Shirking Responsibility.

The specific purpose of all the Advocate's thunder is an endeavor to turn aside the idea now taking root in the minds of the fishermen, that the action of the Government in rescinding the Regulations is a blow aimed directly at their pursuits. The Advocate cannot disavow its repeated declarations that the removal of the Regulations will mean a lower price for fish caught this year. It has made that statement time and again; made it so frequently that the fishermen themselves had come to regard the Regulations as their main stay. We do not make this assertion of ourselves, but merely repeat those of the Advocate and Mr. Coaker, and neither that newspaper or its master can offer any denial. The core of the matter is not what the Daily News or the Telegram or both said or did or wrote. It is that Mr. Coaker said the maintenance of the Fish Regulations was of vital importance to the fishermen in determining the price to be paid for fish locally. The Advocate followed Mr. Coaker with further embroideries of literary verbiage and urged strongly upon the fishermen that the Regulations were made solely in their interests and for their protection from local buyers. Any other argument than this is beside the point. As a matter of fact none other is needed to prove the authority upon which our assertions have been based. The Regulations were to have been, according to Mr. Coaker and the Advocate "the palladium of the fishermen's rights." According to the same gentlemen they were to be the safeguard of all their monied interests in so far as the price of fish was concerned.

If both Mr. Coaker and the Advocate are sincere, then the fishermen have been basely betrayed by some one, and that some one is the present Government, the members of which by their official act in removing the Regulations have opened the door to low prices for the catch of the coming season, and the fishermen will be sufferers and losers. That is the situation as it exists if Mr. Coaker was sincere in his utterances, so strongly backed up by his newspaper, the Advocate. The Regulations took the form of a set policy of the Government. As a Government measure they were introduced in the House of Assembly, and—in the interests of the fishermen, as they were represented to be by the introducer and pilot of the bill through its stages—tacitly agreed to by members of the Opposition, who did not call for a division when the vote was taken, knowing full well that the Government majority would carry it. As an act of the Government the Bill therefore became law and was incorporated in the Statutes of the land. As such, it—if its makers were truthful—was a guarantee to the fishermen that they would receive ample recompense for their products of the sea. The purpose of the Regulations, as declared again and again by Mr. Coaker and the Advocate, was the protection of the toilers from inadequate prices. The removal of the Regulations by the Executive Government has brought forth a protest from the Advocate, and in that protest is included the assertion that because of the removal the price of fish will be lower this year than ever. But the Advocate blindly refuses to place the responsibility where it really belongs. It is afraid to state openly that the Government is to blame, though it knows that such is the case, but has to mark time until definite instructions are issued. The House of Assembly opens this afternoon, and ere it closes the Fish Regulations must come up for Legislative repeal. The Legislature only—having made—possesses the power to unmake. The contortions of the present opponents of the Regulations on the Government side will be watched with interest combined with amusement, when it is remembered that Government members were a unit last session in voting for the Bill embodying them.

First Arrivals.

This date eight years ago, Capt. A. Kean, in the s.s. Stephano, arrived from the icefields with 37,882 seals. On the same date, 1919, the Sable I. Capt. J. A. Farquhar, arrived in port with 3,477 seals; the previous year the Sable I. arrived on March 26th, with 11,260. Last year the Seal was the first ship in port with 23 seals on April 4th.

Old Timers Blanked.

FELTDIANS WIN OUT EASILY.
The Feltdians defeated the "Old Timers" in last night's game by a score of 14 goals to 0. The "Old Uns" did not as was rumored, play more than six men at the one time and they also used legitimate sticks. It was very evident that they were not in a class with the younger players, which after all was scarcely to be expected considering that it is many years since any of them except Karl Trappnell last played. Nevertheless, the "Old Uns" put up a good "the irresistible marmaduke" throughout the game. The proceeds of last night's game will be divided amongst the Dorcas and St. Vincent de Paul Societies. The following was the line-up:

Old Timers—Goal, Nix Vinicombe; Defence, Geo. C. Marshall, G. H. Parsons; Centre, F. James; Left, K. Trappnell; Right, Geo. Hunt.

Elks' Ball.

The much advertised Elks' Ball will be held to-night in the C.C.C. Hall and bids fair towards being the one of the most successful social events of the season. The Ladies' Auxiliary have been working in conjunction with the general committee and no efforts have been spared to make the affair a big success. The full C.C.C. Band will supply the music.

C. L. B. Cadets.

LADIES AUXILIARY FORMED.
Yesterday afternoon a largely attended meeting of the lady friends of the C.L.B. Cadets took place in the Armoury, when the matter of forming a Ladies' Auxiliary in connection with the Brigade was discussed. Capt. Herbert Outerbridge presided and after explaining the objects of the Association it was unanimously decided to form the Auxiliary, and the election of officers resulted as follows:
Hon. Pres.—LA. Col. Goodridge.
President—Mrs. W. B. Fraser.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. (Hon.) Tasker Cook.
Treasurer—Miss Cliff.
Secretary—Mrs. Herbert Winter.
The Ladies' Auxiliary will be of great benefit to the Brigade in its social work, and arrangements are now being made to assist the Old Comrades at their big dance in the C.C.C. Hall on April 6th.

Express Passengers.

The following passengers reached Port aux Basques on S.S. Kyle at 1 p.m. yesterday and are now on the incoming express:—H. Kennedy, E. L. Hackett, F. Leneisignol, A. Dyer, Capt. S. Flender, E. Pike, Capt. J. Pike. The express is also bringing 110 sacks of mail matter landed by the Kyle.

Our Toilet Goods department has received new shipments of Depilatory Ointment, Nect, Mum and Carbons. BISHOP, SONS & CO. LTD.

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETY'S ANNUAL MEETING.

The Vice-Chairman, Mr. E. Schapter, in the absence of Mr. Cadwell through illness, presided over the annual meeting of the shareholders of the N.I.W.A. Co-operative Society Ltd., which was held last night in the L.S.P.U. Hall and was largely attended. The reports of the officers for the past year were received and adopted, and showed that the society's store, in spite of trade depression, is doing a good business. Since the new year, under a reorganized system of management, which the Board of Directors deemed advisable to adopt, business has been conducted on a satisfactory basis, and the quarterly report is expected to show still further improvement. Matters in connection with the business of the store were discussed at some length, in which many of the shareholders took part. Before the close of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Percy LeMessurier, auditor, for the valuable assistance rendered in this capacity as well as for his untiring efforts in promoting a better system of doing business and the generally deep interest he has taken in the work of the co-operative society. At a future meeting to be held some time next week, officers will be elected and the other unfinished business of the annual meeting will be concluded. It is hoped that the Chairman, Mr. Cadwell, will then be able to attend.

Wesley Literary Class.

HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL DINNER.

The first annual dinner of the Wesley Literary Class was held at Wood's West End Restaurant last night, some eighty members attending. The following toast list was gone through:
The King—Prop., Chairman: God Save the King.
Chairman's Remarks—Mr. A. E. Pelley.
Newfoundland—Prop., Mr. R. Gushue; resp., Mr. J. R. Smallwood.
Wesley Young Men's Literary Class—Prop., Mr. Wm. Dwyer; resp., Mr. F. Gushue.
Church and Clergy—Prop., E. Bursary; resp., Rev. W. B. Bugden.
Our Guests—Prop., Mr. W. T. Sparke; resp., Guests.
Absent Friends—Prop., Mr. J. Parsons.
Chairman—Prop., Mr. A. Rooney; resp., Mr. A. E. Pelley.

National Anthem.
The speeches were interspersed with songs and recitations, which were rendered by Messrs. C. A. Neal, H. Chaplin and George Cox. The speech of the evening was made by the Prime Minister, Wesley Literary Class has grown with considerable speed since its formation four or five years ago, when six members formed the nucleus of a class which now numbers eight-five. To Mr. A. Rooney, its honorary president, is due much of the success which has attended it.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, March 30.

Colorite is beyond any reasonable doubt the most satisfactory preparation to be had for the purpose of dyeing straw hats to almost any desired shade, and it certainly has a great vogue in St. John's, and in Newfoundland generally. If you want to make last season's straw hat look as good as new in color, as it is in every other respect, get a bottle of Colorite, and use it according to directions. The matter is really quite simple, the cost negligible. A wide variety of shades. See our window. Price 40c. a bottle.

The "Irresistible Marmaduke."

A capacity audience greeted the second performance of "The Irresistible Marmaduke," at the Casino last night. The performers being more at home in their parts, by the repetition, made the production run without the slightest hitch, and the audience was kept in good humour all through the comedy. The specialties between the acts were again a feature of the show, whilst the C.C.C. Band gave a programme of excellent selections during the performance. To-night "The Irresistible Marmaduke" will be repeated when the C. L. B. Band will be in attendance. Owing to the increased demand for tickets it has been decided to give an extra performance to-morrow night when patrons who had been unable to secure tickets for any of the performances will be enabled to avail of this opportunity to help along the good work at Mount Cashel.

Last Night's Parade.

Last night's parade of the C.L.B. Cadets was largely attended by both officers and ladies. Quite a number of new recruits were sworn in and company drill was taken by the various company commanders. A special order was read ordering all those who could to parade at the Armoury at 2:30 p.m. to-day for the purpose of forming a Guard of Honour for the opening of the House of Assembly.

Woman Took Own Life.
AFTER A FAMILY QUARREL.
(Moosjaw Times, March 15.)
A grim tragedy was enacted in the city last night, when Annie Smith, the wife of Mike Smith, 157 River Street east, committed suicide by hanging herself from the front verandah of the house.

The facts as given to the police indicate that an attack of despondency was the cause of the act. Frequent quarrels had taken place lately between the deceased and her husband, and she had often threatened to commit suicide. Her husband, however, had never taken the threat seriously. Last night another quarrel took place and the husband went out, returning about 1 o'clock. Another row took place and, then they both retired.

During the night Mrs. Smith arose and, taking a stout piece of electric light extension cord, went out on the verandah. Tying the cord to the top of the verandah, the woman climbed on to the railing and then leaped off. The husband did not miss his wife until about six o'clock this morning, when he awoke and noticed that she was gone. He searched the house, and not finding her, went out to look for her. The body was still suspended, facing the street in full sight of any passerby.

The deceased was a chambermaid at the Royal George Hotel and was only 24 years of age. The husband is a barber working in the St. Elmo pool room, under the Paris cafe. They had only one child, a boy of eight, and deceased's parents live about 60 miles north of Edmonton.

The body is being held in Broadfoot's parlors until it is decided whether or not an inquest is necessary.

FUNERAL NOTICE.
The funeral of the late J. W. Withers, Esq., has been postponed until Thursday, the 31st inst. Immediate relatives and friends are invited to attend at the late residence of the deceased at 2 p.m. The funeral service will be held at the Cathedral at 2:30 p.m. After the service the funeral procession will proceed to the Church of England Cemetery for the interment. The Select Vestry of the Cathedral Parish are invited to attend the service at the Cathedral.

Fulton Challenges Dempsey.

New York.—Tom O'Rourke stepped out yesterday with a direct challenge aimed at Jack Dempsey in the interests of Fred Fulton. Tom, it is rumored, has secured the option on a baseball park in New Jersey. At any rate, he offers the champion a guarantee of $50,000 and the privilege of accepting 50 per cent. of the gross receipts. In issuing the defy O'Rourke said:

"It is just three years next July since Dempsey won from Fulton in eighteen seconds, one of the shortest heavyweight bouts on record. If Fulton was an easy mark then why shouldn't he be one now. The fact that Dempsey refuses to give Fulton a return match only strengthens the idea that there was something wrong at Harrison. Kearns has always told me that Fulton would get the first chance."

"Dempsey saw Wills crack two of Fulton's ribs at Newark, knocking him out and onto the shelf for four months. I thought then that Dempsey would reconsider and give Fulton a chance. I've waited patiently and must now take this attitude of challenging. It can't be that Kearns believes they wouldn't draw. He knows that Fulton and Wills drew $97,000. There is no doubt as to what Dempsey and Fulton would draw."

"Why should Dempsey be out on the road barnstorming at $1,500 a week when he can pull down at least $10,000 for knocking out this so-called easy mark. He cannot refuse this offer and continue boxing setups. The public tires of that too. This is supposed to be easy picking by Kearns and Dempsey. Why don't they come out man-fashion and declare themselves as to Fulton?"

"If Dempsey will agree to allow Kearns to post a forfeit to meet Fulton I will close the match at once. He could easily knock off this soft one before he meets little Carpenter on July 2. Is this asking too much of a 'superman'?"

The German Foreign Minister.
Germany now knows the extent of the claim of the Allies for indemnity in cash for the damages wrought during the war. It amounts to the sum of two hundred and twenty-six billion gold marks, or about fifty-five billion dollars.

The claim has already come before the German Reichstag, or National Assembly sitting in Berlin, and been discussed by Herr Simons, Minister for Foreign Affairs. He denounced the claim and emphatically declared that Germany neither would nor could pay that sum, even in the term of forty-two years the Allies propose giving Germany. Herr Simons' speech was most defiant in tone; but it is easier to be defiant than to find a way of escape from the consequences of the defiance. Germany will make counter-proposals, and it remains to be seen whether the Allies' demand is final, or whether they can be persuaded to modify it in favor of Germany.

The position of Foreign Minister has always been a very important one in the German Government. In the days of the empire it was second only to that of the Chancellor. When Germany launched her war, von Bethmann-Hollweg of "scrap of paper" notoriety, was Chancellor. He died out of office a few days ago. The Foreign Minister of that time was Herr von Jagow, whom the British Ambassador in Berlin held to be a much more honest man than the Chancellor. He, too, has disappeared from public life. Men new to the outside world are now at the helm in Germany, trying to steer the new republic out of the troubled waters of defeat, but also trying to evade as far as is possible the results of Germany's great crime, against civilization. The Minister of Foreign Affairs, Herr Simons, is a man still in middle life. He has enjoyed the best educational advantages and holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. He has had considerable experience in public speaking, although the speech he delivered in the Reichstag in denunciation of the Allies' bill for damages, was delivered from manuscript. It was read to the House.

THE PIONEER DRUG HOUSE.
Established 1823. Incorporated 1920.

In re-organizing our business at the beginning of last year when times seemed prosperous, somewhat drastic changes were made in credit terms to our customers in the belief that it would ultimately prove to be for their benefit as well as for our own.

Results to-day have proved our forecast to be correct, and as a consequence we are now in a better position than ever to serve our friends to advantage with a new and up-to-date stock.

From being pessimists in apparently good times we are now optimists when many think there is nothing but "blue ruin" ahead; and in consequence we are now prepared to entertain extending longer credit than is indicated by our general terms, where desired, to approved wholesale customers.

We have the necessary Stock and Capital to do a much larger business. We are desirous of keeping our present staff on at suitable wages necessitated by higher cost of living, and to do this an increase in trade is hoped for. This we anticipate getting by efficiency of service, combined with the high grade goods we carry and sell at lowest possible prices.

Another Terminus Suggested.

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir,—Some time ago I wrote you a letter re the division of the district of Placentia and St. Mary's and requested the people of that district to take the matter up. Although I have had numerous approvals from Placentia Bay I never saw a line from anyone on the subject, and the ice blockade existing there all the winter brings home to me very strikingly the necessity of division.

The fact that Placentia is the largest Bay in the country and holds out such grand prospects for the investor is one of the reasons why it should be properly represented and this cannot be done by three men, with not sufficient money for Placentia, which must also be shared with St. Mary's and Trepassay. As is well known to anyone who knows Placentia Bay, Placentia proper always received the lion's share of public monies. Principally because it was a railway terminus, and now I suppose since the present administration made the fatal blunder of shifting the terminus to Argentia it will become necessary to transfer the grants also. I said fatal blunder. Realizing the inconvenience caused the people of Placentia Bay only in the last ten years, I say the Government blundered and blunders badly in establishing another terminus on the eastern shore, to be subject to the same blockade for which in the winter months Placentia is famous, and which could be so easily avoided, with but very little, if any more expenditure. Perhaps it may be news to many people who know Placentia Bay very well, to know that only twelve miles from the only winter port on the western side of Placentia Bay and running through one of the richest iron ore mines in the world, is the end of the Fortune Bay branch of the Morris regime, and which extended to Sandy Harbor, the port spoken of, would not only assure us clear transportation in winter, but would open up in all probability one of the greatest resources of our country. Doubtless there are people who think that the Bell Island mines are sufficient to fill the wants of our sister Dominion with this commodity, but when we see that some ingredient is necessary for smelting purposes which has to be either imported by Canada, or is one of her own products, is present in this ore, and know that it can be smelted here by Newfoundlanders and exported as a finished article, I think they will agree with me in saying that the terminus now at Argentia should be at Sandy Harbor. Thanking you in anticipation of seeing this in print.

I remain,
P. A. BROWNE.

Words of Wisdom.

The man who does you an injury will remember it long after you have forgotten him.

Remember when you are right you can afford to keep your temper. When you are wrong you can't afford to lose it.

An optimist can always see the bright side of the other fellow's misfortune.

The best education in the world is that got by struggling to make a living.

Don't think you are a failure because you are not piling up wealth. If you are honest, industrious, square; if you are cheerful under difficulties, helpful and inspiring to everybody about you; if you are taking every opportunity to improve yourself, you are infinitely more successful than a greedy, hard, selfish millionaire.
