

Following the retirement of Major Oldright the family moved to Toronto. Dr. Oldright received his preliminary education at the Brantford Grammar School, and graduated in arts from the University of Toronto in 1863. In 1865 he took the degree of Bachelor of Medicine. He was a member of the Council of Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons from 1869 to 1872, and Chairman of the Provincial Board of Health in 1882. He was a Senator in the governing body of the University for a lengthy period. He took a deep interest in the work of the Children's Aid Society.

Dr. Oldright was married to Sarah Ellen Durand, daughter of the late Charles Durand, barrister, of Toronto, who survives him, as well as two sons and five daughters. The sons are Dr. H. H. Oldright, in the West Indies, and Mr. Percival Oldright, Denver, Col. The daughters are Mrs. Luther Whittemore, Chicago; Mrs. Donald MacWilliam, St. Kitts, West Indies; Mrs. P. S. Blachford, Mrs. Leonard Wookey of Toronto, and Mrs. Stanley Wookey, Cochrane, Ont. One brother, John Oldright of Austin, Texas, also survives him. His grandson, Lieut. William Lawrence Whittemore, recently was awarded the Military Cross for bravery at the front.

The funeral services were conducted in Convocation Hall, where the body lay in state after its arrival from Chicago. The service was of a very simple character, as he was a member of the Christian Brethren.

Dr. R. A. Falconer, when informed of the late doctor's death, paid a tribute to him in the following words:

"Dr. Oldright was a very brilliant and an exceedingly gentle man. He was always delightful and pleasant, and I am sure a friend to all who knew him. Very devoted to the University, even after his retirement, he never missed a meeting of the Alumni. He was one of the earliest graduates in Arts."

JAMES H. COTTON.

Dr. J. H. Cotton died at his home in Toronto, on 9th January, 1917, at the age of 67. He had suffered from heart disease for considerable time.

The late Dr. Cotton had a record of over thirty years of service in Toronto. He was born in Garafraxa in 1849, and twenty-six years later graduated in medicine in the University of Toronto. In 1876 he obtained his diploma from the Royal College of Edinburgh. He opened a practice at Mount Forest and after a short while went to New York where he took a post graduate course in surgery. He came back to
