At the same time a heavy fire opened on the fortifications from the fleet ironclads and land batteries. After a desparate and prolonged fighting at the foot of the intrenchments, the allied columns retired. Loss, allies, 3000. Nothing is known of the loss of the Paraguayans, but as they fought under cover of intrenchments, it is supposed the number killed and wounded will fall far behind the allied loss. Grancho also advanced with the object of cutting off the connections of Lopez in the forest. They found them defended by a large body of troops protected by breastworks. After a desparate fight the allies withdrew. The hopes of the war party in Brazil rested on the success of this enters prise. Its failure will give great impetus to the peace movement.
