The detective lost no time in coming up this way. He ar-rived in Toronto Monday and placed himself in connection with the local detectives who helped him all they could to cage his bird. By telegraphing to Mrs. Hopper at Cincinnati in her busband's name, Crawford ascertained that his man was in Hamilton. He went to the Ambitions City Wednesday, only to find that 'Frank Jackson' had left there the day before sfter a three weeks' stay. From Ham-ilton the absconder came to this city. His arrest by Acting Detective Alfred Cuddy, be-fore he had been in town twenty-four hours, was told in these columns yesterday. "Detective Crawford returned here yesterday and was ready to give evidence against Hop-per in the Police Court, preparatory to taking extraditionary proceedings against him, but the prisoner, penniless and worn out, was in no
