IMPORTANT RULING IN THE DELORME CASE

Montreal, July 11.—At the trial of Rev. Father Adair Delorme today Sr. Francois Lemieux, the judge, rendered a decision on an objection raised yesterday by the lawyers for the defence to Detective Pigeon being permitted to repeat statements made to him and fellow detectives by the accused when searches of the Delorme house were being made. His lordship overruled the objection. The objection was based on the fact that Father Delorme had not been warned that anything he might say would be used in evidence against him. His lordship reviewing the arguments of counsel for the defence and R. L. Calder, K. C., crown prosecutor, who pleaded that the statements be admitted on the ground that at the time they were made the detectives had no thought of arresting the accused and that the statements were made spontaneously, said: "It is held in English court decisions that a constable may ask for an explanation of a property found on a person not yet charged with an offense."

First Sight of Daisy Field Thrills Little Tot of City Tenements

Long Branch, N. J., July 11.—How could daisies tell the joy and delight with which this little girl from the lower East Side tenement district of New York picked her first armload of flowers? It is for children like these that the Bronx Zoo recently negotiated the purchase of a plain, ordinary cow. Through frequent visits to the Zoo the children were made familiar with the guinea pig, the chipmunk and the laughing hyena, but remained strangers to the common barnyard animal. Some of them are far less familiar with the source of their milk supply than the zebu and the ant-eater and the duck-billed platypus. All children are carefully instructed about the treachery of the surr. The picture shows a Salvation Army captain warning her charges to stay within ear-shot of the life-guard.
