Croup At Night

Need Be Feared No More; Says This Montreal Father.

If the child seems croupy, apply Vicks over throat and chest at bedtime. It usually averts a night attack. And if croup comes on without warning, use of Vicks often brings relief inside of fifteen minutes.

Mr. Keeling of 1106 Newmarket St., Verdun, Montreal, Que., says: "I found Vicks very good for croup on the chest. My son suffers with croupy cough and I rub his chest well with it and I get very good results. It is also good for colds and the head."

Vicks is the ideal treatment for children's cold troubles; it avoids so much internal dosing. Just as good, too, for grown-up colds, catarrhs, coughs, bronchitis, sores, stings and skin itchings.

At all drug stores, 50c a jar. For a free test also package write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., Montreal, P. Q.

The Vicks is now in Canada, it enjoys a remarkable sale. Over 17,000,000 jars used yearly.

LENTEN DRAMA MARKED SUCCESS

St. Peter's Young Women Present Pilate's Daughter Before Capacity Audience.

"Pilate's Daughter," an impressive Lenten drama from the pen of Rev. F. L. Kenzel, C.S.S.R., was presented in St. Peter's Auditorium last evening by a cast of young women from St. Peter's parish and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience.

The theme of the play is built upon incidents preceding and following the crucifixion of Christ. The stage scenery and settings are both magnificent and appropriate, the costuming of the participants in keeping with the times and the drama throughout replete with tense dramatic moments.

It was a great success and reflects credit on every member of the cast, but in particular to Mrs. S. J. Richey, under whose direction it was staged.

The play opens in the apartment of Pilate's house, overlooking Jerusalem, and brings out details of the arrest of Christ, following the treachery of Judas and a girl named Leah. His passage over the balcony of her father's palace as Christ goes forth condemned to death. This flower touches the robe of the Master and thenceforth not only does not fade, but is endowed with most marvellous powers.

It also shows the punishment of the girl Leah, who swears vengeance against Christ because her father, a money lender, had been struck by the Saviour in the Temple.

In the second act the scene depicted is in the woods at midnight in the Alban Hills where a number of Christians assemble to worship and are later arrested and imprisoned.

The third scene is in the Temple of Vesta and disclosed preparations being made for the feast of Vesta.

The fourth scene shows Pilate's daughter and Christian friends in the Mamertine prison, the trial of the girl Leah, and the conversion of Rubia.

The concluding scene is laid in the court of the Empress Agrippina, which includes the fatal day, the martyrdom of Claudia and the murder of the Empress and the grand finale.

The members of the cast acquitted themselves in a highly commendable manner and from the principals down to the most minor parts.

Nestlé's Milk With the Fine Flavor. The Milk With the Fine Flavor.

was specially written for the play by Paul M. Paulsen of Boston. Florens used in the play were made by Miss Annie Carlyn, and the flower baskets used by vestals were the work of returned soldier patients at East St. John.

Costumes were made by a committee of ladies of St. Peter's Parish, headed by Mrs. Margaret Corkery, Mrs. William O'Connor, Mrs. Sam McCormick, and Mrs. W. T. McCullough.

The play was presented under the supervision of Rev. G. Coffin, C.S.S.R., and will be repeated every evening this week with an exception of Saturday.
