

Some reached distinguished positions in the Grand Lodge of British Columbia, and Victoria-Columbia No. 1 has been honored in the selection of the following mentioned members of the Lodge to fill the office of Grand Master of Masons in British Columbia:

1876-77.....Fred Williams	1885.....Thos. Trounce
1878-79-80.....Eli Harrison, Sr.	1890.....Angus McKeown
1882.....H. Brown	1908.....W. K. Houston
1883-84.....E. Crow Baker	1913.....William Henderson

Victoria-Columbia Lodge No. 1, through its intimate connection with the old Victoria Lodge, may justly be deemed to be the cradle of organized Freemasonry in British Columbia.

Oldest in point of seniority, it still endeavors to maintain the traditions of the past and combine them with the needs of the present day, and so long as the light of Freemasonry shines in this far-flung outpost of the British Empire, Victoria-Columbia No. 1, will ever be found maintaining the principles of Freemasonry, pure and unsullied, and, by precept and example, its members will ever endeavor to uphold the honor and dignity of our ancient Craft.
