WEDDING NOTICES

CURRIE-CLARRY.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. Clarry in Lonsdale-road, was the scene of a wedding at half past two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, when the marriage was solemnized of their daughter, Bithel Gertrude, to Mr. William R. Currie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Clarry, Cavan Methodist Church, in the presence of the bride, in the drawing-room, which was decorated with palms and wreathing. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin with French lace overdress. Her veil, which was of tulle, was caught with a pearl bandeau and she carried a shower of roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom's gift was a pendant of pearls and emeralds.

Miss Hilda Bovier was the bridesmaid, in orchid crepe de chene and silver and mob cap of silver and pearls and carried violets. Mr. Stanley Currie, brother of the groom, was the best man.

Mrs. Clarry held a reception after the ceremony, wearing satin veiled with chiffon and carrying violets.

Later in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Currie left for Detroit, the bride traveling in a grey cloth tailor-made, with grey hat and mink fur.

WILSON-SMITH.

The marriage of Miss Lilyan Inglis Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith, Kincardine, and grand-daughter of the late Hon. Sir Henry Smith, K. B., to Mr. Archibald Edward Wilson of Calgary was solemnized on Wednesday last in the Church of the Messiah, Kincardine. Rev. H. A. Wright officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin, with tulle of silk net embroidered with lace and carried roses and lily-of-the-valley. Miss Hilda Smith attended her sister as bridesmaid, and wore pale pink satin with white lace and carried roses. The groom's gift was a pendant of pearls and emeralds.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Toronto, was the brother's best man, and Mr. C. V. Vanstone and Mr. A. H. F. Smith acted as ushers. Mr. Arthur Wright, Toronto, sang "Love's Coronation," and Miss Louise Miller played the Wedding March. After the ceremony a reception was held at the house of the bride's parents, the table being decorated with red roses, holly and tulle. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for Calgary, where they will reside. The bride traveled in a grey costume with black fox fur and purple hat.

WOOLLEY-OLDWRIGHT.

The Rosedale Presbyterian Church was the scene of a wedding last week when the marriage was solemnized of Miss Winifred Oldright of Carlton-street and Mr. Leonard Woolley, son of Mrs. C. E. Woolley. The ceremony, assisted by the Rev. T. Bradley Hyde, Mr. Gutzeit presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Mr. Van Zant sang "Beloved It is Morn." The bride was given away by her father, and wore a gown of white satin veiled in chintilly lace outlined in pearls, tulle veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower of white roses and lily-of-the-valley. She wore for ornaments a necklace of pearls with a pendant and clasp given by the groom. The bridesmaid was Miss Josephine Oldright and Miss Gladys Woolley, who wore gold-shaded veils in tulle and carried bouquets of yellow roses and mimosa. They wore also pearl and peridot earrings, the gifts of the groom. The best man was Mr. H. G. Woolley, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Laurence Whittemore, Mr. Cecil Peterson, Mr. Stanley Woolley and Mr. Harold Woolley. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mrs. Oldright receiving her friends in a handsome gown of mauve satin veiled in marquiset of the same shade. Mrs. Woolley also received, wearing a dress of black brocade with silk and cream lace. On the morning of the wedding Mrs. Woolley left for the Southern States, the going-away dress being of deep plum velvet, and black fur toque, with mink and stole to correspond.

MOODY-MARTER.

A wedding took place on Monday at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. C. Marter, 25 Wright-ave. Parkdale, when her only daughter, Hazel Jean was united in marriage to Mr. D. G. and Mrs. Moody, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. The bride's uncle, Rev. Dr. Manning, London, Ont., performed the ceremony. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Edith Moody, sister of the groom, the bride was brought in and given away by her brother, Mr. Fred Marter. Her gown was of ivory ecru trimmed with heavy silk embroidery and fringe, on the end of the long train was a true lover's knot. She also wore a veil of Brussels net and a crown of orange blossom, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lily-of-the-valley. The only jewelry the bride wore was a gold bracelet.

MRS. WILLIAM B. LEEDS.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Mrs. William B. Leeds has chartered the steam yacht "Semiramis" from Lord Anglessey for a prolonged trip thru the waters of the Far East. Mrs. Leeds will be accompanied by the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, Lady Sarah Wilson and a few more friends. The party will board the "Semiramis" at Naples, from where they will sail Jan. 16 for India.

ROBINSON-ROSE.

On Tuesday evening the marriage of Miss Sine Gertrude Rose, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Alexander Rose, to Mr. Francis Asbury Robinson, Boston, Mass., took place in the Queen's Hotel, the Rev. W. A. Cameron officiating, and Mrs. Jas. Lawrie, London, Eng., playing the wedding music. The bride was given away by her father, and wore Egyptian cloth of silver veiled Duchess satin. The maid-of-honor was Miss Irene Coughlan, Detroit, who wore white satin veiled with Duchess lace. Mr. Willard Robinson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. After the ceremony dinner was served to a number of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Asbury Robinson left for the south, the bride wearing Scotch tweed trimmed with Bordeaux, white beaver hat and ermine. An informal dance was afterwards held for the out-of-town guests.

BRECKON-HETHERINGTON.

The house of Mrs. John Hetherington, 23 St. George-street, was the scene of a wedding on Saturday last at 2 o'clock, when her younger daughter, Edith Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Hopkins Breckon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Allen, Brantford, and the bride was given away by her father. The bride looked charming in a gown of white duchesse satin with crystal and pearl trimmings, veil with orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister, Elsie, who wore a pretty gown of blue and white, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Little Catherine Keiser acted as ring-bearer, and was wearing a dainty white frock. The groom was assisted by Mr. J. H. Pittie, and Mr. John D. Gibson played the piano. The bride's mother received her friends in a black silk and jet gown. The newly-married couple left on the evening New York express for a short wedding trip before returning to Toronto. The bride, traveling in a dress of blue and white, with white beaver hat trimmed to match.

Madame Gendron of Hull was the hostess of one of the many pleasant holiday dances, given in honor of her son, Cadet Fernie Gendron, who is spending the holidays at home. All the young people of the Capital participated in this charming gathering.

The most perfectly arranged wedding ever witnessed in St. Thomas Church, took place there on Wednesday afternoon, when Jessie Adeline (Patti), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Warren, Toronto, became the wife of Mr. Carroll Kenyon Warmoth, son of the Hon. Henry C. Warmoth, and Mrs. Warmoth of New Orleans. The church was decorated with wreathing of green and crimson and the chancel was a mass of Madonna lilies, the same flowers with poinsettias being arranged on the altar, and the guests' pews marked by huge bows of white tulle. The Rev. Ensor Sharpe performed the ceremony, and Mr. Tattersall played the wedding march and the Barcarolle from Tasse of Hoffmann during the signing of the register. The lovely bride, who is one of the best-looking girls in Toronto, both for her beauty and her sweet disposition, never looked more exquisite than in her wedding gown. She was given away by her father, and the dress was a wonderful creation of soft white satin, silver tissue and real lace, studded with pearls and ornamented with myrtle and orange blossoms, a horseshoe of pearls with a large bow of white tulle being at the hem of the long train of silver tissue, which was caught at the shoulders by diamond butterflies; the silk tulle veil was hemmed with pearls and arranged over the face with a small wreath of myrtle and orange blossoms and caught at the back with a real lace bow. Instead of a bouquet she carried an ivory prayer-book with silver initials and a real lace handkerchief, the gift of Mrs. Douglas Warren. Her ornaments were enamel and pearl bracelet, watch, the gift of her mother, and the groom's gift, a rope of pearls. The best man, Sydney Band, and the ushers, Mr. Douglas Warren, Mr. Melville Gooderham and Dr. Alex. Mackenzie, received silver engraved cigarette boxes from the groom, and the bride gave real lace handkerchiefs to the maid of honor and bridesmaid; the flower girl receiving a gold bracelet, set with a diamond and sapphire. The bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Somerville, and maid of honor, Miss Adele Aust, wore satin of the same shade, trimmed with gold lace, gold slippers and black plumed hats. Their bouquets were large bunches of marguerites, tied with gold ribbons; the pretty little flower girl, Miss Frances Warren, who was in a white frock with large sash of white tulle and bandeau and bow of the same round her hair, walked before the bride and strewed the aisle with rose leaves from a gold basket wreathed with marguerites. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Prince George hotel, where the large reception room, with its flowered chintzes and huge mirrors, was beautifully decorated with tall American beauties and Easter lilies, the lilies of which so being used on the bride's table, Mrs. Warren was centred with the cake. Mrs. Warren, who looked as young and pretty as her daughter, was in a very smart gown of pale blue chiffon velvet with gown of pale blue chiffon lace, diamond ornaments, bands of sable, and bouquet of pale green orchids, her hat was of gold tissue veiled with black lace and caught at the side with a black ostrich and two large pink velvet came-lions. The health of the bride was proposed by Canon McNab, and the groom and best man also made short speeches, after which the bride changed her wedding gown, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren left for New York to the strains of "Just One Girl," played by an excellent orchestra, which was in attendance all afternoon. The traveling gown was of violet satin tailor-made and large black hat with a white veil, and a becoming dress of royal blue velvet with white lace and gold, black plumed hat and lynx fur; Miss Crean, wearing peacock nunon over cloth of gold and a black hat; Miss E. N. Crean in crimson and black pointed nunon with picture hat; Mrs. Gordon Crean, wearing pale pink with ermine and black plumed hat. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Prince George hotel, where the large reception room, with its flowered chintzes and huge mirrors, was beautifully decorated with tall American beauties and Easter lilies, the lilies of which so being used on the bride's table, Mrs. Warren was centred with the cake. Mrs. Warren, who looked as young and pretty as her daughter, was in a very smart gown of pale blue chiffon velvet with gown of pale blue chiffon lace, diamond ornaments, bands of sable, and bouquet of pale green orchids, her hat was of gold tissue veiled with black lace and caught at the side with a black ostrich and two large pink velvet came-lions. The health of the bride was proposed by Canon McNab, and the groom and best man also made short speeches, after which the bride changed her wedding gown, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren left for New York to the strains of "Just One Girl," played by an excellent orchestra, which was in attendance all afternoon. The traveling gown was of violet satin tailor-made and large black hat with a white veil, and a becoming dress of royal blue velvet with white lace and gold, black plumed hat and lynx fur; Miss Crean, wearing peacock nunon over cloth of gold and a black hat; Miss E. N. Crean in crimson and black pointed nunon with picture hat; Mrs. Gordon Crean, wearing pale pink with ermine and black plumed hat. On the guests were presented with souvenir boxes of wedding cake having two gold W.S. on the outside, the small letters being repeated in icing on the cake. A few of the guests were: Lady Aylesworth, Lady Fellatt, Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, Miss Gooderham, Mrs. F. H. Philpott, Mr. Frank Arnold, Miss Loan, Miss Gertrude Warren, Mr. and Mrs. R. Warren, Mrs. and Miss Langmuir, Mr. and Mrs. George Ince, Canon and Mrs. McNab, Maj. Carpenter, Capt. Lawrence, Mr. Douglas Bowie, Mrs. E. F. B. Johnston, Miss Jessie Johnston, Miss Hilda Reid, Capt. Gilman, Miss Maud Boyd, Mr. Justice and Mrs. Riddell, Mr. A. E. Kipstick, Mr. R. B. Young, Rev. T. and Mrs. Crawford and their guests Mrs. and Miss Davis (Vancouver), Misses McKee, Miss Dorothy Bright Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Goodwin, Mrs. Edward V. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. T. J.
