Catarrhazone
CURES WITHOUT DRUGS

One of the finest discoveries in medicine was given to the public when "Catarrhazone" was placed on the market about fifteen years ago. Since then thousands have been cured of asthma and catarrh. An interesting case is reported from Calgary in a letter from Tom Creighton E. Thompson, who says: "Nothing too strong can be said for Catarrhazone. I suffered four years from asthma in a way that would beggar description. I went through everything that man could suffer. I was told of Catarrhazone by a clerk in Finlay's drug store and purchased a dollar package. It was worth hundreds to me in a week, and I place a priceless value on the benefit I have since derived. I strongly urge every sufferer to use Catarrhazone for Asthma, Bronchitis and Catarrh." The one-dollar package lasts two months; small size, 50c sample size, 25c. at all storekeepers and druggists, or the Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Canada.

ANOTHER EIGHTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS ADDED TO FUNDS

The contract price was 45 cents a day and Hubert was paid by the regimental paymaster.

General Cruikshank informed Gander that subsistence allowances was claimed at the rate of 75 cents per man per day and asked what happened to the difference.

There were other accounts and payments to make, Gander stated. There was no division of money among the men except fines.

C. W. Hodgins stated that from the 16th of January to 1st of March, 1918, the total subsistence claimed for them on Major Gander's draft was $4637.90, and there would be a surplus of $1856.16 over Hubert's contract.

Questioned by Colonel Young, Major Gander said he had told Colonel Burleigh of his arrangement about rations with Mr. Hubert. There were fines and stoppages. There were no Part II orders being issued, but a nominal roll was sent to the 19th Regiment paymaster daily, and it contained information regarding the changes in strength and the fines and stoppages.

Answering Colonel Burleigh, Major Gander said Hubert had approached him regarding the contract. Colonel Burleigh, he said, had not influenced him in any way with regards to the contract.

Bible Was Missing

The Bible was missing when the military court of enquiry opened this morning at the armouries. Proceedings were held up for half an hour because the official Bible, on which the witnesses were sworn, was missing. A thorough search failed to reveal its hiding place. The question was naturally asked whether it had been taken to Niagara Falls and left there or perhaps was stolen there. Finally, Sergt-Major Yaxley dug up a copy somewhere and the machinery of justice once more was put in motion.

Charles Taylor, the first witness, stated that he sold a Ford car to Colonel Burleigh for $620 October 10th, 1914.

"I supposed it was for the regimental use," said Taylor. "Colonel Burleigh paid for it himself."

Mr. Taylor identified the bill he gave Colonel Burleigh and the receipt. He said he thought Burleigh paid for it in cash and not by cheque. "Was a profit sharing certificate supplied to Colonel Burleigh?" asked Colonel Young.

Taylor said that was handled by headquarters of the Ford company. Alex. Bell, bookkeeper for Colgate and Company, presented an account for goods supplied the 19th regiment by his firm. He showed also that thirteen oil stoves had been purchased from the firm by the canteen committee.

Bell said there were included a number of items of purchases for the officers' mess, which he could not segregate.

At this point there was an adjournment for a while to await Toronto witnesses.

Lt.-Col. A. de L. Panet, R.C.O.C., ordnance officer, testified next. He presented a duplicate account of the 19th Regiment, also the uncompleted indent from Nov. 11, 1913 to Nov. 26, 1915. He showed that there was no issue of camp cooking stoves till August 10, 1915. The account covered all issues of supplies to the 19th regiment.

General Cruikshank remarked that stoves certainly must have been re-quired before August, 1915, and asked "These are all that were on issue," said the witness. Further questioned he said possibly the engineers had supplied cooking ranges.

Owing to rain the Davis Cup tennis matches were postponed yesterday.

yesterday afternoon's session military enquiry the command officer of the 19th Regiment, W. Burleigh, was called. He was questioned closely by the court on points in the evidence.

reference to the Bradley account for rationing the men, Presid. Cruikshank asked:

Who did you account for forward account for 75 cents per man? The agreement was only for 40 "

Well, I may have been under the impression that the amount was 75 all through the piece," was the Burleigh said Bradley's were to as well as food, cups, plates and so forth.

What became of the dishes?" "I guess they were taken back, as I didn't keep them, I think the ration supplied were all cooked."

Asked if the food was well cooked and satisfactory, Colonel Burleigh he thought it was.

Colonel Burleigh explained that he was so busy on other matters that he could not attend to details, it was General Cruikshank's criticism that he should have had a report of everything going on under command.

You had your instructions as to from the A.D.S. and T. at Toronto," said the president.

Colonel Burleigh told of forwarding an account for $1200 for feeding men the first five and a half days asking Colonel Forbes why it had not been paid.

That's just what I want to get remarked the president. "We account $1293?"

I scarcely know, because I thought was hardly that. It was not a straight account but a straight receipt about $1200 to my best recollection.

Did you report to Major Bell the contract to feed the men for 75 cents a day?"

"Yes, because I didn't know such a contract had been made."

"Wasn't your duty to?" "Yes, I presume it was."

The president read a letter written by Colonel Burleigh to headquarters in which he said Greenwood had told him the contract was forty cents a day.

Burleigh said he no doubt had written the letter.

"Why was this bill for $1200 not out which made the daily allowance 75 cents instead of 40?" queried the court.

Burleigh said he didn't know. "Why should a false bill be in this way?"

"I have not the faintest idea," the witness.

Questioned further, Burleigh said he had been that the daily allowance per man was not to exceed 75 cents a day.

Questioned as to a Bradley account of $611.60, the witness explained that Bradley and Son were paid $111.60.

The department was overpaid that amount?" asked the president. Colonel Burleigh replied that Captain McKinley took that surplus cheque to Bradley's, but understood that it was to pay for the subsistence of the men the first five and a half days.

Asked as to where the rations were stored, Burleigh said the rations
