PLUMS GROW 350 MILES NORTH OF EDMONTON

Extraordinary Report on Possibilities of the Remote Peace River District
 Reaches Montreal.

Word has just been received by Mr. F. S. Lawrence, from the Dominion experimental station at Fort Vermilion, in the Peace River district, under date of Aug. 10. The superintendent reports everything moving favorably at the station, with the prospect of excellent returns for the season. The apple and plum trees set out three years ago have done wonderfully well, and the superintendent states that he will have a particularly interesting report to make at the close of the season, which will likely come as a surprise to many people of Eastern Canada. This station was established three years ago by Mr. Lawrence, and the returns have given valuable additional proof of the tremendous agricultural possibilities of the Peace River district. It is interesting to note that this station is in latitude 55-29, only 350 miles due north of Edmonton, and is reached at the present time by a somewhat circuitous route of 700 miles. Surveys are being rapidly pushed in this district, and in spite of the distance from railway communication, settlers are even now finding their way into these districts.

BROKER GAVE HIMSELF UP ON OLD CHARGE

Wanted Since 1907—An Echo of the
 Blue Bell and Highland Mary
 Epitaphs.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 25.—William Russell, wanted since 1907 in Toronto on the charge of obtaining money by fraud in connection with the flotation of Blue Bell and Highland Mary mining stock shares, surrendered himself Tuesday to United States Deputy Marshal Clobis, and was released on $5,000 bond. He will get a hearing before United States Commissioner Walther today. Although a fugitive from justice is not, under the law, permitted to be admitted to bail, a special arrangement was made with the Ontario Government in the case of Russell, mainly because his young wife pleaded so hard for him. Former Judge F. J. Wing, representing the Ontario Government, let Russell go on a bond signed by Mrs. Russell on the man's promise to appear at a hearing. Mrs. Russell, who is considerably younger than her husband, and remarkably handsome, is the owner of a $25,000 home in Lima, Ohio, and also owns the opera house, worth $40,000, in that city. Russell was arrested in Lima some time ago on request of the Canadian Government, but was released later on bond by a commissioner. It was feared, however, that he might not show up when wanted, and the first case against him therefore was dismissed, and a new warrant was issued. United States Deputy Marshal Fenning went to Lima to arrest Russell, but could not find him. Russell's wife then began negotiations, which resulted in the getting of permission from the Canadian authorities to release Russell on a bond if he would surrender, whereupon the man gave himself up as stated.

AMERICAN MAGNATES IN N. B. COPPER MINE

The Westmorland mine, at Dorchester, N. B., one of the richest copper mines in the province, was sold this week by the present owners, the Maritime Exploration Co., Ltd., to the firm of L. Vogelstein & Company of New York, one of the largest copper dealers in the world. The new owners announce their intention of beginning work at once on a large scale for the development of the mine and expect in the near future, should results prove satisfactory, to erect a concentration mill with a capacity of 10,000 tons of ore daily. This industry will afford work for the vicinity of 500 men. The mine has been in prospect of development for over 20 years past, and though considerable test work has been done, has never been operated commercially. It was first taken up by a provincial syndicate in 1888, who did little but and finally transferred their property in 1903 to the Westmorland Mining Company, composed of several prominent Americans, including H. M. Whitney of Boston, Darius L. Goff of Pawtucket and several others. Under their ownership considerable development work was done and some ore shipped, but not as a commercial proposition. Last year the Maritime Exploration Company of New Glasgow, N. S., took hold of the mine and have now succeeded in interesting the Vogelstein people, whose purchase means certain and great development of the property is of value. The proposition under consideration is to erect a plant to concentrate the ore to a refined product, about 15 per cent. pure copper, which will probably be manufactured in the Vogelstein plant which is at present 27 inches open and about the same number of trial pits which will now be operated. The mine is about a mile from the town of Dorchester.

PRIZE BULL RUNS AMUCK AND INJURES TWO MEN

Committed Suicide Because the World Did Not End

Maine Man Found With Bullet Hole in Neck
 —More Fatalities in South—Scientist Says Neither Explorer Has Proof.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Sept. 24.—An Ayshire bull, the prize winner of the farm connected with the Mount Hermon School for boys at Northfield, Mass., developed a morose and temper today, ran amuck and tossed and severely injured two men and a dog, and killed a horse. A rifle bullet ended the career of the bull. WATERTOWN, Mass., Sept. 24.—Hill pockets filled with newspaper clippings which told of the belief of a certain sect in the coming of the end of the world today, and expressing his personal faith in this fact, George Tibbels, a farmer here from Boston today to accept a job in a local bakery and soon after was found dead with his throat cut by a bread knife. MILFORD, Me., Sept. 24.—Verne McCall, a machinist employed in the factory of the American Bed Company, at Lakeside, six miles from Milford, was found dead today with a bullet hole in his neck, by the crew of a hand car on the Canadian Pacific R. R. The body lay face down over a rifle, and it was believed that McCall, who had been suffering several days with a slight illness, committed suicide. Tibbels, formerly worked in the Bangor Iron Works. He had no family. NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 24.—With the fat of dead men, the number of fatalities. Many small shops and launches are lying wrecked on the shores of Louisiana, and the water front is a scene of desolation. Anxiety for the safety of steamers here, formerly worked in the Mississippi hurricane period on the Gulf has been relieved. Nearly all of these vessels were wrecked on the coast. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 24.—The celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the prohibition of the sale of liquor today with prominent leaders from all sections of the country in attendance. More than 1,000 out-of-town delegates were present. SALZBURG, Austria, Sept. 24.—Addressing the Congress of Naturalists today, Professor Albrecht F. X. Penck, professor of geography in the University of Berlin, made an interesting comparison of the reports of Commander Peary and Dr. Cook, concerning the discovery of the North Pole. He analyzed the published accounts of their having found the Pole, and reached the conclusion that neither of them had sufficient scientific equipment with them in the far north.

PRESIDENT TAFT IN A MORMON PULPIT

Has Spoken in Many Different
 Religious Edifices

Congratulatory Address Widely Cheered by Enthusiastic Mormons—Taft Meets Pinchot.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 24.—President Taft added a Mormon tabernacle today to the long list of religious edifices in which he has made addresses to the people. Not long ago in a Jewish tabernacle at Pittsburgh, Mr. Taft declared he was no stranger in the pulpit, and enumerated his different experiences in denominational churches. Today's experiences were entirely new. It was at Provo, a thriving little city, 40 miles south of Salt Lake, where it is said 80 per cent. of the residents are Mormons, and the home of Senator Reed Smoot is situated, that the president faced probably the most effectively enthusiastic audience of his ten days of travelling to the west. There was nothing in all the program to suggest the religious character of the building. The president's arrival at the pulpit of the people, his congratulations to them on their evidence of prosperity, and the fact that they were a community of the law, adding by the laws and determined to give every community of which they were a part should be a law community, called forth continuous cheers. Mr. Taft declared he had intended to speak but five minutes. His reception was so cordial, however, that he spoke for nearly half an hour. From Provo, where he was officially welcomed by Governor Spry, Senator Smoot and Sutherland and others, the president came on to Salt Lake to remain until Sunday noon. The arrival of the president added an incident to the now famous Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, which was extremely interesting to those who saw it. Secretary Pinchot had arrived in Salt Lake and would meet the presidential party there. When the train stopped, Mr. Pinchot was at the foot of the rear platform steps of the president's car with Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho. "Why, hello Pinchot," called the president, extending a hand heartily to grasp that of the chief forester. "How are you?" he added.

Roy A. Davidson, who has been spending the summer with his parents in St. John will return to Montreal this evening to resume his studies at McGill. "Why, hello Pinchot," called the president, extending a hand heartily to grasp that of the chief forester. "How are you?" he added.

MOTHER

This happy mother, like thousands of others, believes in nothing so much as Mother Seigel's Syrup. The days when household work was a burden and the least exertion painful, when even her own children irritated her, are a long way behind. So are the headaches, the dizziness, the heartburn, the indigestion and the constant feeling of fatigue. They vanished like a bad dream the day she first bought Mother Seigel's Syrup, and a place in her cupboard. It is the standard remedy for Indigestion and Liver Disorders, and the regular family medicine in thousands of Canadian homes. Good for mother. Good for father. Good for all the family. Price 25c a bottle. Sold everywhere. A. J. White & Co. Ltd., Montreal.

SCOTLAND GETS MILLIONS FROM GROUSE SHOOTING

Sportsmen Spend Immense Sums Annually
 —Prince of Wales Enjoys the Sport.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—What grouse shooting costs, an always fertile topic of discussion in England at this time of year, has this season been particularly to the fore, in consequence of the current regarding the large amount of money expended by Harry Payne Whitney for the sake of a few days' shooting over the Naimivick Moors which he leases in Galloway. Some striking figures are contributed to the discussion by a writer in the Pall Mall Magazine, who says:—
 "It was not until the influx of 'foreigners' (by whom he means southerners) to the wilds of Scotland and the rolling expanses of moorland in Yorkshire and the North that the present day value was set upon the sporting estates. Certainly it was part of the religion of the natives from time immemorial to hunt the grouse, but with the killing of grouse, but the creation of the shooting rents had not begun. The eager competition to acquire a grouse moor is told by the prices realized for the three months of the season.
 "Five hundred pounds ($2,500) will be asked for a comparatively limited estate, while if there be ground game and salmon as well another hundred would be a reasonable addition. Although the year 1907 was reckoned as a good grouse year, Captain Higson paid nearly $20,000 for the famous Braemar Moors in Ross, while at least twenty other titled gentlemen and millionaires parted with sums ranging up to $1,000 for the three months. Even in the years when the grouse is poor, a moor, an area of 10,000 acres with a lodge, and stocked with birds can seldom be leased under $500. In Scotland alone there are some 2,400 shootings on which grouse rights are let, and on these, in a good year, 500,000 brace of birds will fall to the deadly aim of the guns.
 "Every brace of grouse is calculated to cost the sporting tenant a sovereign a brace, so that these hardy birds are responsible for the addition of $500,000 of money in rentals to the coffers of the sportsmen. The return to the sportsman is a trifling of the expenses cheerfully borne by those who hasten to answer the call of the moors."
 This year the grouse shooting began in brilliant weather. On the Bolton Abbey Moors the Prince of Wales and Duchess of Devonshire and their party enjoyed a capital day's shooting. Sport commenced at Brown Bank, near Bradshaw, and ended at Haystack, luncheon being partaken of at Rocking-Stone Hall. The result of the day's sport was 308 brace to nine guns.
