IN POLICE COURT.

In the police court, yesterday afternoon, Lee Shue was found guilty of keeping a disorderly house, and the penalty will be imposed next Thursday. George Clarke, Ronald Nolen and Leslie Conner were allowed to go on suspended sentence. The two girls, Myrtle Healey and Hazel Carpenter, will be looked after.

The case against Edward A. Parren, charged with unlawfully supplying liquor and with assaulting an inspector in the performance of his duty, was postponed until Monday at the request of J. B. Dever, for the defence. A deposit of $200 was put up. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution.

The case against Harding J. Fenney, charged with assaulting Walter W. Bell, was continued yesterday afternoon. The complainant swore that he was in an automobile with two girls, sisters of the defendant, and that the defendant jumped on the running board of the car, telling him to get out. He refused, and Fenney struck him several times. He made no resistance but called a police-
