BURNED THE CHURCH.

Garrison Church Probably Fired

BERLIN, April 16 .- The keenest re gret is felt by all classes at the loss by fire last night of the historical Gar rison Church, with standards won by the blood of Prussians from the time of Frederick the Great onward. Berliners have further cause for bitterness in the almost absolute knowledge that the conflagration, which completely gutted the building, is no accident, but probably another of the series of incendiary fires which already have been drawn attention to, only more daring, hundreds of others having been recorded lately, which the police appear to be unable to check. It is supposed the fire was laid in the organ, which is a famous old one. It was full of flames when the doors were opened. Fire also broke out in two others places high up. It is quite pos-the same as all the other acts of incendiarism of late have been.

No less than 14 field marshals general and 50 generals are buried in the vaults of the church. The Crown Prince and Princess visited the ruins
