GROCERY MARKET
The following comment on the market was made by a representative of the Canadian Grocer last week: Gradually difficulties in respect to the procurement of the new tea tax have been straightened out. New prices on practically all lines affected have now been announced, and the trade settling down to the question of securing business on the new basis.
Some doubt as to the interpretation of the 1,000 pounds clause has been expressed, and latest advice now intimates that the clause means that an exempt quantity of tea from Java has been resumed, but it is not expected that space will be provided for any great quantities.
An increase in Pacific ocean freight rates of 30 per cent is reported, and a further advance may not be unexpected.
This will further add to costs of all goods being handled on these routes, and increased difficulty in securing supplies is already manifesting itself. Shipments of tea from Java has been re-
tities.
Montreal.-That ruling prices on nuts will look cheap by next October was the opinion expressed by one large importer to Canadian Grocer during the week. A realization of this by wholesalers and retailers is evident, too, in a greatly stimulated demand. The question of supplies grows increasingly uncertain, and this with the advancing costs of transportation will have a bearing on shipping prices to considerably higher levels.
The spice market continues to reveal decided strength, and that higher prices will be named on pepper appears quite likely within the next few days. Other lines are also very strong, and the general trend towards advances all the way through. Shipments from the Orient are on a pretty narrow scale and this is resulting in stocks reaching the vanishing point.
Teas show a firming tendency owing to the announcement of opening prices on Japan teas, which range about seven or eight cents a pound higher than last year. It is intimated that the quality of teas will range as far. There is every indication that even greater difficulty in securing cleaner space than that experienced a year ago will be manifest.
Toronto.-The sugar situation in respect to supplies shows decided improvement during the week, shipments coming along in greater numbers, with a corresponding improvement in distribution to dealers. The feeling generally is much easier, and the outlook for the future, when the demand will be greatly accentuated, seems more promising.
Opening prices named on Japan teas reveal figures representing an advance of about seven cents a pound. The heavy advance made in ocean freight rates, with further advances anticipated, will it is thought, result in Java teas costing considerably more. Sources of tea is reported on the new basis of prices ruling, though this is not by any means heavy.
Quotations on nuts are made in a market showing greatly added strength, and that considerably higher levels will be reached is the opinion freely expressed.
Almonds and walnuts are particularly strong, and peanuts may be classed with these two as well. The uncertainty of further supplies is a factor, and the continually increasing costs of transporta-
