Damages—The Observatory—Mr James Laut. All the members of the committee wer present at yesterday's meeting. A petition was received from the super ntendent and deputy superintendent of the Toronto observatory, asking for a grant of $600 to the observatory, for the purpose of purchasing a new instrument. The petition stated that for many years past the observatory has furnished accurate time to the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and that the transit instrument used for the city and vicinity free of charge, and the sation, locked in the cells, brought the station, locked in the cells, brought to see the magistrate, and either fined or sent across the Don. PROTECTION AT RAILWAY CROSS. INGS.

A party consisting of Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, chief engineer of railways for the Dominion, Mr. Robert McCallum, engineer department of public works, representatives from the Grand Trunk, Toronto, Grey, and Bruce, and Credit Valley railways, and Messrs. Grey and Frankish, of Parkdale, inspected the various crossings at Parkdale this week, and decided to make the following arrangements: At the intersection of Queen street and Dufferin avenue where the car tracks run in an angle, it was decided to fence Dufferin avenue across on the north side, and by making a circuit to the east, reach Queen street. Gates will be erected at the other crossings. The crossing at Brockton will be put in good repair for the present, and the subway con-

UNITARIAN CHURCH SOIREE.

The Unitarians held a soiree last night in the basement of their church on Jarvis street. After a substantial tea, to which ample justice was done, an excellent program of vocal and instrumental music and reading was gone through. A piano solo by Miss Hamilton was well performed, and was received with well-merited applause. The principal event of the evening was the reading of an original poem by the pastor, which caused a great deal of amusement. The verses referred constantly to social matters transpiring amongst the congrega-tion, and were well written and very clever-Ity read. Mr. O'Malley's rendering of "True Till Death" also met with approval. He possesses a fine voice and did full justice to the character of the song. The soiree was well attended, and proved an undoubt-
