REV. DR. HEARTZ IS

Gathering in Charlottetown in Honor of His 60th Anniversary as Minister.

GUEST AT BANQUET

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 6—In the Heartz memorial hall, erected through the gifts of his father and nephew, Rev. Dr. W. H. Heartz, born here in 1841, and now of Amherst, N. S., was tendered a banquet last night by the members of the official board of the Methodist Church here to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of his entry into the minis-try. He was recommended by the quar-terly board of the Charlottetown church on May 17, 1862. on May 17, 1862.

In replying to a congratulary address,
Dr. Heartz dwelt on the great changes wrought in sixty years of ministry, which he began on a salary of $120 a year. He attributed whatever success he hed to cover he had to courage, characters, and Christ. Dr. Heartz was longer in active service than any other Methodist minister in Canada.

Rose Reizen Drinks Iodine, Then Runs to Nurse—Saved by First Aid Treat-

New York, June 6—Rose Reizen, twelve years old, a pupil in Grade 7A in Public School, attempted to commit suicide in the school building, 141st street and Brook avenue, by drinking iodine, according to the police. School nurses applied first aid and the girl was taken to her home, 435 East 138th street, The Bronx, after being attended in Lincoln Hospital.

The girl obtained the iodine from a medicine chest at her home and took it to school. After drinking the poison room reserved for nurses and told what she had done. in the cooking

One of the nurses immediately gave the girl first-aid treatment, while another summoned an ambulance. The other summoned an ambulance. The surgeon who responded applied a stomach pump, and the girl was then removed to the hospital. Her mother was notified later and she took Rose

YE OLD STAGE COACH TURNED INTO MOTOR 'BUS

Much comment has been caused by the appearance of this strange vehicle in the streets of London, England. It resembles one of the famous coaches of Dick Turpin's time, but a motor replaces the picturesque horses and post-boys.

Madden, each credited with several aliases, as the swindlers. They have not been apprehended, authorities announced, Iddles, who was formerly on the teachaliases, as the swindlers. They have not been apprehended, authorities announced, but bail for them has been fixed at $50,000 each.

Nicholson is understood to have come from the Middle West.

HOME FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Miss Amy Iddles, of the educational department of Johannesburg, South steamship Minnedosa for Canada. Miss Iddles, who was formerly on the teaching staff of St. John, is at present visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shaw, Quebec, and will probably arrive in St. John some time this week. She will spend the summer at Ingleside with her sister, Mrs. F. Shaw, of 172 Waterloo street. Her many friends will extend her a hearty welcome to her old home after her long absence.

The magistrate suggested further that if suicidal ideas ever overtook her again when some one broke a date with her she should take a tonic instead of poison.

"In such cases," he said, "It's generally your liver and not your heart that's out of order."
