Smallpox is dying out in Carleton Co. There are only four or five cases now in Carleton Co. and none in Woodstock.

It is current street talk that D. Mulvan, K. C. is in the field as a candidate for provincial legislative honors.—The Freeman.

Capt. Pitt states that this week an investigation into the origin of the fire on the Addino Paddock will be commenced by the insurance men.

A pipet of "Amber" Plug Smoking Tobacco will burn 75 minutes. "Test It!" "Save the Tags, they are valuable."

The steamer Aberdeen is still on the Fredericton-Woodstock route, and the water continues high. Not for over twenty years has she been able to keep up the service so late in the season.

The steamer David Weston, from Fredericton, had a large passenger list yesterday as well as a big freight, including many crates of berries. The wholesale price averaged nine and a half cents per box.

Another oil well was torpedored at St. Joseph's last week, and three are now protruding oil. Other wells will be torpedored as soon as possible. Tanks are being constructed and there is new talk of refineries.

Among the patents recently granted at Ottawa were two to New Brunswick—ones to Donald Fraser, J. C. Fredericton, for "feed mechanism for planing machines," the other to Thos. B. Melanson, Upper Charlo, for a can coupler.

The death is announced in England of W. H. Mackenzie, who lived for many years in St. John, and who was a member of the firm of Mackenzie Brothers, dealers in dry goods. Many older readers will hear with regret of Mr. Mackenzie's demise.

The death is reported of Mrs. Mary Edwards, wife of William Edwards, who died on Saturday at her home, 131 Spring street. Mrs. Edwards was seventy-five years of age and leaves three daughters. She had been ill for about five weeks.

The death of Adair J., third daughter of John L. Cambridge, occurred on Monday, June 30, at her father's home, Willow Bank, Burton, Sunbury Co., N. B. The deceased was a bright and interesting girl, of amiable and friendly disposition, and will be very much missed by all friends and acquaintances.

A Nova Scotia packet that arrived yesterday morning from Annapolis brought to this city a few barrels of apples. The apples were quickly bought up and big prices were asked. The apples are known as Northern Spy and are in excellent condition. This is the first lot that has reached this port for some time. The apples wintered splendidly.

HOME TO IRELAND. Officer James Semple of the North End force, has obtained two months leave of absence and left on Saturday night on a visit to his parents in Ireland. His place on the force is being filled by Charles Amos, who served for some years, and who resigned about a year and a half ago. Officer Amos went on duty on Saturday.

ANOTHER ROBBERY. A daring robbery was reported to the police Saturday. The house of Patrick Rodgers on Millidge street, was entered during the evening, and $121 in cash stolen. Of this amount $130 belonged to Mr. Rodgers, who intended to place it in the bank yesterday. The balance belonged to his brother John. There was no sign of the money having been broken into, and it is thought the thief entered by means of a key.

LOCH LOMOND RACES. There will be a yacht race at Loch Lomond on Saturday, July 12. The distance will be six miles. It is expected ten or a dozen boats will compete for the Wright cup.

On the following Saturday, the 19th inst., Commodore Wright purposes having a regatta at Loch Lomond, the proceeds from which will be appropriated to build a steeple to the Episcopal church at Loch Lomond.

Raymond G. Doherty have kindly donated a very handsome cup, with Tourist Association views of St. John engraved on it, for next Saturday's race.

S. H. Barker has placed his steam yacht at the service of the Judges and the press. Buses will leave Love's stable at 8 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.

The regatta on the following Saturday will be a subscription affair, the proceeds to go to the steeple fund.

POLICE GET NEWS FROM KILSON.

The police have at last got news of Oscar Kilson, who, on June 8th, escaped from the jail in this city. It did not come in response to the photographs of the escaped prisoner which were promptly sent out to all important centres, nor was he discovered by the local detective force. In a new and sparsely settled country like New Brunswick intelligence travels slowly, and it is only within the past couple of days that the force has learned that Kilson was at Mace's Bay about a fortnight ago. Last week a woman from the locality came to the station and told several of her friends that some two weeks ago a lad answering to Kilson's description came to a house in Mace's Bay one night asking for shelter and food. He gave his name as Oscar Kilson, and told many interesting stories in connection with his attempted capture. He spent a couple of days quite openly at the seaside resort, where he chose to spend a brief holiday while dodging the police, and then was taken in a sailboat to Eastport. The local authorities were all the while under the impression that Kilson would join his brother's schooner, while she was in port, and a search of the vessel was accordingly made on the day of her sailing. About that time it appears Oscar, the boy burglar, was enjoying himself at Mace's Bay.

GILMOUR BROWN AND CATTLE GUARDS.

At the last session of parliament Mr. Lancaster, M. P. for Lincoln, Ont., introduced a measure concerning the liability of railways to provide suitable cattle guards and to be responsible for the loss of cattle in case suitable protection were not given. This measure was debated at length in the house and in the railway committee, and in the latter body there were a number of animated and stormy sessions. On the Hon. Mr. Blair undertaking to inquire into the whole matter of cattle guards and to be prepared with legislation on the subject at the next session of parliament the bill was not proceeded with.

Gilmour Brown, C. E., has been appointed by the department of railways and canals to investigate the whole matter. Mr. Brown, who is at present in the city, goes to Ottawa this week, where he will confer with the railway department before beginning his investigation.

DIED IN ENGLAND.

NEWARK, N. J., July 7.—Word was received here tonight that Wm. Clark, the chief manufacturer, died today in England. Mr. Clark was one of the largest manufacturers of thread in the world. He was born at Paisley, Scotland, in 1841.

WILLIAM CLARK OF LARGS, SCOTLAND.

Formerly of Newark, N. J., where he was the head of the Clark thread company, died last night at Castle-down, Portland. He had been seriously ill at Bath for several weeks, but had so far recovered that he was able last week to be taken to his yacht, the "Sylphide," at Southampton. It was hoped that a yachting cruise, his favorite pastime, would complete the recovery. His wife, the daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Waters, is well known in St. John. In 1886 or 1887 Mr. Clark while on a voyage to New York in his yacht the Mohican resided in the lull of a hurricane near Sable Island, the crew of the bark Lillian, owned by Hall and Fairweather of St. John.

ESCAPED LUNATIC QUICKLY CAPTURED.

One Assione Comeau, a Frenchman, aged nineteen, belonging to the North Shore, escaped from the Provincial Lunatic Asylum yesterday, but was soon captured by the north and police, and within a few minutes after breaking bonds was once more in the hands of the asylum officers. Comeau, with a number of others, was playing ball with the old idea in his head that a home run was out made a bolt for liberty. He did well for a short time, but Sergt. Watson's signature appears against him on the north and police books.

PIRE AT WOLFVILLE.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., July 7.—Early Sunday morning an alarm of fire was rung out, which proved to be one of the coal sheds of the Wolfville Co., on what is known as the Stone wharf. The fire department responded promptly and soon had three streams of water playing on the burning building, but too late to save it. It contained very little coal and was valued at $500. The fire was thoroughly extinguished, and loss will be in the vicinity of $700.

WANDERERS HEARD FROM.

Mrs. James Murray, No. 25 Harding street, has received a letter from her son, Sam, who with other boys, among them sons of Pilot Rogers, stowed away on a steamer at this port several months ago, and landed in Africa. The letter is written from Sydney, Australia, and conveys the information that he and Rogers are now apprentices on the Crossmachado and would soon sail for Japan. They hope to be home by Christmas.—Globe.

BURIED AT STONE.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The body of Lord Pauncefote, late British ambassador at Washington, who died at Stone, near Newark, in Nottinghamshire, England, instead of at Preston, Stone is a short distance from London and is the seat of Henry Bromley, who occupies Stone hall. The Bromleys are a branch of the Pauncefotes, and one of the youngest Bromleys married a daughter of Lord Pauncefote. It is deemed desirable, therefore, to have the body rest where the friends and relatives are now located, rather than to be taken to the old home at Preston, from which he is family have been separated for some time. The funeral services at Stone have already been closed owing to the number of bodies buried there.

CAPE BRETON, July 4.—Daniel O'Handley of Glendale, Inverness Co., Cape Breton, was instantly killed at the Reserve Mines colliery today, when he was struck by runaway car in the pit. O'Handley was twenty years of age and had only been working in the pit a month.

CALAIS

Celebrated July 4th in a Hearty Manner.

Interesting Races in the Park.—The Winners and the Time Made in the Various Events.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., July 4.—Our neighbors across the river celebrated independence day in glorious style, closing with fireworks and a band concert by the St. John band and Carleton Cornet band.

The Calais base ball team defeated the Pembroke team by a score of 10 to 6. The most interesting feature of the day was the horse races in the Calais park. The 2.27 class had for starters Tutrix, Maud C., Cherry Arden, Lady Lumps and Barabado, and every heat was fought from wire to wire, Tutrix being the favorite.

The free-for-all furnished some of the most exciting racing that has been seen here being necessary to finish it. Every heat was worth the price paid for admission.

In the first two heats Kwanson was driven by his groom, who handled the horse as well as any man could have, but in those two heats he would not go steady, and it seemed to be an off day with him. In the fourth heat he went equally as well with Mr. Johnson, but redeemed himself with a splendid exhibition of speed and smooth work in the last heat, finishing many lengths in the lead. Keno went better and smoother than he ever did here, and Tutrix put up a great race.

Kwanson, J. M. Johnson, 2:24 1/2

McGregor having failed to win one heat, he did not start in the last. The judges were Mayor F. M. Murdoch, Geo. McLain and James E. Osborne. Mr. Osborne acted as starter and the referee was Mr. J. Armstrong. Harry E. Beak and Jas. H. McMan were timers. Over a thousand people witnessed the exciting races, which are being widely discussed tonight.

CHATHAM NEWS.

CHATHAM, July 4.—A little more rain nearly every day, just to lay the dust, but between the mizzling process there is fine, clear, cool weather. Crops are in a backward state in every section and the "rule of wool" of the farmers is a grievous one.

One of the residents of Chatham, who is a graduate of the University of Toronto, is a member of the St. John club. He is a very good player and has been playing for some time.

Rumors are current to the effect that the pilotage commissioners are likely to resign, the alleged action being supported by the expectation of a new pilotage law, which is said to be brought by the so-called "scab pilots" against those who are recognized as "the pilots." It will be a pity if any more difficulties are raised in this unfortunate pilotage business.

The expectation that the negotiations for the purchase of the Canadian Pacific railway by the Government are likely to succeed gives great satisfaction to citizens, who anticipate a greatly improved service both for passengers and freight, with probably a line of steamers to Prince Edward Island in the near future.

A large bear and two cubs about three months old were seen by the late Mr. Nelson, who was playing ball about five miles from town this afternoon.

James Nelson, an old citizen of Chatham, has returned from Boston on a visit to see his friends. Mr. Nelson is as fresh as a young man and is remarkably active. John A. Wilson of New York is making a short tour in search of Miramichi come, and is already planning excursions by sea and land.

Quite a number of Chathamites residing abroad paid a visit to town on Monday. They were met by the Wilsons and took their usual place in the Citizens' band on Wednesday evening at an operatic concert in the square. The fountain plays away without intermission and is a great attraction, throwing its jets to a height of twenty-five feet in the air.

JURY DISAGREED.

SYDNEY, C. B., July 4.—The jury at 4:15 o'clock this morning reported to the court that they could not agree on a verdict in the second trial of Adam L. Bailey, on the charge of procuring abortion on Miriam Cosman. A new trial will be ordered, but not for this session of the court. The jury was out about eight hours.

COLONIAL PREMIERS.

LONDON, July 8.—The Daily Chronicle this morning, in an article on the conferences of the colonial premiers, says it has good reason to declare that the conference will be a success. It has already offered in the direction of preferential trade with Great Britain, and as the financial position of the colonies is generally improving, it is not likely to have practical results.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of D. Bassen, St. George, who carries a full line of Dry Goods, etc.

HOW CAUSTIC BURNS.

Take a piece of woolen cloth, or a piece of a blanket, and boil it thoroughly in a strong solution caustic soda, and you will find the wool will gradually be eaten away, leaving nothing but the skeleton. Women do not realize how "soap substitutes" which are generally surcharged with soda or how common alkaline soaps destroy their clothing; consequently they wash with soap, subject costly fabrics to ruin, and the hands are also immersed for hours in such solutions, resulting in eczema, coarse skin, and reddish nails. The caustic soda may lessen the dirt, but it eats away the fabric and ruins the hands. There is no economy in such work. It is so easy for a woman to test the difference between an all-ral charged soap and a neutral washing soap, that it is strange that there is room for any but a pure soap on the Canadian market. Sunlight Soap has been tested by chemists and analysts of the world over, and is found to be free from alkali or caustic has been demonstrated by the highest medical authorities. Consequently the true saying, "Sunlight Soap reduces eczema." 602.

Cheers for the Royal Host Who Gave the Members of the Royal Family to Represent Him—Dinner Served in Halls and Under Tents in the City Park.

LONDON, July 5.—All the public jubilation which was expected to attend the coronation, with a genuine spirit of thankfulness added, was concentrated today in the festivities connected with the King's dinner to the people of London. Fully a million persons either partook of the royal hospitality or witnessed this, the greatest feast ever provided by a single man.

The feast was opened with the announcement that London, most of all longed to hear, namely, that the King had passed safely the great danger which for three weeks had threatened his life. Joy and thankfulness never found more enthusiastic expression than London's humblest citizens put into their cheers, and there was a note in their constant singing of God Save the King that somehow was a little different from any ever heard before.

Every great hall and several of the most beautiful of the smaller parks of London were utilized for this monster feast, tickets for which had been distributed for a month past by central and local committees of church and charitable societies, etc. It was attempted to fix the scale of eligibility on the basis of those families whose combined income was $5 per week; married couples with one child whose income was $5 per week, and families of two, whose income was $4.50, and single persons whose wages amounted to $3 per week. The arrangements broke down to some extent in certain districts, and many persons who were eligible did not succeed in partaking of the feast. But, on the whole, the selections were well made. It goes without saying that every one invited accepted, and for the most part it was the time of their lives.

The correspondent of the Sun attended the largest gathering of all in Bishop's Park, Fulham, where 14,000 persons sat down in thirteen large tents which sheltered them from the hot rays of the sun. Three or four of these shelters were marked "temperance tents," and the tables were occupied chiefly by women and children.

It was a really respectable-looking gathering. There were many cases of attempts at sobriety and personal adornment which were almost pitiful. Poverty, where it was apparent, showed more in the faces of the people than in their attire, and the joy of the occasion went far to disguise even the poorest.

The Prince and Princess of Wales arrived just at the hour that it had been announced the feast would begin, and it is the simple truth to say that every one at the table showed a greater interest in seeing and cheering the royal visitors than in the great supply of edibles heaped before them. They sang and shouted and cheered for the few minutes that the members of the royal family remained.

Then they fell to in perfect decorum until the "best" potatoes, plum pudding, beer and brandy were consumed. They admired the King's gift of souvenir earthenware cups, which were inscribed "The King's Coronation Dinner, Presented by His Majesty, July, 1892."

The people reached a high pitch of enthusiasm, oddly enough, when the cheese arrived. This seemed a special luxury to most of them. "Here, miss, here," they shouted, and the women who acted as waiters, and scrambled for extra pieces.

This was as nothing, however, to the excitement when the boxes of chocolate came. The contents were little late in arriving. The wagons drove up laden with flat tin boxes. Instantly there was a great rush from all parts of the ground. The waiters and police were helpless, and good-naturedly pitched boxes by the hundreds into the clamoring throng. The scramble was not seriously violent, and was taken in good part by all. The people, however, were so gorged themselves, but appeared to be perfectly happy.

They trooped off to another section of the park, where scores of entertainments were being held. Thence they went to Floral Hall, Covent Garden. The Duchess of Argyll visited Olympia and other centres in Paddington. The southeast district, and Princess Christian the factory section of North London, where 10,000 persons were fed under one roof.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who had charge of the committee, received this message from the Duke of Buckingham Palace, when the gaitery was at its highest: "How is the dinner at Fulham getting along?"

His reply was simply: "Glorious," and that, rightly describes the great feast all over London.

There were distributed altogether 250,000 pounds of roast meat; 250,000 pounds of potatoes, the same number of loaves of bread, 1,000,000 ounces of cheese, 125 tons of pudding, 20,000 gallons of beer, 150,000 pints of ginger-beer and 75,000 pints of lime juice.

The usual menu was cold beef and mutton, fruit, tarts and pudding. In some districts pickles were added to the bill of fare. The King's health was drunk heartily from the souvenir earthenware cups.

The entertainers included every class of the population.

REV. JOHN MURRAY.

His Death Took Place Yesterday at Johnville, Carleton Co.—Had Been a Priest About 45 Years.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 7.—News reached here this morning of the death of Rev. John Murray, the well-known parish priest of Johnville. It was met together a surprise since Father Murray was very ill, and was asked to proceed at once to Johnville to administer the last rites. He left at once, as requested. This morning it was announced that Father Murray had died at an early hour. The news was heard with much sorrow, for during a long pastorate in Woodstock, extending from 1876 to 1881, Father Murray had won the affection and esteem of all classes. As a preacher he excelled. His kindness to the poor and needy when in Woodstock is well known to need special mention. Father Carney of Fredericton is a cousin of deceased.

(His Lordship the Bishop of St. John received a despatch yesterday morning informing him of Father Murray's death, and he leaves this morning to be present at the funeral, which will take place at Johnville on Wednesday. Father Murray had many relatives and friends in St. John who will deeply regret to hear of his death. Born in St. John on Nov. 11, 1834, Father Murray studied theology in Quebec Seminary and was the first priest ordained in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. He was stationed for some years in Ken County, and afterwards was transferred to Carleton county, where, as already stated, he spent the last twenty-six years. Father Murray was one of the most learned men in the church, and was beloved by the people among whom he had lived. During his last hours he was calm, peaceful and resigned. For a few days before his fatal illness he had been feeling poorly, but yet went about the performance of his duties until compelled to give up.

A brother of deceased, Rev. Joseph Murray, died in St. John some years ago.

MONCTON SOLDIER KILLED.

MONTREAL, July 7.—A correspondent of a local paper on board the steamship Winifredian, which sailed from Halifax on May 17 with the Sixth Regiment, Canadian Mounted Rifles writes that on June 6 the launching of the ship in a heavy sea pitched one of the ship's holds through one of the ship's sides. Trooper George of Moncton, N. B., was instantly killed. Trooper Hicks of Halifax was badly injured and is not expected to recover, and Trooper Harper had a leg broken. Two others were badly bruised.
