ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 28, 1906. OPPOSITION TO LORD'S DAY BILL.

The opposition to the Lord's Day Bill LOTS OF SOLDIERS TO now before parliament is increasing and it is becoming apparent that radical changes must be made in its form before it is passed

It has been shown for instance that the enforcement of the bill, as drafted would be ruinous to railroads, and both trainmen and managers have registered strong protest.

We have as yet noticed no organized protest from newspaper proprietors, but that will probably come, for if the functionary of the prefecture of police letter of the law is enforced, Monday today the military and police are premorning as well as Sunday editions pared to meet every eventuality May will be put out of business. The bulk I. He said the police canvass shows of the reportorial and a large part of that 80,000 men have stopped work of of the reportorial and a large part of which number the disorderly element does not exceed 20,000. Against these o'clock Sunday night and to prevent namely 20,000 infantry, 10,000 cavalry this would probably compel the cancellation of the early edition,

And has it occurred to the clerical members of the Lord's Day Alliance who are back of the bill that if their expressed wishes are literally carried out no more of their sermons will be of Paris or getting west of the Place reported? For reporting a sermon is certainly work-in many instances very hard work-and does not come under the exemption granted to work of necessity or mercy.

JAIL MATRON NEEDED.

The evidence brought out at the inquest over the woman whose wretched career was ended by death in the jail the other day gives new emphasis to the demand for a matron to look after the unfortunate women whom the law places in that institution. A jail is not supposed to be a place of happiness; but neither should it be a place of torment nor a place whose influences tend to drag its inmates granted an eight hour day and a weekstill lower down the infamous road. It is not right that a dying woman should lack care and comfort; it is not right that a young girl arrested for a first and minor offense should be herded with vile old women whose lives have been one reek of sin and crime.

The presence of a good and a capable woman with authority over the female prisoners would ensure against such occurrences as this, and, at little cost, would make of the county jail an institution which would help to reform its inmates instead of completing their

The police will endeavor to localize the manifestation to the place De La Republique which is the great labor centre and to the vicinity of the labor exchange. This will prevent the manifestants from gaining the centre D La Concorde, into the residential sections of the Champs Elysee or Passy. It is expected that the strength of the military and police will readily enable them to confine the disorderly element within its own, eastern sections, thus reducing the demonstration to factories which should easily be controlled. The police are convinced that there is no danger of a lack of food supplies owing to the strike in the provision trades. They declare that the dealers in provisions are reaping a harvest by spreading reports. The police are in favor of closing the stores altogether. In conclusion the official of the perecture stated that the situation while being serious does not warrant, it being represented as tragic.
