Mr. John Young, the Commissioner, for this settlement, and is gratified at the progress made by the settlers. Since his first visit large clearings have been made, the houses presenting a neat and comfortable appearance. Notably among the many farms is that of the Collector of Customs of Tracadie, who resides in the settlement, which, with its neat buildings, is a credit to the locality. The people have erected a neat Chapel, their Pastor being the Rev. Mr. Gaynor. The Surveyor General has a very high opinion of this settlement, looking upon it as one of the best in the Province. Hay oats and other crops are reported as looking well.

injunction of this settlement, looking upon it as one of the best in the Province. Hay oats and other crops are reported as looking well.

PACQUETVILLE AND MILLVILLE. In Carquet, were visited on the Monday following, and was accompanied by P. G. Ryan, Esq., M. P. P. Of these settlements the Surveyor General does not speak so hopefully, and expressed regret that Millville in particular had made but little advancement since his first visit. He returned to Carquet the same night, and left for Bathurst the following morning.

ROBERTVILLE.

was visited on Wednesday, in company with Mr. McManus, M. P. P. This settlement is about sixteen miles above Bathurst. It is in close proximity to the "Nigadoo Silver Mines," the distance to the Mines from the main road through the settlement being but two miles. The people of this tract are greatly indebted to Mr. McManus for their present position, and Mr. Roy, the Commissioner, is deserving of much praise for the efficient manner in which he has done his duty, the expenditure of his road money being of such a character as to leave no possible ground for complaint.

We are unable to make use of all the information at our disposal in reference to this tour of inspection by Mr. Adams to the various Free Grants Settlements. On Saturday last in company with J. O'Brien, Esq., of Nelson, he visited Barnaby River, and examined places on both sides of the river where bridges are needed.

On Monday last he left Newcastle for Boiestown, where he will visit the Pleasant Ridge Settlement. The settlements at Blissfield and Blackville will also be favored with a visit from the Surveyor General, at which time an examination will be made of some of the roads. After visiting these places, Mr. Adams will return, and proceeding to Carleton Station, will take a run through Rogerville, Pleasant Ridge and Collet Settlements, for the purpose of making an examination of the roads and the general progress made by the locates.

PLEASANT RIDGE.

This Settlement was visited on Tuesday last in company with Commissioner Campbell. This settlement has made rapid progress during the past 3 years. Eight new frame houses have been erected, and the road all made to the last settler. The settlers were all pleased with the visit of the Surveyor General, and thanked him kindly for the warm interest he has taken in the settlement, and for providing money for the roads. Representations were made to him to commence a road from Porters Cove bridge to the lower end of the settlement.

Wednesday he visited Lockstead settlement in company with Commissioner Schofield. Likewise inspected Porters Creek bridge across South-West river with Mr. John Pond.

Thursday he returned to Newcastle and Friday left on accommodation train for Carleton, Rogerville and Collet Settlements.

THE "MYSTERIOUS" IRISH CONVENTION. The number of Irish patriots in attendance at the convention in Chicago is being augmented daily by arrivals. At Monday morning's session delegates J. G. West, of Providence, charged with disloyalty to the cause of Ireland, was temporarily suspended by the convention. It is thought he will return to Providence and be represented by proxy. T. J. Sullivan, San Francisco, and Major Smith, from Denver, have arrived, bringing $5,000 to further the scheme, which ever it may be, which shall be adopted by the convention.

The committee who were appointed to confer with leading men of the Ancient Order of Hibernians reported to the Convention, declining to hold any communication with or recognize them officially in any way. This is regarded as a setback by those in favor of an agitation policy against armed interference with England, as the majority of Irishmen are members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. No one can be admitted to membership in the order unless he is a Roman Catholic. This reply is looked upon as due to the influence of the Catholic clergy. To counterbalance the depressing intelligence, the officers of the A. O. H. in Chicago stated in reply to the officers of the Palmer House convention that they were in no way in sympathy with any movement for the freedom of Ireland that did not receive the sanction of the Church. A committee, consisting of the presidents of the different lodges of Hibernians in Chicago, have sent for instructions on the matter to the National office.

THE LAND BILL.

The Daily News says:—"We have reason to believe the Government will advise the House of Commons to disagree with all the important amendments to the Land Bill in the House of Lords, accepting only a few which do not affect the principle of the measure. It is not believed the House of Lords will stand out against the action of the House of Commons in rehabilitating the Bill. It is known that on the Conservative benches among Lord Salisbury will be brought to bear upon Lord Salisbury with the object of preventing the opposition from being carried too far. It is desired to make the best possible bargain for the landlords, but it is conceded that even from their point of view nothing could be worse than the rejection of the Bill." The Government propose to place the whole of Friday at the disposal of the Home Rulers to discuss the conduct of the Executive of Ireland.

ARCHBISHOP M'CABE'S PASTORAL.

The pastoral of Archbishop M'Cahe which was read in the chapel on Sunday, chiefly deals with the prevalence of infidelity on the continent, and the danger of its extending to Ireland. It describes the Land Bill as a measure of which competent men greatly approve.

THE ACTION OF THE LORDS. The News says:—"The bill is both transformed and deformed. A compromise between a nation and a privileged and interested oligarchy is not, we hope the idea the House of Commons will entertain. What it amounts to is a compromise between the English people, Lord Salisbury, and the Government. The House of Commons must decide whether the veto on legislation, which the Crown no longer possesses, is to be exercised by Lord Salisbury and the House of Lords."

ST. JOHN'S, N.B., AUG. 8.

A vessel arriving here reports that the crew of two men of the dory, City of Bath, on the way from New England to Great Britain, came aboard a few days ago and stated that the dory had been capsized and all the provisions spoiled. After receiving a new supply the men resumed their voyage. They were in good health and spirits.

CAPSIZED IN MID OCEAN.

St. John's, N.B., Aug. 8.—A vessel arriving here reports that the crew of two men of the dory, City of Bath, on the way from New England to Great Britain, came aboard a few days ago and stated that the dory had been capsized and all the provisions spoiled. After receiving a new supply the men resumed their voyage. They were in good health and spirits.

Blake's Reception.

A MEETING. We believe the "opposite party" held a meeting in the loft of the Masonic Hall Thursday evening, to make arrangements for the reception of Mr. Blake. Mr. Carman went into the chair and the party, some 30 in number, was informed that business had now commenced. Our special reporter being present incognito then cast his eyes through the party, and ascertained that all present except 12, and one of these was like one of a letter, "twelve," were employees of Mr. Snowball. Several gentlemen "spoke" and one was for naming a day to "bring Mr. Blake here," but a more sagacious member gravely informed him that Mr. Blake would come whatever day suited himself. The motion therefore did not carry.

It was then resolved that Mr. Blake should speak in the "pasture" behind the Masonic Hall. We can guarantee him in this case, a good audience of cows if on nothing else. He will have a goodly number however besides the cows. It was decided that the said pasture, "square" the meeting imaginatively called it,—should be properly "got up" for the occasion; that arches should be erected in it—and flags hunted up and hung around. The organ grinder suggested that there ought to be a band; and if they cannot drum one up elsewhere they will get the little string band at Moncton. It was likewise resolved that he be presented with an address—which the "chairman" we suppose will read to him. It was not decided what to be put in the address; though doubtless Messrs. Bernard and Staples, and others of the "party" will attend to that. They will not tell Mr. Blake that their masters lumber business has improved by the N. B., though the "real men" about the water know it has to their unbounded relief. They will sign themselves "Liberals" though their master had it announced in his organ the day after the Liberals were defeated, that he was an "Independent." They will not state either that he would not alone be an "Independent" now, but an absolute supporter of the Government, had any overtures been made to him, had he been offered any for going over! They will not say he ran off to England last winter when he should have been in Ottawa, and left his part of the Canada Pacific case go by default. However it is not very much odds what they put in the address, or what they leave out of it. Mr. Blake deserves the very best reception they can give him. We hope the Conservatives will all turn out to hear him, and pay strict attention to what he says. We hope they will keep it in mind too, that they may be able to compare notes one of these fine days.

Mr. Snowball was not present at the meeting, but it was run by his machine. The dozen of gentlemen present must have appreciated the dignity of their position.
