ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., DECEMBER 5, 190 VACCINATE, VACCINATE, VACCINATE.

The fact that several recent cases o smallpox have developed in persons who either evaded or refused vaccination is not absolute proof that had they vaccinated they would have es caped the disease, but the presumption rouble is a perfectly reasonable one person takes all the precautions possible and still contracts disease, there is at least the consolatory reflection that he did his best. If on the other izes the lives of others without having taken precautions, he has an uncom fortable feeling of responsibility, if not of positive guilt. Let it be said again, with all the emphasis possible, that with smallpox in Quebec, Ontario, Boston, New York, London and othe Boston, New York, London and other places the danger of infection from abroad is always with us, and that the best safeguard lies in a general vaccination. Why should there be any hesitation? Why blame the board of health when your next door neighbor, by obstinacy, may be doing all in his power to frustrate their efforts to have him vaccinated? The board needs the hearty co-operation of every citizen. If there is to be criticly, it can wait. Until the people have done all in their own power to ward off the disease they are not fair critics of the board. The Star would respectfully urge its readers to exert their influence along the line of precautionary work—not beers to exert their influence along the line of precautionary work—not be-cause there is the slightest cause for panic, but because it is in the inter-ests of the city that the disease be stamped out as quickly as possible.

THE BLUNDERING TELEGRAPH.

The Tel:graph, which has an unrivalled capacity for making blunders, did of health yesterday, that it was really assailing its friends of the provincial course due to the fact that it did not make any attempt to ascertain the facts of the case. The board of health is receiving enough criticism at present without laying at its doors, as the Telegraph did yesterday, a sin of omissible. The board appealed to the pro vincial government for power to order compulsory vaccination, but the government did nothing. It is now in order for the Telegraph to apologize to the board of health, a course of pro-cedure with which it is not wholly un-acquainted, and denounce Premier Tweedie and his colleagues for their reckless indifference to the welfare of the people. The course which our con-temporary pursues in this matter will be an excellent test of its sincerity. It is utterly useless for the board to em-ploy a prosecutor and attempt to en-force general vaccination when the compulsory are has not been proclaim-visit of the Irish delegates to the Unit-Socially the gentlemen have had a good time. Politically their mission is a failure, for the simple reason that their appeal along that line to be effective power to act. Nobody in the United in regard to the internal affairs of the in regard to the internal affairs of the British Isles. The people of those islands can manage their own local government affairs without dictation from the citizens of any foreign country. The people of the United States know this fact well enough, and are not worrying themselves at all about Mr. Redmond's campaign.

President Roosevelt's message has enthusiast expected him because of his derman descent to express sympathy with the Boers or to reflect upon the conduct of the British, that person was disappointed. The president's army has in the Philippines much the same kind of trouble as the king's forces have to face in South Africa. Mr. Roosevelt is too clever a man not to know that the Boers brought their trouble on themselves, and he knows that freedom, which is the boast of his own country, can only be fully assured to all the people of South Africa when British influence is paramount.

An English member of parliament riticising Sir William Harcourt's let ers to the London Times, ridiculed the aggestion that if Chatham, Fox, and Burke were now living they would be trary, he quoted from the speeches of Chatham and Burke to show that the policy of the American colonists, which these statesmen supported, was iden-tical with the policy of the Uitlanders in South Africa.

Speaking to his constituents in Mon nouthshire, Eng., recently, Joseph Lawrence, M. P., said that the action of American manufacturers in sending goods to England at less cost than they sell them in America, and, in some in-stances, at less than cost price, was causing many free traders to review their position.

DRILL BY YOUNG LADIES Excellent Entertainment in Zion Church School Room Last Evening.

The audience in Zion church school

The audience in Zion church school noom last evening enjoyed a very pleasing entertainment, one portion of which, the drill and marching exercises by thirteen young ladies, must have involved a great deal of careful training and practice.

The following was the programme: Quartette, Exmouth street male quartette; solo, S. McGowan; solo, Miss Minnle Stewart; reading, Miss Maggie Armstrong; military exercises, by thirteen young ladies, conducted by Arthur C. Powers; solo, Miss Wilson; club swinging, six young ladies; instrumental solo, Masters Dykeman, Bond, L. Haines and O. Haines; reading, Miss Maggie Armstropg; club swinging, little Miss Patchell and A. C. Powers; remarks, by the chairman, Rev. Dr. Wilson; physical drill with music, including national anthem, thirteen young ladies.

The vocal and instrumental quartettes and Mr. McGowan and Miss Armstrong, were compiled to recorned to (Bangor Commercial.)

Scarcity of laborers for the woods according to reports received in Bangor, Tuesday, will result in making the East branch lumber cut on the Penobscot 20 per cent. less than was estimated at the beginning of the season. Despite this decrease in operations, however, the cut will be considerably larger than in that region last year. The entire cut on the East branch and its waters will be between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000.

Work is being rushed at getting the logs that are fast in the ice above the dam and below chopped free. There are fully 17,000 pieces and they are frozen so fast that it is difficult getting them free. Mr. Coaners, one of the contractors, says that it is much harder than it first seems and that more time than was at first thought to be necessary will be required to getter.

The vocal and instrumental quartettes and Mr. McGowan and Miss Armstrong were compelled to respond to persistent encores, while the exercises by the young ladies were repeatedly and heartily applauded. The accompaniments were played by Miss Winnie Wilson.

The thirteen young ladies were recat place.
Up with the main body of the West branch at Argyle and Pea Cove booms, conditions are similar to those that prevailed when the meeting of the P. L. A. was called some days ago. The greater part of these logs are in a safe place, but many of them will be dangerously exposed when spring comes.

Wilson.

The thirteen young ladies wore neat uniforms of blue and white and carried guns. A. C. Powers, also in uniform, was captain. The thirteen were, Miss A. Irwin, sergeant; Misses E. Irwin, L. Cosman, J. Patchell, B. Irvine, E. Hazelhurst, L. Robinson, M. Dunlop, E. Frazee, J. Moore, G. Wright, J. Beville, P. Allinghan. On their first appearance there was the scene in the armory, roll call, marching, rifle practice, repelling cavalry attacks, etc. Later six of them gave a fine exhibition of club swinging to musical accompaniment, and finally all of them rifles. Their various movements were executed with a grace and precision that reflected great credit poor them woodsman, after one of the longest criminal trials in the history of the State. The jury was out less than two-hours. During the long trial Lambert has preserved an appearance of apparent composure and disinterestedness hardly to be expected of one in so grave a position, and the verdict was received by the prisoner without the least show of emotion.

The crime for which Lambert was convicted was a triple murder—one of the most shocking ever recorded in Maine. The victims were J. Wesley Allen, a prominent farmer and member of the board of selectanen of the town of Shirley, his wife, Mary S., and their daughter, Carrie L., aged 16. The murders were committed Sunday evening, May 12, and the murderer set fire to the farm buildings in an effort to cover up the crime.

HEALTH INSPECTOR AT VANCE: executed with a grace and precision that reflected great credit grows them and their instructor.

The club swinging, by little Miss Patchell was a very clever piece of work. Miss Armstrong, who is a bright and entertaining reader, was twice encored, and the youthful quartette who played harmonica and bones were three times recalled. The solo by Miss Stewart was sung with much sweetness and sympathetic expression, and Miss Wilson's Scottish song was also greatly appreciated. The Exmouth street male quartette sang Rule Britannia, and as an encore sang with fine effect a tender love song.

Dr. Wilson before the close of the entertainment, thanked all for their assistance in the entertainment, the proceeds of which go to the trustee fund.

Christmas China and Glassware Hartwood, the home of James Boyle, the Red Head milkman, was burned to the ground on Tuesday afternoon. The house was situated on the Red Jead road, between three and four miles from this city, and was owned by J. D. Hazen, M. P. P. It was insured in the Commercial Union for $500. The fire was a very serious one for Mr. Boyle, who lost all of his household effects, also $800 in cash, which was in the building. The barns were saved, and so none of the stock or farming machinery suffered.

Will be sold at very low prices during this month. This is the largest stock of these goods ever shown in St. John. Kindly call and see this splendid exhibition of beautiful wares.

HOW TO LIFT THE SKIRT.

How to lift a dress gracefully is an unsolved problem. A French fashion is to take hold with both hands at the sides, an effective method, but only suitable for skirts without trains. The American clutches her garment, if it has a train, right in the centre of the back and bunches it up in the left hand, a not very graceful plan. The English woman takes a handful of skirt from the right side of the gown, drags it around to the left and there holds it. This, a fashion gossip says, is the correct thing in theory.

Mr. Daley had quite an exciting experience, as the bear on eneign wounded by a first shot at once showed fight and was only despatched after a lively skirmish, in which Mg.
