JOHNNY SCHIFF COMES TO CANADA TO ENLIST

Famous Featherweight to Join Aviation Corps as a Mechanic.

The Chicago Evening Post says: "A part of the 148th Overseas Battalion, C.E.F., known as 'Kitchener's Own,' doesn't sound much like Johnny Schiff, California's premier featherweight. Yet they are the same man. The sergeant was a pleasant caller a couple of days ago, being on his way to Canada for a ring battle, and what he discussed far more important, with a view of enlisting as a mechanical helper in the Aviation Corps of Canada. He bears on his person an honorable discharge from the 148th Battalion, with which he was connected for some time on recruiting duty. He came aboard with the men and was at the base in France, but never saw service in the trenches.

"I am no longer an American, having taken an oath of allegiance in Canada," he said. "My ring career under the name of Johnny Schiff, began in California. I have fought in 125 battles and have never taken the count.

"Among those I have met in real scraps and in exhibitions, are Mike Gibbons, Andy Cortez, Ted Lewis, Johnny Dunne, Fanny Kitcher, and Brooks. Steve Ketchel, Kid Herman, whom I knocked out in three rounds at Quebec—Young McCoy, and Preston Brown.

"I went to Australia with Jimmy Chabby and Eddie McGoorty and fought many times over there. I also have boxed all over the Canadian Northwest, in Egypt, France, England and Cuba.

"For seven weeks I toured with Jack Johnson's company in England for the benefit of the Belgian Red Cross. I appeared in a comedy show with Johnson—comedy, because he is a giant heavyweight, and I am only a feather.

"I wouldn't take anything for my experience with the 148th Overseas Battalion," said Schiff, or rather Sgt. Newman. "I gained forty recruits while I was in the service. Guess the fever must still be with me, because I want to get back. The Aviation Corps appeals to me most now.

"While I was in the battalion I held a boxing class and many pupils. I also gave a bulldog to the boys as a mascot, and they have him in the trenches with them now."

SPRINGWOOD GUN CLUB

The Springwood Gun Club will hold a shoot Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp. A cordial invitation is extended to all trap shooters and their friends to be present. Suitable prizes will be given the winners.

The Thistle Club will hold another euchre party tonight. All members are requested to be on hand sharp at 8 o'clock at the clubrooms.

SINGS BEFORE FIGHT

St. Paul comes to bat with a novelty in the fight game. It is a singing pug by the name of Kid Thomas. It is said that he takes more pride in his warbling than in his boxing, and always sings before he fights. Probably he remembers: "Music, hath powers to soothe the savage."

FINE TRIBUTE TO GOLF

It is an odd fact that 45 of the 41 national amateur and nation-wide golf champions of United States, open won their titles since the tourneys were started in 1895, are still hale, whole and hearty.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE BRANTFORD'S HOPE

BRANTFORD, May 3.—Baseball enthusiasts in the city are making an effort to secure baseball here this summer and a semi-professional league is being mooted. The amateurs who had a good league last summer, are planning for a Saturday day meeting is scheduled for Saturday, the 10th and holiday games. The four towns being considered for the league are Brantford, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Dunkirk, N.Y. However, even if the league does not materialize, holiday games are to be played. There are said to be enough semi-professional ball players working in munition factories here to make a first-class team, and the only necessity would be a good pitcher. Del Orecuti, the best third baseman Brantford ever had in the Canadian League, is here.

ENLIST IN C. D. F.
ST. THOMAS, May 3.—Russell Edward Leach, St. Thomas; Wilbert Fraser, Highgate, and Bruce Claypole, St. Thomas, enlisted today with the 25th Regiment, and Leonard T. Welch of Dutton for the C. D. F.

BOSTON TAR BABY TOOK LESSONS FROM WALCOTT

Brother of Barbados Wonder Gains Bossom Pal.

Those who have marvelled at the ringcraft of Sam Langford may be interested in the career of a negro, gives credit for his prowess to the other sterling negro fighter, Joe Walcott. The colored boxer in those days learned the game thoroughly, says Langford. "He had to hold his own. That is why most of the negro pugilists were clever. I never forgot those second-hand lessons from Walcott."

Incidentally, it was a desire to get even with a certain white boy, Danny Duane, who never was a topnotcher, in 1903 Duane and Langford engaged in a battle of blows, which left him in a daze. Langford never had an opportunity to fight Duane again, but the things he learned in preparation for the fight—never-forgotten, second meeting were passed on via his fists to others who faced him.

JUST DOPELETS

Whit Lancaster, proprietor of the weather bank, is the only one of the universe. The continued cold weather has stirred up hopes that there will be a change in the weather. What is the Union Jack flying from the rink flagpole, denoting "sitting tonight." Montreal, Quebec, and the blossoms will soon be out.

The kid pitchers from the bushes may be causing veteran batters some trouble, but the vets can point with pride to Jack Coombs, who has been hitting over the Giants. Jawns has a few strikeouts in his arm yet.

Benny Kauff is still poking the pill. He batted at Montreal yesterday against veteran Jack Coombs.

Our own Oskee Neale, playing centre field for Mathewson's Reds, was right on the job Thursday. It was not his fault that the Cubs won. Neale got three hits out of five times to the plate, one of them being a two-bagger. He also got a run and made four putouts.

Jennings' Tigers are still dodging raindrops at St. Louis. It rained so hard Thursday that there is little prospect of today's game being pulled off.

The Philly club will be sorry to speed the parting guests, said guests being the Boston Braves. The team's season crew dropped three in a row to the Quakers.

Although Speaker was out of the game Thursday for Cleveland, the Indians managed to stage a rally and trim the White Sox. Glad Graney, the St. Thomas boy, batted splendidly with the stick. He hit the pill safely three times out of four.

Cicotte, of no-hit, no-run fame, tried to stop the Indians with the bases full, but he failed. He was hit by a pass to Chapman and sent Evans in with the winning run.

If the "Y" Juniors can stow away food like they can play basketball, the caterer to the next banquet will be right in honor of the kids will be forced into liquidation.

There should be a real food scarcity tonight shortly after 8 o'clock. Just wait till those 250 church and hexathlon athletes get through their banquet at the "Y." It won't be the tables that are groaning.

KID TERRY TURNER IS GRAND OLD MAN

Terence Still Some Cavorter After 18 Years in Baseball.

"Terry Turner is just as lively as ever. He is playing great ball."

This was the tribute paid to the veteran infielder of the Cleveland Indians by Manager Lee Fohl as the American League season opened.

Fohl's bit of praise for Terry Turner indicates that the wiry little blonde is still standing off Old Man Time, holding his bomb-proof in baseball's trenches, where he had been fighting for his livelihood since 1899, when he broke into the pastime as a member of the Greenville club of the old Central League.

This is Terry Turner's eighteenth year in baseball, and his thirteenth consecutive year in the major leagues. In all these years that Terry has been holding forth in the majors he has graced a Cleveland uniform, his first taste of big league experience being gained with the Pittsburgh club in 1901, when he got into only two games.

His Early Life.
After going up to Pittsburgh Turner was traded to Columbus and he played with the Buckeyes team for two seasons. In 1903 he was traded to Cleveland by Columbus for two players and a cash consideration, and he has stuck with the Forest City aggregation ever since.

Turner has never been a terrific hitter in the major leagues, and he averaged around .225 consistently, when he batted the apple for an average of .308. But he is a batter who averages around .225 consistently, when he batted the apple for an average of .308. But he is a batter who averages around .225 consistently, when he batted the apple for an average of .308.

Turner is consistent. His hitting is timely, as a rule, and the good old wing is still in shape, according to reports on him this year.

Fears One Pitcher.
Terry says he fears but one pitcher in major league ball, and that is F. H. Johnson, the great Walter Johnson. Johnson is the only pitcher who has ever excited Turner with his speed, with the possible exception of "Smoky Joe" Wood, and Joe is now a teammate of Terry's.

Johnson can make most of 'em hurt the bucket," says Terry, "and there's no use of an old-timer taking too many chances of getting 'beamed out' of the league."

Here's a veteran for you, and one who gets less credit than the average player who has been in fast company so long.

DAN SHAY IN TROUBLE.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 3.—Dan Shay of Kansas City, manager of the Milwaukee American Association baseball team, and known to baseball fans all over the country, shot and fatally wounded Clarence Ewell, a negro waiter, in a hotel here tonight in an argument over a sugar bowl. The colored man was taken to a hospital, where he died a short time later. Shay was arrested, and the police are seeking a woman who is said to have been with Shay at the time of the shooting.

CENTRE FIELDER MAKES ERROR ON FOUL BALL

Fielder Jones Says He Was the Goat.

Here's another one for the book. Fielder Jones tells it and he was the "goat," or rather the defeated pitcher tried to make him occupy that role. He was playing centre field for Brooklyn this particular day and his club was ahead in the ninth inning, when a dead left-field batter came to bat for the opponents. Jones swung over into deep left and Joe Kelley, the left guard, went in fairly close to take care of a line hit. Keeler, the right fielder, swung around to take care of a line hit. Jones had been uncertain as to who would handle the ball, and was afraid that he might bump Joe. The result was that he dropped the ball. Then the batter got a base hit and some more of the same followed, with the result that Brooklyn was locked. It probably was the only case on record wherein a centre fielder committed an error on a foul ball and thus opened the way for a batting rally.

CRICKETERS READY

BRANTFORD, May 3.—In spite of the fact that several of the best players are now overseas, the Brantford Cricket Club held a large and enthusiastic meeting last evening, and prospects are good for the present season. Two or three returned soldiers who were formerly members, will be out again this season. The secretary will arrange for matches with Toronto and Hamilton.

The officers elected for the coming season are: President, George Whitwell; vice-president, William T. Cuyler; hon. president, H. Phillips; secretary-treasurer, P. Farnsworth; captain, Chas. Smith.
