"Fifth—Journalists should be permitted to attend the formal session of the conference.

"Sixth—It is recommended that there be abolition of the censorship in allied countries.

"No Censorship Over News. The semi-official Temps, reverting to the question of publicity of the workings of the peace conference, says the French censor is exercising no control over news destined to the allied or associated countries.

"Certain despatches sent from Paris to American newspapers," it remarks, "insinuate that the French Government exercises control over all news relative to the conference, and 'over all means of communication with other countries. These allegations are erroneous. Censorship is not exercised over news destined for allied or associated countries. The French press can render a service to the common cause by denouncing to our friends across the Atlantic the malevolent rumors which it is attempted to alter the truth."

Some years ago the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co. of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of Ontario for the best letters describing cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition, and yet there must have been thousands of other users of the pills who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize.

To all these another letter writing competition is offered, this time for cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never been reported. These will furnish the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination; every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

THE PRIZES: The Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co. of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 30th day of February, 1919, from residents of Ontario, on the subject: "Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and ten prizes of $2.00 each for the next best ten letters.

THE CONDITIONS. The cure or benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills described in the letter may be in the writer's own case, or one that has come under his or her personal observation.

More than one cure may be described in the letter, but every statement must be literally and absolutely true.

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statement made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to recommend and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award.

It is understood that the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest if they desire to do so, whether it wins a prize or not.

The contest will close on February 28th, 1919, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

Address all letters as follows: The Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., Brockville, Ont., Letter Contest Department.

Rumania: M. Bratianu, prime minister and M. Mistr.

Czecho-Slovakia: Dr. Karf Kramarz, premier, and M. Benes, foreign minister.

Poland: M. Mmowski, Polish representative to the allied governments, and a second delegate representing Poland.

China: Lu Cheng Hsiang, foreign minister, and one other.

Canada: Sir Robert L. Borden, premier; Sir George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce; with others of the delegation alternating.

Australia: William Morris Hughes, premier, and one other.

South Africa: Gen. Louis Botha and Gen. Jan. C. Smuts.

India: The Maharajah of Bikaner and Sir S. P. Sinha.

New Zealand: Wm. F. Massey, premier.

Portugal: Ejas Moniz.

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 17.—Thirty-six Canadian war veterans who crossed the Atlantic to attend the peace conference, arrived here today and were accorded a very enthusiastic welcome.

It is stated the Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara war veterans are trying to secure an order of expropriation, to take over part of the mountain face, which, it claims, is necessary for the development of the Kinross Yard. Mr. Justice Riddell has granted a one month's stay in the proceedings.

The Daughters of the Empire held an elaborate ball at the Royal Connaught tonight. Hundreds of people attended.

The G.W.V.A. will hold a tag day on Feb. 1, to raise $20,000 with which to purchase 1200 acres and subdivide the property into twelve-acre "intensive" farms.

At the inquest regarding the death of John Bottin, 41 Gregg street, who was found floating with a revolver, shot himself in the head, a verdict of "accidental death" was brought in.

M'KINLEY LODGE HOLD BANQUET

Orangemen Cheer Controller Cameron's Denunciation of Bolshevists.

"The war is now over in France, we still have to do with the Bolsheviki before us at home," declared Controller R. H. Cameron at McKinley Lodge, L. O. L., 271, which held its annual banquet in Victoria Hall last night, with an attendance of over 300, of which were 190 members from the Orange Lodges of Guelph.

This statement was received with uproarious applause by the Controller Cameron, who was but initiated at last night's meeting of the lodge. He regretted, he said, that he had not joined the Orange Order before, but he did not want it said that he had used the order to push himself into public office.

Bolshevism, the speaker said, would tear down everything that the allies had fought for. It was a menace, which became stronger, the more it was tolerated with.

Ex-Grand Master Oliver extended a hearty greeting to the Guelph visitors.

Ald. Russell Nesbitt also told of the past and present of Toronto, McKinley Lodge, he said, was known as the Mayor's lodge, and it might again enjoy that honor in the person of Controller Cameron.

Ald. Don McGregor, who was called on to speak, saw several selections instead. Among those who sat at the head of the table were: E. L. Dyer, who presided; A. Clittall, T. Smith, Joseph Oiler, Fred. R. Cameron, J. D. Bailey, Wm. Stein and ex-Ald. Garnet Archibald.

Returned officers of the various overseas battalions raised by the 9th and 10th Mississauga Horse of Toronto were the guests of Lieut.-Col. Herbert C. Cox, honorary colonel of the regiment, at the Ontario Club last night. Following a sumptuous dinner, the remainder of the evening was devoted to speech and song. Hon. Dr. H. J. Cody paid the eloquent tribute to the valor of the Canadian corps and the men of the various battalions recruited thru the Mississauga Horse. The Canadian corps, he declared, was one of the greatest fighting forces in the long course of human history.

Col. John H. Moss, officer commanding the regiment, outlined the military records of the various battalions raised thru the unit. Officers had gone from the regiment to practically every branch of the service, and two of the number were the first to open the portals of the Royal Naval Reserve to Canadians.

Col. Moss hoped that an active organization would be set going and a center established where the officers and men associated with the 9th Mississauga Horse could find a home. "We should almost at once open an office or rooms in this city and secure the services of a returned officer able to devote his time to getting the proposition on a going basis.

Dr. Cody endorsed the proposal as a means of preserving the traditions of the fighting members of the unit. He referred especially to the 75th Battalion.

Quoting from a recent letter from Sir Arthur Currie he stated that in the period from Aug. 8 until Nov. 11 of the past year the Canadian corps had fought and beaten 57 German divisions, or about one-quarter of all German divisions on the western front. There was no "returned soldier" problem," he said. "They would take an active part in the political and moral life of the country and would endeavor to make a better Canada for the future than existed in 1914." "Play the Game" should be the motto of Canadians in the future.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

RIVERDALE

Under the auspices of St. Joseph's Catholic Literary Society, an interesting competition in essay writing was held last evening at the club rooms, Curzon street. Miss May McGraw, president, occupied the chair.

The subjects were taken from Rev. Hugh Benson's works, "By What Am I Born?" and "Come Back, Come Home." The winners were Miss Howorth, first prize, and Stella Bellanger, second prize. A prize was also awarded to Miss Brown for the best essay on "The art of letter writing both business and social."

A musical program was contributed by Elsie Varley, Gertrude Howorth and Kathleen Pearson. There was a large attendance.

Rev. Dr. Arthur O'Leary, rector of St. Joseph's Church, 139, presided, and is at present in the United States on business connected with the archdiocese.

Rev. Dr. McBride, of St. Augustine's Seminary, is officiating in the absence of the rector at St. Joseph's Church.

The pupils of the Riverdale playground literary class, Morley avenue, under the instructions of W. H. Hodgson, supervising teacher, gave a very successful performance in the Morse code.

The class numbers 29 students in the present time. In the gymnasium class the members number nearly 90 boys.

Mrs. Wallace, secretary Broadview Boys' Y.M.C.A. Ladies' Auxiliary, recently left for Winnipeg owing to the death of her sister in that city.

The Rev. E. Lancelotti, pastor of Central Church will open the $1,000.00 campaign in connection with the Toronto Methodist body at Simpson Avenue Church tomorrow morning. The objective of the Simpson Avenue parish is $5000.

The opening of the Eastern District Methodist Training School took place last evening at Simpson Avenue Methodist Church, with a large attendance. Under the supervision of the Rev. J. E. Patterson, pastor of the church, were delivered by Rev. A. P. Addison and Rev. W. V. Hillis. A social evening was afterwards spent and refreshments served.

In connection with St. Matthew's Anglican Church, First Avenue, of which Rev. Dr. Seager is rector, the matter of the erection of a large bell tower, which would be a memorial to the men fallen in battle in a number—will shortly come before the vestry.

BEACHES

In connection with the new Bellefair Methodist Church, the first floor of which is now completed, it has been decided to place a temporary roof over the building and use it as a Sunday school room and as a gymnasium and club. The amount expended to date is about $35,000.

The seating capacity for Sunday school purposes is about 1000. The new building will be used for religious services. Rev. G. R. Turk is pastor.

DANFORTH

The new St. Barnabas Anglican Sunday school building, corner of Danforth and Hampton avenues, now in course of erection, is rapidly nearing completion, and it is expected will be opened in about a month's time.

Rev. E. Powell is rector of the church.

The large theatre now in course of erection on Danforth avenue, near Broadview, for J. J. Allen, is making good headway, the open part being finished, and the work will be pushed thru to completion.

Considerable dissatisfaction is felt among the residents of the Pope avenue district, owing to the new schedule of the Danforth avenue civic cars during rush hours.

Many passengers state that a wait of 10 and 15 minutes is a common occurrence on mornings and evenings, and many are of the opinion that the cars should be sent to the stopping point at Pope avenue to the inconvenience of about 100 passengers, many of whom are women and children.

According to the statements of the real estate brokers in the eastern district the present demand for stores on Danforth avenue is unprecedented.

TODMORDEN

Don Mills Methodist Church will be in the hands of Messrs. Lye & Son, organ builders, next week, when the organ will be installed.

EARLSCOURT

GENERAL GUNN SPEAKS TO SOLDIERS' CHILDREN

The second and last night of the Earlscourt G.W.V.A. Christmas tree festivity was a larger affair than the first, as fully 1500 children of soldiers and relatives were present in the thousands of gifts presented by thoughtful and kind people to the happy little ones, who crowded the Belmont Assembly Hall, until a late hour on Friday night.

Alexander MacGregor, president of the Earlscourt Fall Fair, 1918, presided, and on the platform were his worship the mayor, Brig.-General John T. Gunn, O.C., No. 1 District; Secretary G. T. Lacey; Sgt.-Major James Stockley and officers of the G.W.V.A.

Alexander MacGregor congratulated the veterans on the splendid success of the Christmas tree, and promised to come again next year.

On one Mayor, Brig.-General Gunn said he was glad to come to Earlscourt and to say a few words to the soldiers' children. He had four boys overseas, so that he had one of the class trying to get into the present time. "Anything that I can do for Earlscourt soldier boys I will gladly do."

Alexander MacGregor spoke to the children of the brave soldier father, Brother Steele, who was killed in the war, and grew up to remember always the deeds of a Canadian, and how they had astonished the world by their military example.

Mrs. Bowler was in charge of the musical arrangements, and accompanied the children in singing patriotic songs.

entering the city on account of the suspension of the radial service. This fact only emphasized the changed situation, which has led to the decision for the resumption of the bylaws, and Sir Adam pointed out that a bylaw can be reinitiated in three weeks, while a new bylaw requires three months' notice. In any case, if the bylaws are carried, they can be validated by the legislature.

Can Act At Once. If the sanction of the municipalities be given and the railway board agrees, the Hydro-Electric Commission could at once take over the Hamilton Radial system and give a public service.

Sir Adam said that the great need at present was employment for returned men. The "navy" work of the Welland Canal was not sufficient. Skilled labor was looking for work, and the building of the Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara radial line by the commission would furnish such employment.

Should the bylaws be carried and the Hamilton radials be taken over, the commission would operate the Hamilton civic system, but would build an independent line from Niagara, probably using the Canadian Northern entrance formerly in dispute, but which could now be acquired from the government which owns the Canadian Northern property.

Shortening the Route. By using their own surveyed line, a reduction from seven to 11 miles could be made in the present route from Saltfleet to Hamilton. Construction would be started from both ends of the line, both at Toronto and Niagara, and the line to Oakville would be incorporated in the road.

The members of the deputation appeared to be sanguine about the passing of the bylaws on resubmission. Sir Adam Beck left at 6.30 for Burlington to attend the meeting to be held there last night.

SIR ADAM ADDRESSES BURLINGTON COUNCIL

Hamilton, Jan. 17.—Burlington still stands firm against the corporation. Despite the strong efforts made by the anti-radial members of the council, at a special meeting tonight to railroad the Hamilton entrance formerly in dispute, Sir Adam Beck left at 6.30 for Burlington to attend the meeting to be held there last night.

When the meeting first opened, the council was notified that Sir Adam Beck would be present, so Councillor Leach, manager of the branch of the Dominion Canners, moved that the question of the Hydro be gone into immediately, in order to stall off any chance of their plan of capitulating to the corporation being frustrated.

Reeve Cleaver objected, however, and immediately moved that the council defer until Sir Adam and C. Kilmer, K.C. of Toronto, reached the scene of battle.

Proposed Arrangement. Sir Adam requested Mayor Peart to state what the opinion of Burlington was in the matter of the intended entering into an agreement with the company. In return the anti-radial mayor stated they had an arrangement with the company whereby the service would be resumed at increased rates of 25, 35 and 45 cents.

The remarks of Sir Adam were greeted with applause, and the Hydro was taken out of the sails of the anti-radials when Mr. Kilmer took the floor. He stated that the council of Burlington had not jurisdiction to pass any such agreement or resolution with the company, or enter into any compromise, and that if they did so, any citizen could ride on the radial at the old rates until special legislation was passed amending the present conditions.

At this stage of the game the meeting got real warm, and a number of the residents made short speeches, in which they expressed the opinion that Burlington should stand by the Hydro and refuse to have the bylaw with the corporation broken. Reeve Cleaver also got busy again, and submitted a resolution to the effect that no compromise be entered into with the company until the entire matter had been submitted by the ratemakers, that confidence be expressed in the Hydro, and that any proposition of the radial be submitted thru the Hydro commission.

Crowd Objected. For some reason or other, Mayor Peart declared this resolution out of order, and amid the hisses of the gathering, adjourned until Saturday at 10.30.

Asked why the adjournment was made until such inconvenient time, The World was informed that it was to permit the anti-radials to railroad the agreement thru with the company.
