JOHN DILLON.

His Sensational Exit from the House of Commons.

The Irish Nationalist Papers Uphold
Him and Attack Mr.
Chamberlain.

LONDON, March 22.—The sensational exit of John Dillon, the Irish Nationalist, from the house of commons Thursday last, continues to be the topic of the hour. The Irish Nationalist papers back up Mr. Dillon's declaration regarding Mr. Chamberlain's lack of veracity, with fearful frankness, though the Dublin Evening Telegraph remarks that Mr. Dillon was guilty of a slight anticipation regarding Mr. Chamberlain's denunciation, which it says is only coming, though already in sight.

LONDON, March 21.—One of the liveliest scenes witnessed in the house of commons since the palmiest days of the Irish nationalists, ended Thursday afternoon with the suspension of John Dillon. During the discussion of the South African affairs, the liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, vigorously protested against the government's conduct in uttering "malignant slanders" in calling the liberals "pro-Boers." These slanders, Sir Henry said, were used for party purposes.
The speaker proceeded to give a bitter, detailed criticism of the government's treatment of the Boers and its miscalculations, declaring that the honor and interests of the country were just as dear to the liberals as to the most superstitious defender of the government's policy and the liberals would continue to protest in the name of the righteous and generous traditions against the methods of the government. The colonial secretary, Mr.
Chamberlain, in the course of an equally incisive reply, said he desired to deliberately accuse Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman of losing no opportunity for slandering his countrymen, the soldiers and the government. Subsequently "the malignant slanders" had come from the opposite side.

The speaker, William Court Gully, here intervened and declared that the term "malignant slander" was unparliamentary.
Both Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. Chamberlain thereupon withdrew the words amid cheers.

Mr. Chamberlain proceeding, referred to the Boers who are fighting on the British side when John Dillon (Irish nationalist) interjected "they are traitors," on which Mr. Chamberlain retorted:
"The honorable gentleman is a good judge of traitors."

A scene of great confusion ensued.
When order was partially restored Mr.
Dillon demanded a ruling on Mr.
Chamberlain's words.
The speaker said:
"An honorable member spoke of soldiers serving under the British flag as traitors. I deprecated the interruption and I deprecated the retort of the other member."

Mr. Dillon then said:
"I will tell the right honorable member that he is a damned liar." A dead silence followed this remark.
Such unparliamentary language seemed to stun the house.
The speaker invited Mr. Dillon to withdraw the expression, but the latter said:
"I will not withdraw."
"Then I must name you," said the speaker.

The government leader, A. J. Balfour, then said:
"I beg to move that Mr. Dillon be suspended from service in the house."

The motion was carried by 248 to 48 votes.
Mr. Dillon immediately by direction of the speaker left the house amidst wild nationalist cheers and Mr. Chamberlain resumed his speech.
Mr. Dillon's suspension under the present rules cannot exceed a week.
His offence would have been much more severely dealt with had the new rules been in force.

BIG COAL COMBINE.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 22.— The bituminous coal operators of the field in Indiana, north of the national road, and having an output of one-third the bituminous coal produced in the state, have perfected a pooling arrangement for the sale of the product, about 2,000,000 tons annually. It is believed this particular pool will be followed by others covering the southern field of the state. The selling agency is to be in Chicago.

VICTORIOUS REBELS.

HONG KONG, March 22.—The rebels have captured the town of Kam Chou, in the province of Kwang Tung and have seized the arsenal and garrison. The mandarins of the garrison sided and appealed to Canton for reinforcements. The viceroy of Canton replied that it was impossible to further deplete the Canton garrison and urged General Ma to make the utmost efforts to put down the rebellion.

CAMBRIDGE WINS.

Oxford Very Badly Beaten in Today's Race.

An Immense Crowd Witnessed the Defeat—The Oxonians Absolutely Rowed Out.

PUTNEY, England, March 22.—The Cambridge crew today fulfilled the expectations of the prophets and won the fifty-ninth boat race from Oxford as they liked. At no time throughout the race did Oxford in the slightest degree latter the hopes of the supporters of the dark blue. Any possible chance which the Oxonians might have had was shattered by the result of the loss giving the light blues (Cambridge) all the advantage of station. Immense crowds, as usual, turned out to view the contest and the incident, though showery, was the most interesting it had been most of the previous years.

Cambridge was the first to take the water, Oxford following after a slight delay, and both crews paddled to the moored skiffs at the starting line. The start was delayed owing to the force of the tide making it difficult to keep the boats' noses straight. Lt. Col.
Frank Willis, the umpire, however, finally got them away in a capital start, the livelier stroke of the light blues gave them the earliest advantage and their lead was increased at every stroke. By the time Cravensteps were reached Cambridge had a clear length to the good and it was patent to every one that they had the race in hand, barring accidents.

PUTNEY, Mar. 22.—Huntley's somewhat sluggish stroke appeared to be too slow to suit some of the Oxford men behind him. Their weight would have told at least in the earlier part of the race had they been given more chance.
As it was each landmark on the river banks found them further and further in the rear and at Harrod's stores their troubles were increased by the wash under the opponent's boat. On the Saccharine Works the dark blues' stroke made his effort, and the Oxford crew struggled gamely. But only for a short distance. Nelson, Cambridge, did not quicken his stroke and the gap was reduced to about a length as the boats reached the Millers' Bridge. The effort took all the steam out of the Ox-onians, their stroke dropped from 37 to 32 and the race was practically over.
Cambridge came right away, pulling comfortably at an average of 36 strokes to the minute and increased her lead without the slightest effort. Before reaching the Millers' Bridge, the dark blues were in the greatest trouble, while the light blues amidst hearty cheerings paddled past the ship at Mortlake, the easiest winners of the fastest university boat race in many years. The official time of the finish was 13 minutes 49 seconds, and the distance separating the two boats was officially given out as being five lengths, but it was nearly eight lengths.

The spectators, especially the Oxonians, were not slow to show their resentment at the somewhat rare spectacle of an Oxford eight absolutely beaten out. The defeated crew included the brothers Milburn of Buffalo.
This was the first time on record that two Americans participated in an Oxford-Cambridge boat race. The experts agree that the Milburns showed fine style. Many "old blues" congratulated them on the fine showing they made and hopes were freely expressed that they would both row next year.
Large crowds of Americans were present to see the race.

PUTNEY, England, March 22.—The fifty-ninth annual boat race between Oxford and the universities of Oxford and Cambridge was rowed today over the regular Thames course from Putney to Mortlake and was won by Cambridge.
The weather, shortly before the start was showery. The water was fairly smooth and a moderate southwest wind was blowing. Cambridge won the toss and chose the Surrey side of the river.
The race started at 12.45 p. m. Rain began falling just before the start.
12.50—At Cravensteps (about three quarters of a mile from the start) Cambridge was leading by about three quarters of a length.
12.52—At Waldens, Cambridge was a length and a quarter ahead.
12.53 p. m.—At Crabtree, Cambridge was a length and a quarter ahead.
12.55—At Harrod's stores, Cambridge was two lengths in the lead.
12.56—At the Saccharine works, Cambridge was still two lengths ahead.
12.58—Cambridge shot under Hammersmith bridge, about 13-4 miles from the start, a little over a length ahead.
1 p. m.—At Chiswick Eyot, favored by the bend in the river, Cambridge increased her lead and led by four lengths at Thorny Crofts' works.
1.05—Cambridge won by eight lengths.
1.08 p. m.—Cambridge at this stage of the race was rowing splendidly. Oxford was fearfully done up.
Cambridge's time was 19 minutes 9 seconds.

Cambridge went away with a slight lead, pulling 36 strokes in the first minute. Oxford pulling 35 strokes in the same time.

tholic deputy, at Binche. The house was greatly damaged, but nobody was hurt.

PROHIBITION.

Large Delegation Today Asks
for a Provincial Act.

Premier Tweedie Promises to Give the Matter the Earliest and Most Careful Consideration.

A prohibition delegation of about thirty members waited on the government this morning. A petition containing 9,369 names of residents of the province was presented, asking that a provincial prohibitory law be enacted.
After a number of the delegates had spoken, Premier Tweedie promised to give the matter most careful consideration and return an answer in writing to the association as soon as possible.
Among the delegates were J. R. Woodburn, C. N. Vroom, of St. Stephen; Rev.
D. Long, J. Willard Mmth, Mr. Doherty, W. D. Baskin, Rev. R. W. Weddall, Rev. Geo. Steel, C. A. Everett, Ald. Maxwell, H. D. Everett, W. Frank Hatheway, J. Gowland, L. L. Sharpe, Rev. H. H. Roach, E. T. C. Knowles,
S. P. MacCavour, J. O. Stackhouse, W.
H. Paterson, A. A. Wilson, John Thomas, W. Simpson and J. F. Bullock.

A delegation from the W. C. T. U., consisting of Mrs. S. D. Scott, Mrs. T.
H. Bullock and Mrs. O. Vanwart was also present. The members of the government in attendance were Premier Tweedie, Hon. William Pugsley, Hon.
C. H. LaBillette, Hon. A. T. Dunn, and
Hon. L. P. Farris.
Woodburn in introducing the delegation, referred to the fact that they had with them a petition bearing between nine and ten thousand signatures asking to have a prohibitory law enacted similar to that lately put in force in Manitoba. He considered that the vote at the plebiscite of 25,911 in favor of a prohibitory law and 9,576 against good grounds upon which to base the request. At that time the liquor party brought out every voter they could, dead and alive. The result, he thought, would be sufficient reason for the enactment of a law without recourse to a referendum. Mr. Woodburn took the City of Cambridge as an example of what prohibition could do, and by statistics showed that under such an act that city had progressed to a far greater extent than during a similar length of time while a license was in effect.

S. P. MacCavour was then introduced and presented the premier with the petition signed by 9,369 residents of the province.
The members of the delegation were then invited to present their views before the government. Rev. David Long was introduced and said that the delegation had not come to inform the government what is right, but rather to stir up their pure minds in remembrance and thus keep the matter before them. At present there is a certain prohibitory law regulating the numbers of hours and days during which liquor might be sold. The delegation wanted the matter carried further.

C. N. Vroom said that the delegation came with a few petitions. More signatures might have been obtained. These petitions are still coming in from outlying districts and in some places there was considerable difficulty in obtaining a suitable number to circulate them. These 10,000 signatures only touch the fringe and border of those that might have been obtained. After the vote of the province is taken, the Scott Act. Nine counties are now supporting the act. The vote, at the second elections, whether or no the act would be retained in these counties, stood 10,799 for and 5,721 against. The majority of the province is strongly in favor of prohibition. It is a principle of law to prohibit all things which are detrimental to the public interest.
The government has recognized that the liquor traffic is an evil by licensing and retaining it and further, too, by requiring the teachers of the public schools to impress on the scholars the evil effect of alcohol on the body.

Mrs. S. D. Scott was called on, and asked the members of the government to take the fact that a delegation were present from the W. C. T. U., was present as a token that that organization was in favor of anything that would advance the interest of temperance.
W. D. Baskin said that all admitted that the liquor traffic was an evil and that the aim of all legislation was to provide the greatest good for the greatest number. This the prohibition of liquor would fulfill the end and aim of good legislation. He considered that if the proper machinery was given for enforcement that the law would be a success. Of course, it could not be entirely enforced. No law is.

Rev. Geo. Steel said the mind of the people was in favor of prohibition and he believed that such a law would be possible. He trusted that the government would give some hope that the will of the people would be made supreme in this matter.

Ald. Robert Maxwell asked that the decision of the government be not based on the petition alone, but on the plebiscite as well. Although only about 23 per cent of the vote came out then, yet at the most hotly contested general election only 60 per cent came out. He asked that the matter be not again referred to the people.

J. R. Woodburn thanked the premier and the members of the government for their courtesy, and said he hoped to hear from them as soon as possible.
Premier Tweedie said he recognized the great importance of the position taken by the delegation. A full consideration will be given. A reply will be sent as soon as possible. It is unfortunate, for the speedy consideration of the subject, that it should have come up just when the legislature is at work and the members of the government are kept busy all the time, so that there is not much opportunity to give attention to matters

CANADIAN JUSTICE.

Is More Sure Than That of the United States.
(Edmonton Bulletin.)

Among the hundreds of American citizens who came to Alberta last spring were two young men, one completely, the other comparatively, unknown this side of the line. Shortly after one of the men returned to the states alone. Some time later in a sparsely settled part of the country, near Battle Lake, the body of an unknown man was found buried in a shallow grave. The body was partially decomposed and no clue was apparent of any importance.

Corp. Hetherington of the N. W. M.
P., took up the case and following the slender thread of evidence at hand, found the facts above stated and was led to the conclusion that the body was that of the unknown American.
For months he ransacked the western states in search of additional evidence and finally arrested in a western town the companion of the unknown man.
The prisoner was brought to Alberta and witnesses from southern Alberta, from Michigan and Wyoming, the culmination of the case was the sentence of death passed on C. B. Bullock, to be fulfilled on the 26th of the coming month.

The pursuit and punishment of the murderer is not more creditable to the ingenuity and perseverance of Corporal Hetherington than to the spirit of justice which backs up Canadian officers in the detection and punishment of crime.

"Don't crowd so!" exclaimed several voices at once. "You are crushing the life out of this little fellow." "Worse than that!" gasped the undersized man in the center of the throng. "They are crushing a lot of 15-cent cigars in my vest pocket!"
