THE COMMON SENSE VIEW OF THE RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT

Miss Canada (in business on her own account)—Mr. Jonathan has called, and he wants to open a business account. If we can come to a satisfactory arrangement, I'll be just the kind of reciprocity I like and it will be a good thing for both of you.—From Westminster Gazette.

UNDER COMMISSION

Those citizens who want to know how the commission plan of city government works out should read the story of Chelsea, printed in today's Times. This was an appointed commission at the outset, but it applied business principles with remarkable results.

Haultain, Conservative Leader, Strong For Reciprocity

ANNEXATION BOGEY

There's Nothing in That Cry, He Unequivocally Tells Saskatchewan House—Liberal Whip in Ontario Legislature Ridicules Whitney's Alleged Fears

(Canadian Press)

Regina, March 10.—The feature of Wednesday's proceedings in the legislature of Saskatchewan, when, by unanimous vote, which included all the opposition members present, the reciprocity agreement was endorsed and a declaration made for absolute free trade within the British Empire eventually, and an increasing preference to go into force at once, was the speech of more than an hour by F. W. G. Haultain, the leader of the opposition. He came out strong and unequivocally in favor of the reciprocity agreement. He said he had no fears about annexation, and concluding, said: "We out here are just as able as the magnates in the east to decide what is patriotic and un-patriotic. I am not prepared to sit at the feet of any of these eastern gamblers and study loyalty."

(Canadian Press)

Toronto, March 10.—Sir James Whitney moved his anti-reciprocity resolution in the legislature yesterday afternoon and fired the first broadside against the agreement reached at Washington. The debate was continued, with an interval at 6 o'clock, until 10 p. m. The afternoon and evening session did not dispose of the matter and it may not be put to a vote until an early next week.

(Canadian Press)

Calgary, Alta., Mar. 10.—The joint conference of operators and mine owners which has been held here during the last seven days has come to an abrupt close owing to the request of the miners' representatives for an adjournment until March 20.

(Canadian Press)

It is thought that the miners hope to get the independent operators to agree to the closed shop clause in the interval and they would thus come back and meet the argument against the associated operators. The negotiations of the last seven days have been along the lines of the closed shop. The operators absolutely refused to agree to it, and the miners have struck out for it.

(Canadian Press)

They asked the operators to agree to the check off system and to turn over their books to the union secretary so that official could check the dues from all the men. The operators refused and the long discussion of the week resulted. Absolutely no progress has been made in the negotiations.
