

25 QUALIFY FOR ALDERMEN IN CIVIC CONTEST

Ten of Present City Council Go To People December 4.

BIG FIGHT IN WARD 3

FOR MAYOR.

Thomas W. McFarland (acclamation).

Col. William M. Gartsshore (acclamation).

Ward 2—William Tite, ex-Ald. A. Wilson, Walter Ellis, Ald. S. J. T. Bean, Ald. Dr. Douglass, Ald. A. M. Judd.

Ward 3—Ald. John Ashton, ex-Ald. John Colbert, Ald. G. B. Drake, G. Frank McKay, D. J. Tallant, Ald. F. R. Watkinson.

Ward 4—Edmund Hayden, Harry Kibbler, ex-Ald. William Boss, Ald. Dr. L. S. Holmes, W. J. Nutkins, Thos. Patterson, George Burdick.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.
Trustee A. N. Udy, ex-School Trustee Adam Palmer, Mrs. Etta Palmby, S. F. Lawason, George Hyatt, Trustee Mrs. John L. A. Hunt, Rev. G. Q. Warner, Alfred J. Grant, N. F. Willmott.

Ten of the present city council are going to the people Dec. 4 next for a mandate. One of these, Ald. H. J. Childs, is seeking the mayor's chair.

Ald. H. B. Ashplant, just appointed city auditor, is naturally out of the race, and Ald. E. F. Brighton, who has been one of ward one's representatives for several years, failed to qualify Tuesday night, although nominated.

Five other councillors are again seeking the vote and influence of the electorate, one of whom, Adam Palmer, also a former member of the board of education, has re-entered that field.

Ex-Ald. P. J. Watt is a candidate in Ward 1, Ex-Ald. W. A. Wilson in ward 2, Ex-Ald. John Colbert in ward 3 and Ex-Ald. William Boss in ward 4.

Interest Centers in Ward 3.
With the exception of the mayor-alty contest, the big fight is anticipated in ward 3, with a complete labor split, submitted in opposition to two of the present members of the council, who, while sitting as labor councillors, displaced the official labor body early in the year and lost

Fire At Trinity Destroys Four Barns, 20 Head of Cattle and Season's Crop

Special to The Advertiser.
Brantford, Nov. 21.—Another extensive farm fire has been added to the list of recent barn destructions. This one was at the home of Mr. F. O. Vansickle of Trinity, near Ancaster Village. It broke out among the contents of one of the four barns on the farm about 9 o'clock Saturday night, and spread with such rapidity that it took but an hour to destroy all four buildings, about 20 head of cattle and the entire season's crop. The house was saved, but the incineration at the Labor Temple convention.

One member of ward 3's quota in the present council, Ald. Gordon B. Drake, is also seeking re-election. This one was involved in any manner with the labor tangle.

Frank McKay, president of No. 1 branch of the London Labor party, enters the municipal lists for the first time as one of the aldermanic candidates in ward 3.

Edmund Hayden, Ward 4, is another new entrant to the field as an aldermanic possibility.

The board of education also provides an interesting tussle. Up until the last few minutes it appeared as though Mayor Wilson's prediction about six candidates by acclamation would prove correct. The clock slipped around to 8:30 p.m., with half an hour to go and but five nominees had presented themselves. Then somebody got real busy and Rev. G. Quintin Warner was urged into the contest, bringing the number to six. It looked as though they were elected without further preliminaries.

Palmer Enters Field.
In the meanwhile scouts had sallied forth to scour the community for prospective school trustees, and as o'clock drew apace, they commenced o'arrive.

Ex-Alderman Adam Palmer arrived from East London and promptly qualified with the declaration "they have talked just a trifle too much. I'm in."

Then Mayor Wilson and S. F. Lawason drove up to the city hall, and the latter affixed his signature to the list.

It was just a minute or so before the whistle blew when Trustee A. E. Silverwood reached the hall post haste with George Hyatt, who signed up, making the ninth on the ballot.

Three retiring members of the present school board declined to seek re-election, Trustees Rev. A. A. Bice, A. A. Langford and Henry Hayman.

Headaches From Slight Colds.
The Tonic and Laxative Effect of Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets soon relieve a Headache caused from a Cold. The box bears the signature of E. W. Grove. (Be sure you get BROMO). 30c. Made in Canada.—Adv.

RELINQUISH APPOINTMENTS.
London, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The Labor members of parliament are compelled, under the regulations of the London County Council to relinquish appointments under that authority. Two are teachers and the other a timber inspector.

MIRTH ABOUNDS IN HELLO BROADWAY

Jimmie Evans' Musical Review Company Delights Patrons At Grand.

The presentation of "Hello Broadway," by the Jimmie Evans Musical Review Company at the Grand Opera House last night was a real hit with the audience, and each and every one who saw it went away with the conviction that it is one of the best shows seen in London in many months.

The show, from start to finish, is one of clean, witty mirth, with an ample supply of high-class singing interspersed in its many scenes, and every member of the cast deserves special praise for the obviously hard work he or she does to make this play the great success it is.

Miss Florence Pippin is especially charming in her violin and singing acts, and along with Miss Frase brought the house down with the rendition of a new and lilting bird ballad entitled, "Cuckoo Coo."

The comic side of the entertainment is handled in truly a masterful style by Jimmie Evans as Jerry Casey, an irresponsible Irishman, and Joe Devine in the role of Ike, the Hebrew. These two produced gales of laughter with their antics in the poker scene, where Jerry lays a brick-bat on the table, and Ike produces an axe just to insure an amicable little game.

Every other comedy act in the play is equally good, and the distinctive feature of it all, and one that merits particular comment, is the fact that not one suggestive line is heard throughout the entire length of the long program.

Burt Ryan, of Broadway fame, is an attraction in himself, with the wonderful happy way in which he delivers his songs, of which there are many, and his real histrionic ability displayed in the other scenes of the presentation.

Joe Devine as a Jewish comedian has actual big-time ability, and proves a clever pawn for the practical and impractical jokes of Jerry, the Irishman. The working of these two together was entirely human and something that would intrigue the interest of any self-styled highbrow.

Every member of the cast of 20 is a true artist in his or her line, and the costumes and scenery are of a class not often seen in a road show, and are as well of a type that reveals the remarkably distinctive taste of their designers.

This play is being offered at unheard-of low prices and it is really a marvel that such a high-class production is as successful as it is.

"Hello Broadway" is certainly worthy of twice the present scale of admission. It will be presented again tonight with a special matinee this afternoon.

A girl's smile often tows a young man in and her father's boot toes him out.

ASKS JUDGE'S HELP IN FINDING MONEY

Foreigner Tells Troubles To Toronto Justice—Claims Lawyers Want Cash.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Jacob Dolgan, a little whiskered man with a scant fluency in English, is hunting for $210.00 or so. He says that he was deprived of it at Kapuskasing, and he holds the jail there as more or less responsible.

Dolgan, without a lawyer, but with a typewritten statement, tried to explain his quest to Mr. Justice Latchford in chambers at Osgoode Hall today.

According to his story, this had happened: Dolgan, a carpenter, lost his job. A police constable at Kapuskasing said he might live at the jail and do odd jobs. Dolgan was asked as to the money he had, and his answer was "a couple of dollars." Later Dolgan was found to have $923.39. Presumably Dolgan was charged with begging and fined $35, including costs. The money returned to him was $618.

At least, the foregoing was Dolgan's version. "I want my money," said Dolgan to the judge.

"Why don't you have a lawyer?"

"I've had two or three. But they want money." "Then, why not go to the attorney-general?" "Do nothing for me; just write letters."

Mr. Justice Latchford: "I can do nothing for you. How can I advise you? In your statement you admit that you lied when you said you had only 'a couple of dollars.'"

Dolgan: "But, judge, my money was my own business. Why should I tell the truth? I was afraid somebody would take the money."

As there was no motion, there had been no service at Kapuskasing or elsewhere, and, therefore, Dolgan's side was the only one presented, even informally.

Following the so-called hearing before Mr. Justice Latchford, Dolgan told his troubles over again to M. Wilkins, barrister.

FALLS FIFTY FEET ESCAPES UNHURT

Montreal, Nov. 21.—A French-Canadian longshoreman, whose name could not be ascertained, this morning fell 50 feet from a gangplank in the hold of the Robert Reford Line vessel Vitellia.

Fellow-workmen who saw him disappear rushed to the edge of the hold, expecting to see his lifeless body in a heap on the floor below. Telephones buzzed and an ambulance was summoned, but all to no purpose, for the man was seen to pick himself up, brush the dust from his clothes and walk away puffing at his pipe, which still remained lighted, between his teeth.

St. Thomas Council Will Ask For Sums Collected by Street Railway Manager.

Special to The Advertiser.
St. Thomas, Nov. 21.—The whole matter of fees from convictions in the police court will, it is understood, be brought up at the next council meeting.

question as to the amount received in this manner by Chief of Police William Armstrong as city license inspector, asked by Alderman Robert Middleton at the last council meeting, was referred to No. 1 committee, and will be gone into at the next meeting.

The chief was appointed as special license inspector for the city some time ago, and collects fees arising out of convictions under the Ontario temperance act.

An effort will be made to have returned to the city fees received by Manager Charles Johns arising out of cases where motorists are convicted on information laid by him for passing standing street cars. It is claimed that a resolution was passed by the council last year prohibiting the acceptance by the street railway manager of these sums.
