EVERY MAN AT VALCARTIER WILL GO TO THE FRONT KAISER'S ARMIES IN DISORGANIZED RETREAT BEFORE THE RUSSIANS

"There can be no lasting peace, no security for the rights of man and no protection of democracy from brigandage and death, until the imperial domination of Prussia within Germany is crushed by disarmament and swept away forever." ---German Humanity League.

Battle of the Aisne Nears End --- Bloodiest in All History

GERMAN WESTERN WING RECEDES SEVEN MILES UNDER ALLIES' ATTACK

Fresher Troops at Disposal of Generals French and Joffre Thrust Back Enemy—Every Inch of Ground Not Gained Without Terrific Struggle.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 ON THE BATTLEFRONT, Sept. 21. (By way of Paris 5.38 p.m.)—The western wing of the German line has been thrust back about 7 miles during the last 48 hours as a sequel to continuous fighting night and day.
 Both armies, despite almost superhuman fatigues, show the utmost determination not to yield an inch of ground without a terrific struggle, but the fresher troops at the disposal of the allied commanders, have gradually forced the Germans to recede.
Turcos Add to Fame.
 The Turcos are adding daily to their record of daring achievements. Late last night in a costly bayonet encounter they broke thru the German lines without firing more than a few shots, recaptured and brought back four field guns which the French troops had abandoned the previous day. They seemed to disdain the murderous rifle and machine gunfire poured into them, refusing to listen to the officers who tried to keep them under cover.
Cold Steel Plays Part.
 Cold steel today again played a big part in the battle of the big hosts fighting along the Aisne, the Oise and Woevre. The most remarkable point about the encounters is that the troops scarcely see each other before they actually come hand to hand.
 The recklessness displayed at the beginning of the hostilities, with the resultant carnage thru the machine guns, has almost disappeared and every movement of the attacking and defending troops is carried out with the utmost caution until the moment of actual contact.

German Suffer Most.
 The Germans have suffered most in these engagements, for the French troops from Africa and the British infantry are adepts with the bayonet, and they wait warily in the trenches until their adversaries are so close that a quick dash brings them together.
Joffre Inspires Confidence.
 Gen. Joffre, who is enjoying robust health, dishes in his hands every phase of the battle. Behind the firing line the commander of the allies confers daily with the general in charge of the various allied forces. He has created a feeling of the greatest cheerfulness and confidence among the officers and men by his absolute indifference to political and other influences and by his desire to spare them sacrifices.
 The country behind the French army is being rapidly repopulated. Herds of cattle and sheep mingle with supply trains along the roads leading to the north. They are being driven by peasants, women, old men and boys, homeward.

TERMONDE BOMBARDMENT MAINTAINED BY GERMANS

Canadian Press Despatch.
 LONDON, Sept. 21.—(10 p.m.)—A despatch to the Central News from Ghent says that the Germans continue the bombardment of Termonde, presumably with the object of preventing a further Belgian sortie from Antwerp. There have been various skirmishes in and near the villages surrounding the Antwerp positions.
 The Germans have entrenched themselves between Hofstade, 18 miles east of Ghent and Sempt. The fort of Waelhelm has on several occasions been bombed these positions.
 The Germans have also taken up fortified positions at Gembloux and between Wavre and Louvain.

CANADA WILL SEND 31,200 MEN ABROAD

Every Man in Valcartier Camp Will Go to England, But All Will Not Be Put in Firing Line at Once—Officers Given Pleasant Surprise.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 VALCARTIER CAMP, Sept. 21.—Canada will send nearly ten thousand more men on the first contingent than was asked by the British war office. This announcement was made by Col. Sam Hughes tonight, and the decision was the result of a conference between Sir Robert Borden, the minister of militia, and Hon. George E. Foster and Hon. Robert Rogers at the camp today. It means that 31,200 officers and men and 7500 horses will be transported to England, instead of a division of 22,500 men, which was the original plan, following the request of the imperial authorities. It also means that every officer in training here will be taken aboard, which has caused great rejoicing among those who expected to be rejected. Every man in camp who is fit for active service will accompany the first contingent.
 Asked whether any soldiers would remain in training at Valcartier and if there would be a second contingent immediately mobilized, Col. Hughes stated:
Will Take Every Man.
 "We have decided that every man will be taken from this camp." The firing line from Canada will consist of an army division of 22,500 men, but at the same time we have deemed it advisable to send the rest of the Canadian people might be arranged in good time, but there would be no peace with Prussian militarism, short of the grave."
 England, said the first lord, did not seek to subjugate Germany or Austria, or their people, however completely her victory might be over them. The worst that could happen to them after the war was that they should be set free to live, and let live fairly and justly.

MILITARISM OF PRUSSIA MUST BE LAID IN GRAVE

Winston Churchill Declares Vague Talk of Peace by German Ambassador to U.S. is Insincere—Britain Does Not Desire to Enslave Germans or Austrians.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 LIVERPOOL (via London), Sept. 21.—(11.55 p.m.)—In a speech here tonight, Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, referring to the talk of peace by the German ambassador to the United States, Count von Bernstorff, said:
 "His vague talk of peace is as insincere as the information of which he is the source. Peace with the German people might be arranged in good time, but there would be no peace with Prussian militarism, short of the grave."
 England, said the first lord, did not seek to subjugate Germany or Austria, or their people, however completely her victory might be over them. The worst that could happen to them after the war was that they should be set free to live, and let live fairly and justly.

VON KLUK PLANS HIS RETREAT AS 100,000 MEN ARE RUSHED TO SUPPORT EXHAUSTED ARMY

ARREST THE KAISER SAY LONDON GERMANS

True and Lasting Interests of Toilers and Wage-earners of Germany Can Only Be Served By Complete Victory of Allied Armies

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Members of the German Humanity League, who on Aug. 11 issued the statement that the end of the war inevitably would see the deposition of the kaiser, have made the following further statement:
 "We reiterate as men passionately loving the fatherland, it is the duty of every man who cares for the welfare of mankind to join hands in arresting the kaiser and the ministers around him who are responsible for the appalling crimes perpetrated on non-combatants, which have disgraced our nation in the eyes of the whole civilized world."
 "The true and lasting interests of the toilers and wage-earners of Germany can only be served by the complete victory of the allied armies.
 "There can be no lasting peace, no security for the rights of man, and no protection of democracy from brigandage and death until the imperial domination of Prussia within Germany is crushed by disarmament and swept away forever."

SECOND JAP TORPEDO BOAT SUNK BY GERMAN CRUISER

Canadian Press Despatch.
 PEKIN, Sept. 22, 2.11 a.m.—Mail advices from Tsimo state that Japanese lost a second torpedo boat outside Kiaochau. The vessel was sunk by a German cruiser.
GERMAN BARRACKS SHELLED.
 PEKIN, Sept. 22, 2.11 a.m.—Correspondence from Taingtau dated Sept. 18, says: "Japanese destroyers shelled German barracks on the coast 14 miles north of Taingtau. Bombs, dropped from hydroplanes today, damaged neither the town nor its defences because the constant firing of the garrison kept the airships about 2,000 yards above the town."

Austrian General Must Surrender to Russians

Dankl's Forces in Such a Position That They Cannot Extricate Themselves—Von Auffenberg Directs Disorganized Retreat Towards Cracow --- Russians Continue Successful Advance.

(RUSSIAN OFFICIAL)
 Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
 PETROGRAD, Sept. 21.—The Russians now occupy virtually all Galicia east of the River San and have in places crossed that stream in their pursuit of the Austrians.
 The czar's forces are sweeping to the west and south of Przemysl in an endeavor to surround and capture the armies under Generals Dankl and Von Auffenberg. The latter is directing a disorganized retreat toward Cracow, but General Dankl is reported to be in a position from which he cannot extricate himself. His surrender is expected in a few days.
 The Russians have captured Dublecko, 75 miles west of Lemberg, and taken several batteries, a number of transports and arms and ammunition.
 The bombardment of Przemysl still continues, but their failure to force a capitulation of this fortress has not deterred the Russians in their advance. They have left a force to hold the city and forts in a state of siege, while the armies, reinforced by fresh troops from the north, are continuing their advance to the west.
 The German Landwehr corps, which started eastward in the south of Russian Poland to open a way of escape for the Austrians in East Prussia, has been met and defeated at Sandomir, on the Vistula.
A Forest of Fun.
 The farce comedy "Nearly Married," by Edgar Selwyn, which began a week's engagement last night at the Princess with the talented English comedian, Bruce McRae, in the cast provides a forest of fun and whole-hearted entertainment.

Germans Must Fall Back From Aisne, and Right Wing Already Has Been Driven Seven Miles—Violent Attacks and Bayonet Charges Repulsed Everywhere—French Troops Take Three Towns—Rheims Still Holds Out Against Attack—Austrian Ships Made Unsuccessful Attempt to Leave Cattaro—H.M.S. Pegasus Beached—Turkey Partly Demobilizes.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The British and French attack on the German right is succeeding, according to despatches received here today. General Von Kluk is reported to have suffered terrible losses, and to be slowly giving way before the furious attacks of the allies.
 A Paris despatch states that The Echo de Paris announces that General Von Kluk is planning a retreat to the Ardennes, where a position for another stand has been prepared. A despatch from Rome agrees with the Paris story, but states that General Von Kluk has already begun his retreat.
 These reports follow earlier ones, which indicated strongly that General Von Kluk's army was again in a serious position and in danger of being cut off from the main German line.
100,000 MEN RUSHED FROM BELGIUM.
 So serious has the position of the German right become, that it is declared 100,000 men are being rushed to its support from Belgium. The resistance of General Von Kluk's wing has been determined, but the allied forces are continuing their movements in an endeavor to outflank him. This is the ninth day of the battle of the Aisne.
 The British and French have been consistently attacking the wing held by General Von Kluk since the battle of the Aisne began, and apparently have been attempting a sort of enveloping movement, which appears to have been partly successful.
GERMAN CENTRE IS BROKEN.
 A Paris despatch states that reports are continuously being brought in regarding British-French successes against Von Kluk. The allies have been determined from the start to crush the Germans' right wing, and their continued attacks apparently have had their effect, too, on the German centre, for, according to despatches, the allies have made a substantial breach of the strong German line between Laon and Rheims.
 A Daily Chronicle despatch states that the success of the allies here threatens to divide the German forces, and is bound to have its effect on the German lines, which must fall back. The correspondent adds that the fighting is continuing desperately, and that the Germans are still holding a strong position.
200,000 TO DEFEND AISNE.
 A Paris despatch today states that a French officer back from the front told of an extended aeroplane reconnaissance, which showed that the Germans were making plans for retiring from their present positions. There was a report, the correspondent stated, that the German commanders had received orders to retire to the German frontiers, leaving 200,000 men to defend the Aisne River positions and cover the retirement.
 A despatch to The Express says that reconnaissances by aeroplanes near Soissons show that a large part of the German army is retiring with trains and heavy stores.
 Both allies and Germans are making desperate efforts to outflank each other and win a decisive advantage at the Aisne. More than 2,000,000 men are engaged and the artillery fire is terrific.
ALLIES GAIN ADVANTAGE.
 The German left has fought for days to turn the French right wing resting on Verdun. The latter point is heavily fortified, and must fall before the German force can possibly be flanked, thus giving the allies considerable advantage along the battle line as drawn at present.
 The weather continues the worst that could possibly be imagined for such a battle as is now being waged, heavy rains continue to fall, and the trenches are filled with water. The British forces have borne the brunt of the fighting in the centre, and charges to carry German trenches have been made across fields swept from end to end by rifle, machine gun and shrapnel fire.
GERMAN FORCES THWARTED.
 Advices from Bordeaux and Paris state that the German forces have been thwarted in their furious attempts to break thru the French battle line at Rheims and Craonne, and that the City of Rheims has not fallen into the Teutons' hands. The French, on the contrary, have
