

will always be pleased to hear of his success in his home by the sea.

POSITIONS.—The regatta at Chautauque Lake, N.Y., was postponed from last week until to-morrow, on account of Morris and Frenchy Johnson being unable to reach there.

YACHTING ON THE CANALS.—For a good practical yachtsman commend us to Monsieur Levis, the Anglo-French book-maker. He hired a yacht and bought a nice blue serge suit with gilt buttons. The yacht sailed from port to port in the north of France, but not with Monsieur Levis in it. He took the train.

GAUDAUR—SANDFORD.—The three-mile single-reef race between Sandford, of Barrie, and Gaudaur, of Orillia, for $800, is to take place on Lake Couchiching, on October 7th. Sandford is suffering from some injuries received by his boat colliding with a tug.

NEW YORK.—From the New York Sunday World we clip the following regarding the speculative feeling in New York on the boat race. "For the Hanlan-Courtney boat-race there is much inquiry both in New York and in the country. Offers were freely made yesterday to back Hanlan at even figures from $1,000 to $5,000. The admirers of Courtney, although very sanguine, are holding off, saying that, before the race they expect to get at least two and perhaps three to one for their money.

TORONTO REGATTA.—So far there is nothing new respecting the proposed regatta at Toronto. The provincial Exhibition and the Hanlan Courtney race occupying all the attention this week. In the words of the colored sergeant, "as you am; stay dar," is just now the position of the regatta.

FARE.—The Grand Trunk Railway will issue return tickets from Toronto to Montreal on the occasion of the Hanlan-Courtney race for $5.

FAITHFUL TO HIS END.

Prof. Brewer, of Yale College, told this droll story in a recent lecture:

A Connecticut dog has suffered an injury to his tail which would not repair itself. His owner believed that an amputation of the extremity would produce a fresh wound, which would easily and quickly heal. He gave orders to have the operation performed as humanely as possible, and it was done by a servant with an axe on a block. Judge of the astonishment of the owner when the dog presently appeared before him, carrying the excited member in his mouth, and laying it down at his feet, as if to say, "See what has been done to my tail!" Having thus presented his case, he carried the fragment out and buried it. Shortly after he repeated the operation, as if to emphasize the treatment he had suffered. Finding that he made but little impression upon his master, he repeated it again and then abandoned his claim for indemnification. "You see," said Prof. Brewer, "he was faithful to the end."

An account in a Russian paper of recent explorations in Siberia relates that one of the travellers, while proceeding along an estuary of the River Lena, found a pack of wolves devouring the frozen flesh of a mammoth, which had been exposed by the breaking away of a cliff, and which was apparently in a perfect state of preservation. This is probably the oldest preserved meat in the world, compared with which the most ancient Egyptian mummy is a recent pottage.

The Prince of Wales is too much of a country gentleman to be a bad fellow. He is now devoting considerable attention to the solution of the problem of acclimatizing grouse on his estate at Sandringham. He is rearing young birds from the eggs and has fair prospects of success. Even a prince has not always time to go to the moors.
