A WORD OF CHEER

Agricultural progress in Nova Scotia is the subject of a cheering article by Principal Cumming of the College of Agriculture in that province. He states emphatically that agriculture is making progress, and admits the proof. This will give encouragement to farmers in New Brunswick, and should arouse in them a healthy spirit of emulation. It is another evidence that there is a "spirit of the east" that is making itself felt.

Principal Cumming notes as the first evidence of progress the fact that young men are paying more attention to farming as an occupation, and taking greater pains to acquire the knowledge which makes for success. During the past year 300 young men attended classes at the agricultural college at Truro, compared with 40 six years ago.

Taking up the subject of dairying, which Principal Cumming regards as an industry for which Nova Scotia affords better facilities than for some other lines, he points out that whereas five years ago there were very few demands for dairy bulls bred on the college farm, they cannot now supply the demand, and last winter were compelled to import a large number. He tells of several new butter factories, and of one locality where in the past two years three new pure-bred dairy herds have been established, while the demand for improved stock is steadily growing.

Principal Cumming next treats of hog-raising and points out that every breeder could have sold last spring two or three times as many young pigs as he had to offer. Sheep-raising is holding its own. In hog-raising greater attention is being paid to draft hogs, with over 40 draft stallions in the province.

Dealing with efforts to improve the methods of crop raising, Principal Cumming points out that the provincial department of agriculture offers prizes for the best three-acre fields of oats for seed purposes; while in Pictou, Cumberland and Antigonish private citizens have offered prizes for the best fields of turnips.

The growth of fruit raising has been remarkable. Principal Cumming quotes this table of export of apples for five periods since 1880:—

1880-1885	23,920 barrels
1885-1890	84,249 "
1890-1895	118,552 "
1895-1900	239,200 "
1900-1905	330,490 "
1905-1910	482,298 "

It is estimated that the number of young trees set out and the improved cultivation of those already bearing will bring the export of the next decade up to 50 per cent above that for 1905-1910.

"And as yet," says Principal Cumming, "we are but on the fringe of our possibilities, for the striking feature of our apple valleys is not the amount of land occupied by orchards, but the amount of land yet to be occupied. The management of the C. P. R. were not oblivious to this when they obtained control of the Dominion Atlantic Railway."

These statements by the head of the agricultural college of Nova Scotia are commended to the thoughtful attention of the people of New Brunswick.

THE QUEEN'S OWN

The Canadian Courier estimates that it will cost Sir Henry M. Pellatt something like one hundred thousand dollars to take the Queen's Own Regiment of Toronto to England and back again.

The Queen's Own, says a writer in the Courier, dates back to April, 1880. Its first active service was in 1884, its second in 1895, when it took part in the battle of Limeridge in the Niagara Peninsula. Some of its members served in the composite regiment under Wolsey with the Red River Expedition in 1870. It was also present, under Col. Otter, in the western trouble of 1885, notably at Cut Knife Creek. Lord Roberts is its honorary colonel. One of the most unique features of the regiment is that every officer, past or present, has risen from the ranks. It goes without saying that the Queen's Own will have a royal time in England. The armchair critics who have been learnedly discussing the Canadian militia and General French's report will have a sample presented for their inspection.

IN MEMORY OF THE BRITISH AIRMAN, C. S. ROLLS.

(Alfred Noyes in the London Mail.)
On those young brows that knew no fear,
We lay the Roman athlete's crown,
The laurel of the charioteer.
While those young eyes that braved the foe,
See Drake, see Raleigh, smile "Well done."

II.
Their desert seas that knew no shore,
To-night with stars like stars they lie;
But, truer 'e'en than theirs of yore,
His soul a new-found deep would dare;
Till death himself at last restore
What fleets shall follow through the skies.

III.
They would not scoff, though man should
To feeler wings a mightier task!
They know what wonders wait us yet;
Not all things in an hour they see,
But in each noble failure see
The inevitable victory.

IV.
A thousand years have borne us far
From that dark idle Saxon away,
And star whispers to trembling star
While Space and Time shrink back Aghast.
"Ten thousand, thousand years remain,
For man to dare and soar again."

V.
Thou, too, shalt hear across that deep
Our thundering fleets of thought draw nigh.
Round which the sons and systems sweep
Like cloven foam from sky to sky,
Till Death himself at last restore
His captives to our eyes once more.

VI.
Feeble the wings, dauntless the soul!
Take thou the conqueror's laurel-crown;
Take—for thy chariot of renown;
The imperial garland of renown;
While those young eyes, beyond the sun,
See Drake, see Raleigh, smile "Well done."

IN LIGHTER VEIN
IN CASE OF A RUSH.
Prospective Tenant—"No, I'm afraid this flat will be too small. I might want to grow a beard."

CONGENIAL.
Mrs. Oldbottle—"I hear that you have just sold your furniture in the house you have rented."

Mrs. Newrich—"I don't know, ma'am, but we've been to Colgate's. I never saw any like it there."—New York Topics.
HER RESPONSIBILITY.
"Susanah," asked the preacher when it came her turn to answer the usual question in such cases, "do you take this man to be your wedded husband, for better or for worse?"

"Yes," as he is, parson," she interrupted;
"Yes," as he is, parson," she interrupted;
"Yes," as he is, parson," she interrupted;

READY RELIEF.
Physician—"Have you any aches or pains this morning?" Patient—"Yes, doctor; it hurts me to breathe; in fact, the only trouble now seems to be with my breathing."

Physician—"All right, I'll give you something that will stop that."—Good Housekeeping.

PROPER TERM.
Teller—"Chinkley, the bank cashier, was arrested this morning for embezzlement." Harmon—"But another good man gone wrong."

PAPA'S OPINION.
He—"You know that is not your money."
She—"Yes, that's what I told papa."

She—"And what did he say?"
He—"He said that if that was true you didn't have as much sense as he thought you had."

TALE OF A DOG.
A dog there was who sat within
An autor and when he'd see Another dog he would begin
To growl and bark most angrily.
He'd lunge and strain with every paw,
To show he wished to start a fight
In truth, I'm sure you never saw
In war such seeing fierce delight!

One day that auto stopped, and there
Beside it lay a mangled car
With wagging tail—he was an air
As if "twere peace—he would prefer,
The other dog a frantic dance
Began; he growled and leaped about Till for some unforeseen mischance
He missed his hold and tumbled out!

I looked to see that peaceful pup
Depart in terror with a howl;
But, no, the other dog leaped up
Into the car without a growl!
The moral here for all to see:
Don't be a cur and run a bluff.
Because, perchance, your luck might be
To not crawl back quite quick enough!

HON. MR. OLIVER
BRINGS GOOD WORD
FROM FAR NORTH

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Hon. Frank Oliver, who is on a trip down the Mackenzie River from Edmonton to the Arctic Ocean, declared tonight that there is fine land in the far north of western Canada.

"I made the trip to get an idea of the north country," he said. "I saw a fine land suitable for occupation by civilized men. I return convinced that when the prairies have been settled, Canada has a northern area, almost as large, to offer for settlement, perfectly satisfactory so far as climate and conditions are concerned for the purposes of agriculture."

"At every point we touched at, from Edmonton north as far as Fort Good Hope, which is within sixteen miles of the Arctic circle, vegetables were grown and grown successfully. There is a good crop every year, I am told."

HERPICIDE NOT A FAKE

Unsolicited Testimonials Tell of its Superiority

Alf. R. Kelley, residing at 2183 Devadero St., San Francisco, Cal., writes the following:
"When I first purchased Herpicide, I thought like the majority of our preparations, it would be a waste. I am happy to state that, on the contrary, it is all, and even more, than you claim for it.
Quite a number of hoppers throughout the section in which I travel have been attacked by this new pest, sprouting out on my crops. I have inquired of me what I have been using. I told them 'Herpicide'; also give them your name and address."

A $2.00 Shoe Sale

Mind, we say a Two Dollar Shoe Sale—and NOT a sale of Two Dollar Shoes.
We have broken lines of Shoes—lots of them. Good Shoes—every pair of them. Nothing the matter with the Shoes—we are simply short on sizes. Some are $2.50 Shoes —and some are $3.00 or $3.50, and way up to $5.00 Shoes—but we have put these broken lines on tables by themselves and as many or woman who buys them, will DRAW A BIG PRIZE when they get the Shoes for $2.00. We do this to clean out our broken lines—that's all.
Come in and look at these great bargains, if you find your size, you'll get double the value of your money in Shoe leather.
These prices will take the knots out of your purse strings.

A QUERY ABOUT CITY CEMENT PAYMENTS

A citizen yesterday asked The Telegraph for information regarding payments for cement work in connection with the engine houses and other public buildings in the city, but The Telegraph was compelled to refer him to the committee of investigation now in session. The citizen appeared to have the impression that some of this work, divided into small jobs, was let out to a firm with which one of the aldermen is connected, and he expressed considerable curiosity regarding the total amount of money expended in this fashion.
He thought it would be well if the committee of investigation would look into this matter, and would at the same time call for all the facts in connection with the purchase of all city supplies, large and small, and make public a list of those appearing in one way or another upon the city's books in this connection.

The Telegraph assured the citizen that the committee of investigation now in session would welcome any hints as to productive lines of inquiry, but he was away saying merely:
"We shall see what we shall do."
