Tinker brought Brown to Cincinnati and gave him a handsome contract.

Tinker helped the miner along again when Brown was released frm the position of manager of the St. Louis Feds late in 1914, making Mordecai a member of the Chicago Whales' pitching staff.

When peace came and Tinker took over the leadership of the Cubs, the first thing he did was to put Brown's name on the list of the men to be retained.

Now Tinker heads the Columbus club of the American association. Brown has been given his release by the Cubs.

Puzzle—Guess where Brown will be in 1917.

Hugh Duffy to Coach Harvard

And Zander are believed to be in concentration camps.

If the two Swedish athletes visit this country they will have to be at their best to score any victories. While both were able to defeat Ted Meredith, the former University of Pennsylvania athlete, in several of their meetings in the Scandinavian countries late last year the Quaker runner was not then in top motch form. He had not competed in many months, desiring to take a much needed rest after many hard races, although he is said to have trained diligently for the national championships.

The running on the indoor track is also expected to prove troublesome to the Swedish runners. Few competitions are held indoors in Sweden. and natur-

Boston, Jan. 20.—Hugh Duffy, the Boston National League baseball team's great hitter and outfielder during the '90s, and who later managed, among other major league teams, the Phillies and the White Sox, will succeed Fred Mitchell as head coach for the Harvard University nine. Duffy filed his application for the position only on last Tuesday night, and since then things have moved along swiftly. He has conferred with all the members of the baseball committee, together with Capt. Abbot of this year's team, and yesterday he made the acquaintance of Dean L. B. R. Briggs, of Harvard, chairman of the athletic committee.

There are those who believe that the spacious Washington Heights armory will not rethough the sweeping turns and a long straight-away, which will enable them to make up any lost ground.

Bolin is a star at 800 and 1,000 metres, as was evidenced by his two world's record-breaking performances in defeating Ted Meredith at these distances. That he is a consistent man is borne out by the fact that in the first meeting Bolin won the 1,000 metres in 2,31 2-5, while in the second race, he was first over the line in two-fifths of a second faster time.

The former mark of 2.82 2-8 was held by Mickler, of Germany, but as the International Amateur Athletic Federation has not held a meeting since 1914 the part for the research of the prove of Bellin have not as used to be a second seven the provent of the provent forms.

Zander is reported to be faster at distances over one mile, although he ran second to Bolin when the latter defeated Meredith in one of the 800-metre runs. In the seven meetings between Bolin and Meredith the latter was a victor twice at 400 metres.

"I see President Comiskey advocates a short training trip," said Griffith. He says a month is insufficient for a club to condition itself for the long grind of the summer. I will go him one better. I will say three weeks is sufficient.
