

duct of this argument, any expression has escaped me, stronger than was required by the necessity of the case, I have lived to express my concern for it, and to offer this open testimony to the goodness of heart, united with greatness of talent and acquirement, in that distinguished man.

Westminster,
Jan. 5, 1821.

---