Secrets of Health and Happiness

A Baby's Mind is Formed By What He Sees You Do

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG

A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins)

SOCRATES philosophized with accuracy and justice when he harped upon the theme that more unhappiness and ill-health is derived from the careless use of words than from actual realities. An instance of this is in the confusion of the words behavior and conduct. Conduct is a problem of ethics. It is strictly physiological. It is the result of the elements of the mind in the lives of children which may be put to no account, to poor account or for the child's future welfare. Often nature has endowed the little one with normal eyes, ears and a whole, sound body; its actions begin first and ever afterward speak louder than words.

Imitation is merely the practical application in a child's behavior of what he sees, hears, feels, or otherwise senses from his environs, his people and his nurse or teachers. A boy 18 months old, if strong and vigorous, will imitate almost any sound and perform by imitation—that is to say, after he has seen a simple act or gesture, he will do it. It is the high time to begin to economize and instruct the little adept in those matters which will ultimately become helpful and pleasant, instead of mere tricks and show things to amuse the elders. A child thus early, before it is 2 years of age, will imitate the "nerves," hysterics and other defective gyrations of its parents and others, to carry these mental scars and faulty habits onward thru life.

When a mother or teacher, negligent of her sterner words, no less than her exaggerated feelings, exclaims: "I was frightened to death," "my heart came up in my throat," "the goose flesh came out all over my body," "I was frozen stiff," the child of 3 or 4 who hears this not only imitates what she hears, but at once is given to the imitation of analogous equivocations. "If you wish your 2, 3 and 4-year-old youngster to be as biased, prejudiced, narrow-minded and "set" in his ideas as you are, yourself, just repeat your general dislikes in his presence, how you hate a Chinaman or some other race or religion. He will pounce upon and plant in his heart, your attitude.

BAPTISTS CANCEL GERMAN LECTURES

Will Not Allow Prof. Rauschenbusch to Fill Engagements Thru Them.

Canadian Baptists apparently have no further use for German professors. They are giving President Falconer and the governors of Toronto University an object lesson by their attitude to their most prominent German Baptist professor.

Prof. Walter Rauschenbusch has been told by The Baptist that his lecture dates in Canada have been cancelled, as his recent essay in the United States press, "Be Fair to Germany," has been read here with indignation.

Prof. Rauschenbusch has hitherto been regarded as a broad, fair-minded publicist. A member of the Baptist Theological Seminary at Rochester.

Rev. W. J. McKay, D.D., editor of The Canadian Baptist, said to The World yesterday: "Much as we esteem Prof. Rauschenbusch in his lectures and meetings on social subjects, we sincerely hope that he will not re-visit Canada under Baptist auspices until he has learned to think and express fairer thoughts of Great Britain and Canadians."

Prof. Rauschenbusch secured space in a leading Boston religious weekly for an article, entitled, "Be Fair to Germany." In it he said: "England, in its resources are fairly tapped. It is importing colonies. Her great fleet has not taken a single risk against the German ports. The whole is fighting a selfish and cowardly battle."

In view of such utterances various Baptist organizations which had engaged Prof. Rauschenbusch to lecture before this season have cancelled the dates.

GERMAN MISSIONARIES ARE IN SORRY PLIGHT

Local Authority Explains Present Situation—Practically Arrested in India.

Hundreds of German foreign missions are in a sad plight owing to the war, according to the word picture drawn yesterday by Rev. J. G. Brown, general secretary of the Canadian Foreign Mission Board, in an interview with The World.

"German missionary societies," said Secretary Brown, "represent over two million dollars a year in foreign work. They employed a missionary staff of 2200. Now that practically all of Germany's foreign possessions have fallen into the hands of the allies, hundreds of German missionaries must be practically without support, not to mention the large number in India who are practically under arrest."

CANDIDATES MUST FACE SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION

The municipal candidates will express their views on the women's suffrage question at the next meeting of the Toronto Suffrage Association. It was decided yesterday to hold the December meeting in Margaret Eaton Hall on the Wednesday after Christmas. On Wednesday, Dec. 9, a deputation from the suffrage association will meet inside the main entrance of the Eaton Hall to ascertain his views on the suffrage question. The younger members of the association are to lodge at a dance at Dr. Floyd's residence, Rosedale, on Friday, Dec. 11. The proceeds will be given to Spadina Lodge.

CITY MISSION'S GOOD WORK.

At the meeting of the Toronto City Mission Board yesterday afternoon, the Central Y.M.C.A., Rev. Each report showed that the missionaries are busy meeting the distresses prevalent at the present time. Nearly 1000 articles of clothing were given out free; 58 bags of potatoes and 36 bags of apples, besides $98.45 for groceries. Clothing is greatly in demand and will be gladly sent for on notification.

A Bride's Own Story

By ISOBEL BRANDS

LABELS—FIRST AIDS TO FINDING THINGS.

HOW I used to revel in Grandmother Baker's big, old-fashioned cello! Shelves upon shelves of jars containing preserves of every kind that any little girl could ever want—cherries, raspberries, quinces, strawberries, whole peaches and endless varieties of canned vegetables. Grandmother was the only one who could always tell exactly what was in the jar. She'd send me down for some grapefruit marmalade for breakfast, and if I accidentally—or on purpose—brought the cherry instead, we'd have to consume the cherry as well as the grapefruit, after we'd once opened the jar and discovered the mistake.

No little girl can make such delicious mistakes in the kitchen. I remember the who who walks on them, from a grown-up viewpoint. I thought, applying the scheme of labeling. You're always sure of the right jar you want, without having to use a glass, and you can always tell at a glance, without removing any jars from the shelves, just how much you have on hand of everything.

Indeed, Aunt Juliette's cello, everything in the kitchen, too. You don't have to look twice at the white-filled jar to make sure it's baking powder and not powdered sugar, nor cinnamon for cocoa, as once did a dear old lady I know. Every box and printed label, distinctly with neat and white labels, that I bought in my whole books.

And it really is the label idea which makes a kitchen a "place for everything and everything in its place." That saying used to irritate me at one time because it meant so much. Mother would decide that the hall closet was the best place for

LITTLE FOLKS HERE HELP SMALL BELGIAN KIDDIES

Children Divide Some of Their Own Good Things With Refugee Babies.

When you sat down to dinner last night—no matter how plain it was—thousands of little boys and girls in Belgium had less. So much less that it was nothing at all. More than that they were cold—and when you were tucked in your snug little sleeping place they were sleeping in corners of ruined streets, in bomb-shattered churches, in barns, under the eaves, in the fishing smacks tied up in the Scheldt because they dare not go to sea these days.

Can't you do something about it? Down at the Board of Trade Building, at 300 Market street, who has been appointed by his business, to collect dollar bills or big cheques, so as to get them into the hands of the little Belgians. Some of these little hungry people have lost mothers and fathers, and are in the hands of the State. Send it—even a copper. Not a cent less than the board of trade, in addition to its own gifts, is paying all expenses.

INSURING GOOD DIGESTION

Importance of Preventing Food Fermentation in Stomach.

Good digestion usually means good health. So long as the stomach does its work properly, disease and no lodging in the human system; the liver, kidneys and intestines will perform their work perfectly and maintain in perfect health; but permit anything to interfere with the proper digestion of food, an untimely train of trouble is set in motion. About the only thing that will upset the stomach and interfere with digestion is an excess of acid, usually caused by food fermentation. Food fermentation is due to chemical action in the food itself. This fermentation causes the formation of gas, or wind, as well as acid, leading to the unnatural distention of the stomach and the burning of the acid of the delicate lining of the stomach.

Medicine and tonics cannot relieve this condition—they usually make it worse. The fermentation and acid are to blame and these must be overcome and prevented by taking after meals a teaspoonful of blauded magnesia in a little hot or cold water. Physicians recommend blauded magnesia especially because it stops and prevents fermentation of food and neutralizes the acid instantly, making it blood and harmless, without irritating the stomach in any way. Get a little blauded magnesia from your food merchant and try it the next time your food ferments and upsets your stomach. Note how quickly the acid is neutralized and how soon you forget that you have such a thing as a stomach.

FATHER O'DONNELL CLEAR OF BLAME FOR LOTTERY

Police Court Censures Those Who Issued Permit Instead.

Rev. Thomas O'Donnell appeared in the police court yesterday on a charge of conducting a lottery, or raffle, in St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, delegates, Bros. Sanders, Barker, Baker and Heywood, hospital board delegates, Bro. W. White, trustees, W. Dawe, P.P., and J. H. Heydon, P.P.

He said the permit issued by Acting Mayor O'Neill on the authority of the Crown Attorney, Greer should have been given to him. He believed that Rev. Mr. O'Donnell had secured the court, that he had taken the only course he considered necessary when he heard the raffle was illegal, and applied to the mayor's office for a permit. Had he ascertained afterwards that the permit was not sufficient to protect himself, he certainly would not have allowed the raffle to proceed.

"It is not fair," said Col. Denison, "that a respectable citizen and a clergyman of the church should be placed in difficulty because of the mistakes of others. That permit is the most remarkable document I have ever seen and should not have been given."

"It should be made known," said the crown attorney, "that lotteries of this kind cannot be permitted by any one. Only one man in the dominions is immune from prosecution and that is the King."

"I think that Mr. Greer and Controller O'Neill should be made to appear before the grand jury," he added, humorously.

PHAROAH, LIKE KAISER, WAS JUST A "BIG NOISE"

Ven. Archdeacon Cody at War Prayer Service, Calls for More Faith.

Pharaoh is described in the Old Testament as "a great noise," said Ven. Archdeacon Cody at the war prayer service yesterday afternoon. "There has been more than one 'great noise' since that day. No matter how great may be the military monster, the great noise will pass away, but the word of the prophet will remain."

Yesterday's service was attended by hundreds of the most prominent and representative church workers of the city. It was held at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, between 5 and 6 o'clock. Harry Ryrie presided.

"There had never before," said Ven. Archdeacon Cody, "been such a need for faith as at this period. The apostle's exhortation above all take up the shield of faith whereby ye shall be able to quench the darts of the evil one," was pre-eminently timely now. There was always the danger of yielding to the temptation to believe that God was always on the side of the strongest battalions."

Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, led in a short series of brief prayers.

GAVE LECTURE ON PARIS.

Ven. Archdeacon Davidson of Guelph delivered an address on "A Walk Thru Paris," illustrated by beautiful lantern slides, in the parish hall of the Church of the Epiphany last night. Mawson, The Parkdale Rifle Club, headed by its bugle band and the St. Ann's Men's Association, headed by the Fredrick Victor Mission Band, marched to the hall.

Hundreds were unable to gain admittance to convocation hall when Prof. Wrong lectured there.
