250,000 ITALIAN TROOPS IN FRANCE

Part of Foch's Reserve—One Front From North Sea to Adriatic

Washington, May 14.—Italy's contribution to the reserve army which General Foch is building up behind the lines in France for supreme emergency uses numbers nearly a quarter of a million men, official despatches today say, and the force is being strengthened steadily.

Another despatch quotes a statement made by Premier Orlando upon his return from France, where he attended the Inter-Allied War Council.

"I have conversed with the highest military commanders of the Entente armies," said the premier, "and while taking into consideration the possible surprise and fluctuations of the war, they expressed full confidence that the Germans will not reach their essential strategic objectives. General Foch has, in common with all great commanders, the power of drawing fresh strength from difficulties and of maintaining his energy in proportion to the danger.

"The questions deriving from Italy's participation in the recent military agreements were discussed, and important resolutions were adopted. I cannot give particulars about this, but I can state that in this respect Italy remains part of the military and political union of the Entente nations, which grows more firm and more intimate with the growth of the danger, and with the importance of our decisions. One fact is now established, that the Conference of Abbeville recognized a united front from the North Sea to the Adriatic, not only as an abstract aspiration, but as an effective reality."

The cost of feeding a United States soldier has trebled since the Spanish-American war.

FEDERAL HOME RULE PROJECT

George N. Barnes' Scheme Attracts Attention

ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, WALES

Irish Rejects it, But it is Said Northern Unionists Would Accept if Ulster Treated as Separate State

London, May 14.—A speech on Sunday in which George N. Barnes, labor member of the war cabinet, advocated a federal scheme of home rule for the United Kingdom has attracted much attention in political quarters here and in Ireland.

The lobbyists at Westminster say the utterance was a "trial balloon" to test the country's opinion and declare that although the government has not decided definitely on a federal scheme, individual members of the cabinet, including Premier Lloyd George, are inclining more and more to such a solution of the Irish problem. This is due partly, it is said, because they believe the scheme affords the only chance of winning Ulster to home rule.

Some of the cabinet members believe also, according to the lobby correspondents, that there is a greater opposition to parliament and the country than ever before toward a federal scheme.

The Daily News credits the ministers with the opinion that it is the best policy to frame an Irish home rule bill which will be general in principle, but which could be fitted into a subsequent act establishing similar federal parliaments in England, Scotland and Wales.

The suggestion, however, is rejected absolutely in Ireland, according to despatches from Dublin, where, it is said, Mr. Barnes' speech was received with angry contempt. It is declared that if the Irish parliamentary party accepts such a scheme it will be repudiated utterly by the Irish people. There is, however, not the slightest probability of the Irish members of parliament giving the least attention to such a proposal.

On the other hand, it is said the northern Unionists will accept such a solution, if Ulster is treated as a separate state under it.

Applying This Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes.)

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.

Premier Massey Also—Transport Attacked and Damaged by Raider

A Pacific Port, May 14.—Sir Thomas Hughes, premier of Australia, arrived here yesterday with a party of Australian officers en route to a war conference in London. Passengers said a German raider had attacked and damaged the British transport on which the premier sailed.

The damaged transport returned to the port from which she sailed and the premier and his party caught a train to another port and boarded the steamship which brought them here.

With Premier Hughes are Premier Massey of New Zealand, Joseph Chamberlain, former premier of New Zealand, and Robert Curran.

OLD MEN MAKE GOOD.

(Toronto Star.)

Henry Ford, on being asked if he was employing women, replied: "No, I'm using old men—or men that used to be called old. And they are fine." If he does something to upset the absurd idea that industrial workers must be of military or flying corps age he will be doing both industry and mankind a service.
