THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1918

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

Alice Brady and The Eagle's Eye; Big Gem B.L.

Alice Brady in the new World-Picture Brady-Made, "The Maid of Belgium," will be the attraction at the Gem this afternoon and tonight. As the title indicates, the picture has to do with the story of a Belgian maid—a refugee who is brought to America by a kindly, wealthy couple. The girl is half crazed by the terrors she has gone through. Her memory is gone and when it is discovered that she is about to become a mother she is unable to remember her husband. Remarkable developments come from this situation and the story ends with a totally unexpected climax. Needless to say "The Maid of Belgium" is one of the most intensely interesting stories filmed. It is a five-reel subject. The programme also includes Episode No. 2 of "The Eagle's Eye" which is a gripping, great serial, unfolding German plots in America. This chapter is "The Naval Bell Conspiracy," a gripping, sensational disclosure. Seven reel programme, 5 cents and 10 cents. At 2.30, 7.15 and 8.45 o'clock.

Summer Prices at the Imperial

The Imperial Theatre on Monday will inaugurate a summer scale of prices that will make it possible for city folk to enjoy several of the programmes each week at very little more than the price of one under the winter scale. In other words, with a reduced population from which to draw in warm weather, the big theatre expects to attract its patrons several times a week. This plan is employed in many theatres in the United States, and at this particular juncture—having 11, C. L. in mind—will be welcomed, no doubt.

The new scale is as follows:—Half the lower floor 15c, the other half at 25c; front balcony, 15c; rear balcony, 10c; children 5c and 10c; as usual; boxes 35c, as usual. This means that nearly 400 people can be accommodated at 15c price down stairs, and that another 100 can enjoy the big picture bills for a dime in the rear balcony. The saving is really considerable and the Imperial expects to offset its shrinkage in receipts by a greater volume than usual at this time of year. This is a frank statement to its friends.

The bills for this week of the new scale of prices are especially attractive. Monday and Tuesday, Ann Pennington, the "Follies" star will be in "Sunshine Nan" from the novel, "Calvary Alley," Wednesday-Thursday, Constantine Talmadge in "The Girl on the Boat," Friday-Saturday, Mary Pickford in "The Amulet of Cleopatra." The usual miscellaneous bills mixed in.

Daily Demolish the Zebruggee Repairs

Explanation of Continuous Raids by the British Airmen

Amsterdam, June 22.—The entrance to the harbor at Zebrugge is blocked, according to Lieut. George Coward and John Read, of the British royal air force, who landed in the province of Zealand, Monday and are to be interned at the Hague. In an interview published in the Telegraph, they say the Germans are working day and night to clear the passage, but each night British aviators demolish the Germans' progress.

The cement ships sunk in the harbor are still there and the Germans are afraid to blow them up for fear they will also destroy the sluices. The lieutenants assert that no submarines can enter or leave Zebrugge. The blockade of Ostend is not so complete, but the Germans are having great trouble there.

The motor of the seaplane carrying Coward and Read failed while they were bombing Zebrugge. German aviators attacked their machine, but they managed to reach Holland and to escape capture by the Germans.

French Finance Minister Makes Statement in the Chamber of Deputies

Paris, June 22.—The French government had confidence that Russia will eventually pay her debts, declared Finance Minister Klotz in the chamber of deputies yesterday. Socialist deputies had attempted a conference to discuss the renewal of the privileges of the Bank of France, and raised the question of the Russian debt to France, but their efforts were followed by the finance minister.

Deputy Edouard Barth offered an interpellation as to who should be held responsible for the 600,000,000 francs still due French investors on Russian loans. Finance Minister Klotz replied, "It matters not what government obtains in Russia. I do not despair of the guarantee of the Russian state."

The minister was interrupted by Socialist cries of "No."

"It is immaterial," continued M. Klotz, "whether the Bank of Russia meets its indebtedness. I have confidence in the Russian state, and French investors will not lose. It is not the government which contracts debts; it is the country."

Hungarian Regiment Completely Annihilated

Rome, June 22.—Enemy officers captured in yesterday's fighting admitted today that the Austrian offensive had failed, a semi-official statement says. The 14th division operating in the Grappa region, were reduced to a few thousands. On the Montello crest the 14th division lost 2,000 men. Here a small Italian assault group penetrated the enemy lines and wounded and captured Major-General Von Knecht, division commander, who later died in a hospital. The 100th Hungarian Infantry Regiment was entirely wiped out. The 14th division suffered frightful losses.

privilege of presiding at the first imperial war cabinet, where around the table sat the representatives of more than 400,000,000 human beings, of most of the great races of the world and of most of the great faiths, who had come together to evolve the best methods of establishing right and justice on earth. It was a fine start for the imperial confederacy.

WONDERFUL WORK ON LAND AND SEA

The British Empire, he said, had not only the greatest fleet of the world, but also the greatest navy, and he said that the story of the sea did not provide anything to compare with the resource, skill and daring of the British navy, or the British mariner and the way they fought and conquered the naval sharks infesting the high seas.

It was an old story. But what the empire had done on land was something new. There never had been anything like it. Great Britain had an army about the size of the Bulgarian, the dominions had hardly any. Nevertheless the United Kingdom had raised nearly six million of men on land and sea, and the dominions had raised nearly a million. Germany had expected to meet raw levies, brave but easily scattered by her highly trained and equipped legions. Instead the Germans had encountered men who had defeated their proudest warriors in a hundred fights. Their achievement in the last three months was the greatest one. (Cheers.)

India, likewise, had raised nearly a million men. The British Empire, he said, had not only the greatest fleet of the world, but also the greatest navy, and he said that the story of the sea did not provide anything to compare with the resource, skill and daring of the British navy, or the British mariner and the way they fought and conquered the naval sharks infesting the high seas.

What would have happened to the world if it had not been for the fact that Russia was collapsing and America was rising? The British Empire, he said, had not only the greatest fleet of the world, but also the greatest navy, and he said that the story of the sea did not provide anything to compare with the resource, skill and daring of the British navy, or the British mariner and the way they fought and conquered the naval sharks infesting the high seas.

Everybody had understood that the British Empire, he said, had not only the greatest fleet of the world, but also the greatest navy, and he said that the story of the sea did not provide anything to compare with the resource, skill and daring of the British navy, or the British mariner and the way they fought and conquered the naval sharks infesting the high seas.

All which was best in the world today was safer for the existence of the British Empire, he said, had not only the greatest fleet of the world, but also the greatest navy, and he said that the story of the sea did not provide anything to compare with the resource, skill and daring of the British navy, or the British mariner and the way they fought and conquered the naval sharks infesting the high seas.

"I know now," he continued, amid cheers. "Let our knowledge of the peril averted by the unity of the empire be today's lesson. That is why India has been called to our councils; that is why action has been added to the council; that is why the council has been converted into action, and that is why we specially welcome our guests tonight as forerunners of a succession of councilors coming from all the empire, which for generations to come will direct the destiny of the world." (Cheers.)

CROP CONDITIONS MOSTLY EXCELLENT

Only Few Districts Are in Serious Need of Rain

Winnipeg, June 18.—The weekly crop report of the Canadian Northern Railway issued today shows that in a big majority of districts along the lines of that railway crop conditions are excellent this time. For the most part sufficient moisture has fallen to ensure good growth, and the warm weather of the past week or two has been conducive to rapid development. In Manitoba the reports are uniformly optimistic and apparently the rainfall has been ample. In Saskatchewan, scattered districts report the need of rain, notably in the Moose Bow district, along the Killam and Regina sub-divisions. To a lesser extent, the Skatton and Kintlerley sub-divisions are affected by the lack of rain and dry winds, but nowhere is serious damage reported, and rainfall in these scattered districts in all that is needed to ensure good growth. In Alberta points on the Calgary and Hanna sub-divisions report lack of moisture and delayed development of crops as a consequence. In Manitoba the Virden district alone reports serious need of rain.

"Weather conditions for the next two weeks will largely determine what the wheat crop will be," says J. H. McGregor, Manitoba director for the food board, on his return today from an extended inspection. "While ideal weather conditions for the next two weeks may turn this year's harvest into a bumper one, the risk to crops is such as to make it necessary at the present time to conserve as far as possible every bushel of wheat in the country."

DISASTROUS FIRE AT OROMOCTO

Oromocto was visited by a bad fire yesterday. Four dwellings, including the well-known Tourist Hotel and seven barns were burned to the ground and the high water wharf on the river was destroyed. It was only through the efforts of volunteers from Fredericton that the fire was extinguished. These men, including many returned soldiers, in cooperation with the inhabitants organized a bucket brigade.

The buildings destroyed were the hotel owned by John E. Stocker, and dwellings owned by William Rutledge, Oma Ward and John Malone. The barns destroyed belonged to Charles White estate; two; Martin Currier, one; Stocker's hotel, two; William Rutledge, one, and also one attached to the Malone property.

The fire brings a great loss to the village. The hotel, which, it is stated, was insured, was valued at nearly $9,000. Only one of the sufferers, it is learned, has insurance and his is by far inadequate to cover the loss.

It is difficult to estimate the total damage. Some place it as low as $80,000, while others estimate it at $33,000.

Robberies Baffle Police of London

London, June 22.—The London detectives are having an embarrassing time. They have been unable to counter the actions of a clever gang of thieves who loot shops when closed and who up to the present have got clear away with the plunder in every case.

The thieves' latest exploit has been to loot a West End furrier's of furs valued at $18,000. When the assistants found the management estimates that they discovered that practically everything of value had been removed. The thieves had succeeded in opening the front door and had managed to carry off fifty coats, 1600 opposum skins, sixty topknots, sixty fur hats, and a number of fur sets.

The premises are in a main road and the windows were not even fitted with shades, but nobody saw the robbery, though the management estimates that time for removal of the goods at more than an hour. After clearing up the stock the thieves relocked the front door and departed.

Other exploits of apparently the same gang have been reported since. Several tons of sugar were removed from a warehouse and sent to another establishment. The value of their contents was $2,000. No clue to the thieves has been discovered.

WILBY SMITH ESTATE

Ottawa, June 22.—In the supreme court yesterday E. L. Burritt moved, in the Nova Scotia case of Smith vs. Provincial Treasurer of Nova Scotia, for leave to pay into court $80,000 claimed for succession duties on the Wilby Smith estate. He filed a consent from the respondent and Mr. Smellie consented on behalf of the attorney-general of Alberta, and Mr. Leduc on behalf of the attorney-general of Quebec. The motion was granted.

Ontario, Brother of British Commander

Eldorado, Ont., June 22.—When John Haig, elder brother of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, left the Eldorado tail mine in Hastings County, at the end of a British infantry regiment, one of the remarkable coincidences of the war was following his profession as a mining engineer, and that he had been in the mine in the mining region of Hastings.

While Douglas Haig was fighting in the mud of the trenches, his brother John Haig was in the heat of summer and the cold of winter.

Early in 1916 he determined to get to the front, and it is characteristic of the man that he did not attempt to use any influence with the commander-in-chief to realize his ambition. By personality, energy and staff, and everything else he had, he succeeded in getting to the front as second lieutenant, serving with officers young enough to be his grandsons.

It was not until he had been in and out of the trenches for some months that he met his distinguished brother, who did not even know that "John" was at the front.

Following the family motto, "Tide What May," John Haig, now with the rank of captain, fought his own battle, and it may be when the tide ebbed he will come back to Eldorado to resume mining tail.

Meanwhile the mine is abandoned and derelict. The bush is resuming its sway over the mine, covering the rusted machinery and shafts, and everything is a state of disrepair and disorder. Mrs. Haig is doing nursing work while her husband is at the front.

Sports "Over There"

N. W. York, June 21.—The success of several minor track and field meets not far from the battle lines in France and Italy has led to tentative plans for a real international set of games to be held during the autumn.

At present the scheme has only been outlined in a general way, but the interest evinced indicates that such a series of events can be made unusually attractive in view of the athletic talent available.

The games, if staged, will probably be held in or near Paris and will include entries from the English, French, Italian, Canadian and United States army, navy and air forces. Such will depend, of course, upon conditions prevailing at that time, but it can be stated that if the opportunity is favorable there will be a remarkable turn-out of athletic talent.

AMERICAN PORTS TO BE BOMBARDED

And Marrow in President Wilson's Bones Made to Run Cold—Berlin Press Savage

Washington, June 22.—Boasting and threatening of the German newspapers on the appearance of submarines off the American coast is summarized in a statement issued today by the State Department.

One paper, not named in the summary, declared that the German navy would attack, and the time may not be far distant when American ports will be bombarded.

"There will be scenes in the United States which will make the headlines of Wilson's bones run cold," another said.

"The Americans are already trembling in fear of German attacks, and the time may not be far distant when American ports will be bombarded."

Referring to the "submarine obstruction to transportation of American troops to France," the German editors failed to mention the character of vessels attacked by the raiders on the fact that the movement of troop convoys had not been interfered with in the slightest degree by the U-boats.

WILLARD'S FORTUNE WAS NOT MADE IN THE RING

Champion Commercialized His Tale For About Half Million Dollars

New York, June 21.—When Jess Willard defeated Jack Johnson for the heavyweight championship on April 9, 1915, he did not gain a penny for his win over the great negro brawler in twenty-sixth round. Jess entered the ring against Johnson, and was promised about $10,000 for his end, but, according to a well-known promoter of the fight, Willard was paid only $2,000.

After the battle, leaving him flat broke, Willard was paid $10,000. It is a record for fortune making, when it is considered from the time he faced Jack Johnson until the present day the big fellow has fought only thirty-six rounds. Willard made most of his fortune on his reputation. Soon after his battle with Johnson he appeared on the American stage for more than six months, and received a net salary for this.

In 1916, in the Madison Square Garden, Willard made his first real money when he received $37,000 for defeating Frank Moran in a ten-round bout. This is the only real money he made out of the ring battles. All the rest of the fortune he has earned has been realized by commercializing his title.

WHAT ST. JOHN NEEDS.

(Halifax Echo.)

Tomorrow is marked as a red letter day in the minds of the boys of the public schools, not only because it is Halifax natal day anniversary, but because it is the occasion of the third annual Halifax public schools athletic meet and determines the school and individual champion honors for the year. The school championship win carries with it the handsome Rotary shield which, presented in 1916, was won that year by Tower Road school and last year by Chebucto.

This schools championship meet was originated in 1916 through the efforts of A. B. Dawson, Physical Director of the Y. M. C. A., who had had experience with such meets before coming here, and it seems that it is mainly through Mr. Dawson's continued efforts that the meeting continues to be an annual affair.

The games tomorrow will be on the Wandersers grounds. Mr. Dawson will act as referee and starter and his assistants will be men who have been identified with amateur sport in Halifax. The County Academy Cadets will patrol the meeting track and assist the officials. The schools which have entered teams are Chebucto, Tower Road, Morris St., Oxford St., Quinpool Road, Alexandria St. Mary's Boys', LeMarchant street.

Mitchell Regains Some of $700,000

Chicago Cubs Most Expensive Team in the Major Leagues

New York, June 21.—President Woodruff and his partners have spent a world of money to promote the Cubs in Chicago. They paid $500,000 for the franchise in 1916, also $800,000 for players and salaries. The Cubs have spent $300,000 for Alexander and Killifer, $12,000 for Taylor and Hollister, and $100,000 for Barber.

Up to this season the Cubs lost big money in operating expenses, so that when the pennant race began in April it was roughly estimated that the Chicago managers were at least $700,000 in the hole. The Cubs, however, are drawing profitable gate receipts at home and abroad this year, and if they remain on top the club's indebtedness will be considerably reduced.
