WHAT THE BIG LEAGUERS DID DURING PAST WEEK

(By T. W. Nash.)
 A NOTHER week of the baseball season of 1915 has passed into history. It is getting close to the middle of the season and nearly all the teams are now showing their true form. In the American league the Philadelphia Athletics have further increased their lead during the past week. They had a very successful stay at home, winning 23 out of 29 games. After their unusual long stop on their own grounds they returned to the road to start on another trip last Wednesday. A change of scene is bound to do them good.
 Since the Cleveland Naps returned home from the eastern trip they have not been displaying the great form they did before they came east. They are therefore dropping in percentage nearly every day, although still in second place.
 Washington Pitchers Fail
 The Washington pitchers have been displaying very poor form of late. For even the great Walter Johnson was pounded for 21 hits by the Philadelphia Athletics on Tuesday. Unless they take a decided brace very soon they will be passed by the champion Boston Red Sox, who have struck the brace so confidently predicted, and who promise to make full use of the league from now on. The Chicago White Sox have been playing a rather inconsistent game, and they will likely finish in the first division.
 Tigers and Browns Hopeless
 The Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns have very little chance of getting any higher in the race and they will likely be passed by the New York Yankees, provided they continue to show the same brand of ball they have been showing since they traded Hal Chase.
 National League
 Since the Phillies returned from their western trip last week they have taken on a decided brace, winning all four games at Boston. They are now home for a stay of five days and should tighten their hold on first place during that time. The New York Giants are not at all close to the Phillies as they were at this time last week. However, they look to be far better than any other team in the league and it is going to be a battle between them and the Phillies until the end of the season.

The Brooklyn Superbas had a successful western trip and they cannot be counted out of it by any means. The Chicago Cubs have been playing an in-and-out game and their pitchers have been very erratic. They will have to take on a decided brace if they are going to finish better than fourth.
 Pirates Gone Back for Good
 It now looks as though the Pittsburgh Pirates have gone back for good. There must be something wrong about a team that loses six straight games by a margin of one run, but just what it is nobody seems able to explain. The Boston Braves have been showing great form during the past month and they are very likely to again pass the Pirates if they continue this streak.
 The St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds appear to be anchored at the tail of the procession, for they have been displaying the same form for the past month.
 That Bribe of $100
 Though there may be no way by which they can stop it, the baseball authorities of both big leagues should do everything that may lie in their power to suppress enthusiasm of the Chicago strike, who practically offered Heinie Zimmerman a bribe for being good. The admission and enthusiasm which prompts a number of persons to club together and give a popular player a watch, a diamond or some other valuable trinket is readily understandable, and is generally given the recipient in acknowledgment of what he has done. But in the present instance a bribe is practically offered Zimmerman for doing something for which he is being paid by his club. It is now known that all the good that has resulted from chewing with umpires has never compensated for the loss of the services of players who have been banished for kicking. Good players win their games on the field, not from position on the bench in the clubhouse. If Zimmerman needs the stimulus of an outsiders' $100 to perform his duty as a player, he is not on the level. Ball players like Zimmerman are not to be trusted in their profession and loyalty to their employers should prompt them to give their best services without outside inducement.

RAIN STOPPED TWO OF THE W. C. L. GAMES

Calgary-Saskatoon and Edmonton-Moose Jaw Battles Postponed

While the easterners are dropping from heat prostration and watching the clouds for a welcome sign of rain, Western Canadians, especially those who live in Alberta, are going about bundled in heavy wraps and rain coats waiting for the uncomfortable wet weather to clear up. This good-for-the-crowd weather was not destined for baseball fans at any rate and yesterday two of the games in the Western Canada league had to be postponed.
 The much looked for series between the Saskatoon Quakers and the Moose Jaw team has been seriously interfered with and unless the weather today clears up the Quakers will have to leave without a single game of the series being played. However, if there is any chance at all of a game being played today, the first starting at 2:30 and the second at 6:30.
 Every member of both teams is anxious to get back into action. The rainy weather has had a bad effect upon the teams and they are very likely to occasionally lose a game, a long lay-off like this past week makes the players go stale.
 Every effort possible will be made to put the grounds in shape for the two battles today. This will probably be the last time that the old diamond will be used this season and the fans should turn out if only for auld lang syne.

JACK JOHNSON CANNOT BE STOPPED BY THE IMMIGRATION MEN

Has Through Ticket to France, Purchased in Chicago, and Cannot Be Turned Back
 Presents Himself to Officers, Who Are Helpless; Had No Trouble in Crossing Line

Ottawa, June 22.—The immigration authorities at Ottawa are unable to stop Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, from crossing the Canadian border and making use of it. If he has a ticket to sail for France on Tuesday he cannot be stopped under the immigration law, but regular extradition proceedings may be undertaken by the American authorities.
 The preliminary steps in extradition proceedings are entirely within the power of the provincial government and the local court.
 Montreal, June 21.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Johnson, is booked to sail for France on the Allan line steamship Carinthian, Sunday morning. Canadian immigration officers located Johnson late today with a view to making summary deportation should he fail to comply with the restrictions of the immigration law. Johnson, however, in response to a demand of the officials, produced a passport to the United States, purchased in Chicago. By this bit of strategy Johnson has managed to get himself out of the hands of the Canadian immigration authorities. They are powerless to act further to see to it that he leaves the country on the ship on which he is booked to sail.
 As soon as it became officially known to the authorities that Johnson was in the country, an effort was made to locate him. All day the immigration officials sought him, but he was not found until he was in their hands. He had an opportunity to answer all day and claims to have eaten his dinner while riding in a motor car. He was then taken to the immigration office, where he was questioned by the officials. He claimed that he had been purchased through the agency of John Arthur Johnson and wife, that he boarded a train from Chicago for Montreal, and that he had left the train at Hamilton, Ontario, and entered a state room just before the train departed for Montreal and arrived here on Monday morning. Asked if he was questioned by immigration officials at the Canadian border, he replied that he had no conversation with officials of any kind, and that he had experienced no difficulty in crossing the line.
 Johnson has not yet been taken into custody by the Canadian authorities, and he is now in the hands of the American immigration officials at the United States border. He was allowed to depart, but it is understood a further investigation will be made before he goes abroad.
 The immigration officials stated that they were acting in accordance with the United States law, and that the American immigration officials it was no official communication with reference to Johnson had been received from Washington or Chicago.

HAMILTON RACES

Hamilton, Ont., June 21.—Sport today was served hot as the weather. Two good things from Kentucky went down and out when Wallace Bickel won the 100 yds. race, and a two year old race, and Hawthorne could only get third place behind Horton and Calvey. The Hawthorne plate was the feature of the day and Hawthorne and Horton. The former was a strong feature, but was not a match for the latter.
 First race, Maple Leaf, 3 years, 1:40. Second, Bickel, 100 yds, 1:10. Third, Horton, 100 yds, 1:10. Fourth, Hawthorne, 100 yds, 1:10. Fifth, Bickel, 100 yds, 1:10. Sixth, Horton, 100 yds, 1:10. Seventh, Hawthorne, 100 yds, 1:10. Eighth, Bickel, 100 yds, 1:10. Ninth, Horton, 100 yds, 1:10. Tenth, Hawthorne, 100 yds, 1:10.

 The following players are requested to turn out for practice tonight and Monday morning at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Lacrosse Practice Grounds.

Thirteen Western Canadian League Players Are Homesteaders

American Ball Men, Seeing Advantages of the Last Great West, Swear Allegiance to King and File On Quarter Sections

Members of Homestead Club
 Bill Hurley, manager Saskatoon Quakers; Bill O'Brien, third base, Calgary; Percy Manning, pitcher, Saskatoon; Timmy Flanagan, right field, Calgary; Ducky Holmes, second base, Saskatoon; Sam Vivian, second base, Calgary; Cruikshank, right field, Saskatoon; Walter Frink, pitcher, Calgary; Harper, short stop, Saskatoon; Phil Dellar, pitcher, Calgary; Fred Chubb, third base, Saskatoon; Art Thelen, pitcher; Kid Ford, pitcher, Saskatoon.
By JOE PRICE.
 THE rush of American immigrants to Western Canada is becoming a fact. The advent of hundreds of thousands of young Americans has had its effect upon the life and customs of the country. The Americans have brought with them their institutions, and one of the chief of these is baseball. Baseball must be admitted, had taken an important place in the life of the west and in many parts of the country has superseded the Canadian national game, lacrosse. Most of the baseball players are Americans who have come here from altogether different motives than prompted the majority of the newcomers.
 Free land did not attract them. They came here because they could not very well help themselves, as the national baseball commission, the greatest trust in the world, practically forced every one of them to come in order to earn a living.
 But the opportunities of Western Canada, the lure of the west, presented itself to these men who had come here almost against their will, and the result is that a large number of them have sworn allegiance to the King and have become good Canadian citizens.
 Perhaps all this is a round about manner of remarking upon the number of baseball players in the Western Canada league who have taken up quarter sections. Next winter in Alberta alone no less than 15 baseball players will be taking up quarter sections. These men are not just young men who have good prospects of getting into faster company, will be doing something for the government, presented to them by the government. Ten of this number are located within three miles of each other and form one of the strangest and most remarkable colonies in Western Canada. Two of them are located on the same quarter section, and the other two are located on the same quarter section. All are enthusiastic homesteaders and while most of them have not been in the country long enough to take out their naturalization papers, all have signed their intention of doing so and all must do so before they are given a clear title to their land.
Homesteaders' Club Organized.
 Last night a club was organized with all due formality—a homesteaders' club. Ten professional baseball players, all of whom are playing ball this summer in the Western Canada league met in the Grand Central hotel and formed themselves into "The Homesteaders' Club."
 The organization is more of a booster's club than anything else. Its chief aim is to induce ball players of the right sort to take out homesteads. There is no room for pikers in the club, but the organizer, Bill Hurley, believes that the free homesteads which are offered by the Dominion government present the best opportunity for ball players to lay aside some money for the day when their careers as players is past.
 Last night four new members were initiated. All those who had actually put in part of the required time on their land were made charter members.
 The members initiated last night were: Cruikshank, right fielder; Harper, short stop; Fred Chubb, third base, all members of the Saskatoon baseball club, and Bill O'Brien, third baseman of the Calgary club.
 These four men have filed on quarter sections this spring and will spend this winter doing their first settlement duties.
 Bill Hurley, one of the best baseball heads that ever managed a team in the Western Canada league, is sponsor for the club. He also is a great believer in homesteads for ball players.
Bill Hurley's Experience.
 "I am glad to see so many Western Canada league ball players fall in with the idea of taking out homesteads," said Hurley last night, when discussing the subject. "It is the best way to know for a ball player to get a little money ahead. It is healthy. It is sure to be in far better shape when spring training starts than the one who loafs during the off season."
 "Ball players as a rule come back here in the spring broke. During the summer they save their money only to blow it during the winter and when spring training time comes the majority of them have to borrow money on the first month's salary long before the season opens. A good many of them work half the summer before they are square with the club."
 "I played up in this league two years before I decided to go out on a homestead. Lots of people suggested it but it is hard for a fellow who has lived in cities all his life to make up his mind to shut himself away from the world for six months of the year. I hesitated quite a while but Mrs. Hurley said she was game to do it if I was, so last summer I filed upon a homestead. It has persuaded several other players on my club to come along with me."
Dellar and Holmes Pioneers.
 "It was Phil Dellar and Ducky Holmes who helped me a lot in this decision and in the selection of my land. They had taken out a quarter section before I located my claim three miles from them. Percy Manning and Art Thelen located right close to me. Last winter was our first. It was pretty tough but I managed well, just look at the work this year and you can see the effect it has had upon him. Bill O'Brien and Stub Spencer also filed on claims near me but did not go out last winter."
 "I am strong for homesteads now and I think that every ball player in this league who is at all anxious to lay aside a little for a rainy day should do as I did. That is the reason I have organized the homesteaders' club."

The Hurley baseball colony is located about ten miles from Vermilion, Alberta, a settlement about fifty miles north and east of Edmonton.
