A BOUT a hundred years ago someone with Personal Liberty ideas talked like this. They are proposing to prohibit snuffing! What will they be doing next? There's my grandfather took snuff, and my father and mother are both snuffers, though the one's sand-blind and the other can't tell the taste of an oyster from the suck of a raw egg in the shell. And I like snuff myself, and my sons and daughters can snuff if they want to, for all of me, though they do say it's not so good form for the girls.

The snuff is a drug habit, is it? And it drops on clothes and things and makes some people sneeze? One should carry his snuff as a gentleman. and besides, it's this new adulteration coming in that does the harm. Keep the stuff pure, I say, by sharp inspection. Good, pure, honest snuff will never hurt anybody. It made me sneeze myself and sick when I was a stripling gaffer. Personal Liberty is the thing I stand for
