A WARM RECEPTION FOR T. P. O'CONNOR

Irish Statesman and Journalist Will Shortly Visit Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The United Irish League met last night in the auditorium of the Irish Club, Limited, 218 Simcoe street, for the purpose of selecting a committee to arrange the programme for the reception of T. P. O'Connor, M.P., which will be held in his honor on the occasion of his visit to Toronto, Friday, Sept. 30.

The reception will be held in Massey Hall. While there will be a programme of high-class entertainment, with special Irish music, there will be nothing of the nature of a concert about it. It will be strictly social, and there will be no free admissions; the tickets will be sold solely by the managing committee, and none at the box office.

Mr. O'Connor has expressed his desire to spend a day or two with his old parliamentary colleague, Hon. Edward Blake, and it is altogether likely that he will arrange to remain over Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 1 and 2, to enjoy certain social functions which the committee and his friends are planning in his honor. He will then proceed to Ottawa and to Montreal, to attend the Eucharistic Congress.

A point of interest and importance was the decision of J. J. Roche and colleagues to make the reception to Mr. O'Connor provincial in scope, and to this end a certain number of seats will be reserved for Irishmen from outlying towns in Ontario.

TEN FAMILIES LEFT HOMELESS

Montreal Householders Burned Out—Firemen Were in Peril.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Ten families living on Esplanade avenue, were driven from their homes by fire shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The flames were first noticed raging on the roof of No. 2345, and when the firemen arrived the rear portion of the eight dwellings was on fire and a second alarm was at once sounded.

In wild confusion the families rushed out of their homes, carrying their household goods with them and piling them on the street.

The dwellings were all the property of Wilbrod Limoges, and the loss is placed at $10,000.

Several firemen were endangered by the collapse of verandahs in the rear of the burning dwellings, but nobody was injured.

ROOSEVELT'S POSITION

Is With Governor Hughes and Is Against All Grangers.

Carroll, Iowa, Aug. 27.—Theodore Roosevelt definitely outlined himself in the fight in New York with the progressives of New York State in a statement which he issued on the train yesterday as he was travelling across Iowa.

Col. Roosevelt declared that the main issue in the fight in New York was not "bossism," "bossism," he declared, frequently led to corruption, and he said he would wage ruthless war on corrupt alliance between business and "bosses." Col. Roosevelt was as anxious about the remarks by Timothy L. Woodruff, New York Republican state chairman, in regard to the factional fight in New York. In reply he issued this statement:

"The progressives are emphatically in favor of taking a real step forward about direct primaries, substantially on the lines of Governor Hughes' proposition, but this is not the main issue. The main issue is that we stand against 'bossism,' big or little, and in favor of genuine popular rule, not only at the general elections, but within the party organization, and, above all, that our war is ruthless against every species of corruption, big and little, and against the alliance between corrupt business and corrupt politics, as to which it has been found that too often in the past the boss system has offered a peculiarly efficient and objectionable means of communication. We are against the domination of the party and the public by splinters, whether these splinters are political, business, or a compound of the two."

REAL ESTATE ASK WHAT ABOUT INDUSTRY?

One Was Said to Have Been Secured to Take Over Plant of Old Chemical Works.

At last night's meeting of the Real Estate Owners' Association the secretary was instructed to send the following letter to the chairman of No. 1 committee:

"Dear Sir—Having noticed the men at work tearing down the old Chemical Works, and remembering that in his report the commissioner of industries stated that he had secured an industry to manufacture boxes in said building, as real estate owners and, therefore, taxpayers, we desire to know what has become of the industry. The R. E. O. A. heartily indorse his work of securing industries if industries are securing. But if on the other hand they are not, we think the money paid him is wasted. Furthermore, as official reports are supposed to be based on facts, we are naturally looking for the industry mentioned in his report, and in the event of not finding it, we naturally consider he has some good reason for not landing the industry or that he has incorrectly reported. Hoping to hear from you, we remain respectfully, Sir, Yr. O. A."

The following resolutions were also passed:

"Resolved—That we deprecate any attempt to saddle the ratepayers with a so-called plumbing inspector, and that the present move appears to us as a job for someone."

A resolution was also adopted congratulating Ald. Richter for "daring to break the unwritten law by which the firemen were easily made possible," by his stand on the matter of the putting down of local improvements in London.

WALKS 25 MILES A DAY

German Waitress' Work Equal to Eight-Hour March.

London, Aug. 27.—One of the waitresses at a large restaurant and hotel in Munich became curious as to the distance she was obliged to walk every day in serving the customers seated at her tables. To find out she counted the number of steps she took from 10 o'clock in the morning until midnight, when she went off duty. Her stride is 27 1/2 inches, and during her hours of duty she walked 25 miles, or a distance of some 25 miles.

BEAR KILLS SHOWMAN

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Word reached the city last night from St. Martin that a travelling showman with a bear, in the neighborhood, had been terribly mauled and killed while drunk by the animal, which he had omitted to muzzle. The man had been drinking in a tavern at St. Martin, leaving the bear tied in a camp on the outskirts. On returning he lay down to sleep, and the unmuzzled bear practically ran him to pieces.

THE BANK TELLER PAID $400 TOO MUCH

Official at King Edward Hotel Acted Quickly.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—Last night, when W. J. Gordon, paying teller of the King Edward Hotel branch of the Bank of Ottawa, came to balance his accounts he found that he was $400 short in his American currency. He knew that he had paid the money over the counter by mistake, and was convinced he could locate the man who received it.

Shortly after 6 o'clock he hurried to the detective department and gave the name of Henry Scavia, Italian, to the authorities. Quick work on their part has located the man. Word came from E. Willis, chief of police of Windsor, this morning stating that Scavia had been apprehended at that town, and together with his brother, wife, and child, was being held in that town, pending instructions from Toronto.

Gordon was positive that Scavia was the only man during the day to whom he had paid any American bills in any amount. Scavia presented a check for four hundred, Gordon believes that he must have given him double denomination bills of kind, and so paid out $800 instead of $400. Beyond that, he is unable to give particulars.

The police were fortunate in their method of locating Scavia. He was formerly a barber at 54 York street, but had sold his business and was going to California. Last night it was learned by the authorities that many of his friends had paid him at the union station around 1 o'clock. This gave the police the necessary clue. Knowing the only westbound train would go through the Western Peninsula, they wired, Detroit, Sarnia, Windsor, Port Huron, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls with the result that this morning the Italian is in custody, though there is no insurance that the money wanted was found on him.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

able sometimes in our criticism of those who undertake the burdens of public life. Few know how wearing the responsibilities and anxieties are which accompany those in high offices in the democracy. It would lessen the difficulties and soften the troubles of our political warriors if they sought more diligently for common ground on which to meet, rather than labor to find points of difference. Mr. Burrell paid a tribute to the Premier's courtesy and generosity to his opponents. "He has long been a commanding, central figure in the national life, of personal integrity and unblemished life."

Sir Wilfrid enthusiastically received and reciprocated the courtesies extended. Dealing with the needs of the country, he had been impressed with what had been said concerning the need for railway facilities from the north. At present, however, the Government were engaged in the continental and Hudson Bay undertakings. It occurred to the Premier that the problem might be solved by the improvement of the Thompson River, establishing a water line of communication. "Before I commit myself, however," he added, "it is well that I should consult my colleagues and secure their consent. The Government had been accused of being spendthrifts, but he hoped Mr. Burrell would not oppose any proposition or suggestion (laughter and cheers).

Mr. Burrell said in no part of Canada had he found a more intense spirit of pride in the country as a whole and British connection. He gloried in this spirit, and urged its fostering.

Hon. G. P. Graham.

Hon. G. P. Graham counselled Klonops to insist on the removal of the railway line from its main trunk. He addressed the Premier, young Canadian citizenship, appealing for industry, zeal and loyalty. "Canada welcomes the worker," was his homely observation, "and holds out a big future for him. The labor guard may as well pack his grip and get out. He is no good here, and spoils those about him. Remember, young Canadians, it is the small things that count. If you do not make things in little things you may never have the opportunity to tackle big things."

Hon. Frank Oliver is expected to rejoin the party here at midnight, and the train proceeds to Vernon.

HEAD ENGINEER WAS NOT NAMED

Ald. Tancock Was Out After the Scalp of Consulting Engineer Graydon.

LIVELY TILTS LAST NIGHT

Chairman Pocock and Ald. Saunders Have It Hot and Heavy For a Little While—Matter Laid Over.

A head engineer was not named at the joint meeting of the water commissioners and the board of works held last evening. One or two more candidates will be looked over before any decision is arrived at.

The meeting was very interesting. There were several tilts, and at one time it looked as if the Ananias Club would have a fairly increased membership.

An amusing feature of the discussion was that the water commissioners were apparently very solicitous that a man who understood street-laying and sewers and the like be named to head the works department of the city should be properly looked after.

The aldermen were very solicitous in their turn about the power end of the question, and demanded that an expert in electricity be named.

Many Applications.

Ald. Tancock, the chairman, presented a sheaf of applications. He was much taken up with that of Mr. Van Cleve, of Niagara Falls, and favored his appointment.

Assistant Engineer Parsons, of Ottawa, also had a following among some of the aldermen and commissioners. Ald. Saunders started the trouble for loading up the electrical department with high-priced men.

Loading It Up.

"Mr. Roberts handled that department alone, and surely your new man at $2,500 a year can carry on the work," he declared. "There is no need of loading the department up. We can handle the board of works end of it. We have Mr. Wright a man who can do the work with Mr. Graydon's assistance. Just as well as it can be done. The trouble is that we don't appreciate men in this city. You are always allowing the good men to go away from you. Look at Mr. Roberts. He did two men's work for six months, and you did not do anything for him. He did not appreciate him."

Not Satisfied.

"You are not stating facts," insisted Chairman Pocock. "I am stating facts," shot back Ald. Saunders. "We did appreciate Mr. Roberts," said Mr. Pocock. "You did not," shot back Ald. Saunders. "You showed no appreciation of his work whatever."

"I am telling the truth, and no man can tell me any different," said Ald. Saunders. "You did not make him a decent offer until last Friday, when he was ready to leave the city."

Mr. Pocock explained that the water commissioners had frequently discussed Mr. Roberts, and it was always their intention to give him a salary suitable to the position. It was not their fault that he was leaving the city's employ.

Ald. Tancock came back to the question under discussion, and pointed out the necessity of naming a head engineer.

"I want the board of works to understand that it will be necessary for us to name a man to succeed Mr. Roberts, even if a head engineer is named," declared Chairman Pocock. "We are offering $130,000 worth of power a year, and we need a man of power to require plenty of men of the right stamp to do so. Manager Dark was not selected as an engineer, but as a manager, who will see to it that the city gets value for money expended. The city has $20,000 a year, in money spent by not looking after its department. Mr. Dark will save his salary twice over or someone else will."

Mr. Graydon in the Limelight.

Mayor Beattie took the position that the public works department was in need of men than the electrical department. He gloried in this spirit, and urged its fostering.

Ald. Tancock wanted to get rid of Consulting Engineer Graydon. He declared that the head engineer could take his place.

We have little for a high-priced man to do at the present time," declared Commissioner Dark. "I think we can go for another year at least. But that time our department will have settled itself, and we will know exactly how many men we need, and how our work is going to turn out. If a head engineer is named then he can do what the departments to much better advantage than at the present time. We can get along for the time being."

Ald. Tancock returned to the subject of a head engineer, insisted on the removal of Engineer Graydon.

LONDON TRADE

eral lines of wholesale goods is good for this season of the year. A return of hot weather has revived interest in sorting lines, and orders for fall goods have been satisfactory. Considerable confidence is felt regarding the outlook for the future, there being every indication that the business of the coming season will set a record over that of previous years. Grocers report an excellent movement of staple lines with prices generally steady. Sugar is unchanged at the recent decline. The hardware movement continues good. Builders' supplies are still in active demand. Paints and oils are a little quiet as usual at this time of the year. Country business continues good, particularly that part of it connected with summer resort trade. Receipts of produce continue large, and prices generally hold steady to firm. Latest reports state a fairly large peach crop is to be expected from the Niagara Peninsula.

The West.

Winnipeg reports the more reassuring advice regarding the grain outlook for the future. Business in all lines of trade. From certain sections of the country crops are reported to be giving record yields, and in most other districts high prices will, to some extent, offset the damage done. A good general business is moving, and wholesalers report they are sending large shipments of fall goods. Prices are generally steady and collections fair.

Vancouver and Victoria reports say general up-country trade continues active and business with lumber and construction camps has shown some increase during the past week. General retail trade has been of good volume and collections are generally satisfactory. The fruit crops are generally good in this connection has been heavy at market prices. The demand for fish is brisk. The catch of sockeye has not been heavy, but unusually large catches of halibut are reported from the coast.

Business Brisk.

Quebec reports that Bradstreet's say outside of sorting orders, wholesalers report business quiet, and as a rule collections are slow. Outlook for fall and winter is fair. City trade is better than a week ago, local factories with the exception of a few are slack, and no general improvement is anticipated until the season is more advanced. Country produce is arriving in fair quantities but prices are high. Hamilton reports say a good volume of general business is now moving. Retailers are active and manufacturers say sorting orders are coming in well. The outlook for fall business continues good. Local factories are busy, and country trade has picked up after the past week. Collections also show improvement.

London Business.

London reports say a good volume is noted to general trade there. The movement of goods at wholesale and retail is satisfactory, and there is less complaint on the score of collections than has been the case recently. Country trade promises well. Collections are fair to good.

DOCTOR ENGLISH

Dr. English refuses to talk about the removal of Moir from the asylum, but it seems certain that he has left Hamilton for the work which was commenced on his back in Kingston. Several of the guards stopped and several of the guards state that he is not in the institution. Why he was moved is not known, nor will the doctor discuss the question, but it is thought that he was sent to an institution in the local asylum and it was deemed advisable to send him to Kingston.

Moir's Removal.

There was some talk regarding the authorities being unable to place Moir in Kingston, but it is said that owing to there being no insane ward in the Central at Toronto, the officials had come to an agreement whereby he could be placed in Kingston.

When he was told that he was to be sent to a prison Moir is said to have become violently angry and to have expressed his feelings in very emphatic terms. He realized that he would get little more latitude, but also that he would not have an opportunity to escape again.

Why the officials have kept the affair so quiet is hard to understand. Who took Moir to Toronto is not known, but it is almost certain that Detective John Miller was interested in the removal of the murderer, and that he and Moir left the 1:15 train Wednesday evening for Toronto, where Moir was placed in the Central, from which place he is being removed to Kingston today. The man who took Moir from the Central did not him shackled, as no shackled prisoners were seen to arrive in Toronto. He may have been taken by motor car, as some have suggested.

A THIRSTY PLACE

Montreal, Aug. 26.—Montreal's water consumption during August has averaged 61,000,000 gallons a day, an increase of 3,000,000 gallons daily over the same month last year. This is attributed to the increase in population rather than any effect in tightening the lid, as the consumption of liquids other than water shows no decrease.
