THE WISE MAN buys stocks when they are cheap. We notice a large proportion of car buyers at present are paying cash for their cars. They are the careful conservative class, taking advantage of the low prices in used cars. The prices of new cars have steadily advanced, and on account of high labor costs many new dealers expect further advances, as there is still a shortage of new cars.

WE HAVE a large assortment of high-grade cars which we bought this fall and put in good mechanical condition and repainted.
