ROWNERS EATTHERN TO PARTY

s. Wheelbarrows.

Concertinas.

Bats, Etc., Etc., at

Poles, Hooks, Lines.

Mucilage, Blank and Memo, Books

lotte and Union Streets.

y & Daly

and Double Widths, Newest

The most Stylish and Comforthite and Cream, is very extens Goods.

Y & DALY,

ISAACS.

HAVANA and DOMESTIC CIGARS

CHAUM PIPES constantly in stock at very low ALFRED ISAACS.

nted, the Nationals have received a disch from Halifax asking them to play one ne Monday. They have accepted and take tonight's train.

anton LaTour will meet next Wednes-evening. A large attendance is re-sted, as business of importance will be echanics' Institute.

RATORIO CONCERTS

ıdaS MaccabæuS

nydn's "Seasons" and Matinee.

G STREET RESTAURANT

ns his numerous patrons and the public that he has opened a

irst Class Eating Saloon

MR. W. A. LANG

TRINITY BLOCK.

No. 94 King Street. R. J. LANG, Manag

TO THE HEALTH FOR ALL.

e Table Butter and edical Profession.

Farm Dairy Butter Store.

OURIST'S GUIDE

12 CHARLOTTE STREET.

St. John

rince of New Brunswick

dustratious, Railroad and Steamboat Lines, of Interest in the City and Province, etc., all other information useful to Tourists, ... Compiled by Jas. M. MULHALL. aper 25 cents, Cloth 50 cents. For sale by

NION LINE

FURTHER NOTICE, the splendid DAVID WESTON and ACADIA, alter-fill leave St. John (Indiantown) for Fred-and Fredericton for St. John (St. John St. Jo

URSDAYS and SATURDAYS Excursion ssued to Brown's, Williams', Oak Point er's wharves, good to return on day of is-d cents, or to Hampstead and return foy 50

AT EVENING AND MONDAY MOINING or accommodation of business meil and teamer ACADIA will lave Indiantown urday evening, at six o'clock, for Hampling at intermediate stops. Returning, Hampstead at six o'clock Monday morning at the control of the con

. & A. McMILLAN,

Finest Quality Cream

tere he will be pleased to see The coolest rooms, the choice that attendance in the city.

JULY 10th and 11th.

55c. per pair.

in the City.

ng Street,

reet.

MRS. MAHONEY'S METHOD

PLAYING UPON THE CREDULITY

Mrs. Mahoney is a woman of peculiar jewelry from every lady she can induce to do business with her, and sells the same,

Mrs. Mahoney is well known to the omen of St. John. She has been the

she has a sister, who disposes of her goods.

There is ample reason for the belief that Mrs. Mahoney's sister is an imaginary to her customer reation, put forward by her to her cus-mers to dispel their fears that some day tomers to dispel their fears that some day they will hear that their new gown once belonged to Mrs. — With all the veracity and unblushing effrontery of her craft, she never fails to promise, when she buys a dress, that it shall not be seen in the vicinity again. Few women would sell dresses, even if they were tired of them, with the chance of seeing some menial wearing them, and looking 50 per cent. better than in any costume she had ever credulity of the people she deals with. Her the well-to-do, who wear costumes, not until they are no more, but so long as they ion and look nice. Their day over, Mrs. Mahoney steps in and offers a ccrtain sum for them. If the lady has heard of her before, she gets the amount down in approved cash before Mrs. M secures the apparel; but there are scores who give Mrs. Mahoney a first trial and get "taken in." Nine times out of ten this adroit fraud will offer her victim half the sum she promises to give, with the remark that she will call in the afternoon or tonorrow with the balance, but "this afternoon" or "tomorrow" with Mrs. Mahoney is postponed indefinitely. Some time ago a lady on a quiet street in the city, who had ventered to sell to the dame and had been fooled in this fashion, spied her on the dewalk, a few doors away. Going out she asked her for the amount due her, whereupon she was assailed with such abuse that she was glad to seek the shelter of her

The daughter of a prominent gentleman had a set of jewelry which she was not using, and, wanting some cash, she sent word to Mrs. Mahoney. In this case Mrs M. had no money but, securing the baubles at a ridiculously low figure, she vanished and has not been seen in that vicinity

She is protected from prosecution by the fears of her victim, who would rather lose

Fredericton approves of Progress' comment last week upon Mrs. M's method. The writer of the communication evidently feels sore over some trick the wandering fraud has played upon her. If the promi-nence and free advertising Mrs. Mahoney receives in this article is of any use to her in her business, the women will have themselves to blame. Progress likes to expose frauds and takes a greater pleasure in this because the woman's victims, from a dread of publicity, do not feel at liberty to prose-

Go to the Clipper-National game, next

"The prospects of many buildings being erected in St. John this year are very slight," said Building Inspector Maher to there was a much greater number erected to adopt the idea—and that than the year before, and I had hoped this why he never 'gets there'!" would be a good year also but was disap-

Vanwart Bros. intend tearing down

A Novel Way of Advertising. A professional man seldom advertises his business by exhibiting himself and his occupation to the public. An exception to this rule was seen in Fredericton last Monday evening. The streets were thronged with thousands, packed so close thronged with thousands, packed so close that respiration was the extent of a person's movements. Opposite the dense crowd were the apartments of a dentist and in his brilliantly lighted window was the proprietor, busily engaged in making and polishing teeth.

Eee, by Rev. S. Baring Gould, is one of that popular author's best books. The Honorable Mrs. Vereker is the "Duchess" latest. Both novels are published in cheap Canadian form, and can be had at J. & A. McMillan's.

IT'S READY WHEN WANTED.

"In time of peace prepare for war!"
That is what was done when the epide hospital was built, on the hospital grounds, about five years ago. Happily, "the war" never came, although the fortifications are still there, ready for use at a moment's

When the dominion government granted the city that part of the military grounds, in Lower Cove, running along the coast from Charlotte to Wentworth streets, for Mrs. Mahoney is well known to the women of St. John. She has been the refuge of many of them in times of severe financial need, and she has never failed to make the most of their wants and her temporary impecunity.

She has no settled place of abode, but can be found now in Fredericton, again in St. John and frequently in Moneton. She sometimes strays to Halifax, where she says she has a sister, who disposes of her goods.

better than in any costume she had ever worn. Again, no woman would consent was afflicted thus, has very little recollecworn by any of her acquaintances.

The worn by any of her acquaintances.

Tion of the experience. He has no dread of the disease, and has handled a good of the disease, and has nanded a good many cases of small-pox and other contagious diseases. He says he spent eleven days on Partridge Island in 1847, when whole crews were sent there stricken with ship's fever, and he had considerable experience with small-pox patients in California, sin and oners a

If the lady has gets the amount efore Mrs. M——

ago, and when he recovered proved so valuable an assistant that the commission assigned him to his present position.

"In case of smallpox breaking out in the city, how soon could you get ready to take a patient in?" asked a representative of Progress of the resident physician, a few days ago.

"We could take a patient at a moment's notice, and have the building heated and everything comfortable in about five min-present, asserted that he could procure at any time at least four nurses who had handled smallpox patients before.

So it appears that as far as taking care of the patients goes the long period during which the city has been blessed with the absence of any contagious disease has not made the guardians of the public health less cautious in that particular.

ten times the amount than have the fact that she dealt with her obtain any publicity.

A note received from an unknown in ten patients, there are a number of private rooms, offices, pantries and bath-rooms. In the basement is a kitchen containing large range,, and many things that might be needed, also a wash-room, with a stove and several sinks with cold and hot water taps.

The whole place has the appearance of a house from which the master is absent but may return at any moment. PROGRESS hopes he will never return.

They Are Pretty Slow.

"Do you know where the Wandering Jew is at present P" asked a King street merchant of PROGRESS, Wednesday. "No. Do you?"

"Certainly. He's on an I. C. R. freight train. You see," the business man continued, "when the I. C. R. was put through, someone suggested to him that he should Progress, a few days ago. "Last year take that route, and he was weak enough to adopt the idea—and that's the reason and exhumed two invoices their one story wooden building on the corner of Charlotte and Duke streets, and will erect a large brick building with stores in its stead.

"This invoice," he said, "was shipped from Montreal, June 22. The goods arrived Saturday. This other one is dated June 11, when the goods were shipped rived Saturday. This other one is dated June 11, when the goods were shipped from Toronto. They haven't got here yet. Isn't that outrageous! There's one consolation, though, the bills are liable to be outlawed by the time I get the goods, and then I shall have them clear—provided I haven't died of old age in the meantime."

To While Away the Hours.

CANADIAN ENGLISHMEN.

THE MINISTERS IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

Classified—The Best Men Imported for the Best Churches—Some Comments on the Showing of the List—They Are Canadians When Here. From time to time the assertion is made that Canada can furnish her own profes-sional men without seeking them in England or Scotland or Ireland. The alleged obections to importations, as they are called, be dangerous. To enumerate, beginning with the elders, Revs. D. B. Parnther and with the elders, Revs. D. B. Parnther and George M. Armstrong, Rev. Canon Brigstocke, rector of Trinity, and its curate, Rev. A. J. A. Gollmer, Rev. John M. Davenport, priest of the Mills. port, priest of the Mission church, Rev. J. soyres, rector of St. John's church, Rev. A. J. Reid, curate of St. Paul's, and Rev. R. Mathers, are all Englishmen, and, if they will not for the time object to the

In the same category may be included the Metropolitan, the head of the church in Canada, and Rev. Bishop Coadjutor Kingdon, the rectors of Dorchester, Moncton, Fairville, St. Stephen, and many other Rev. L. G. Stevens of St. Luke's, Portland, one of the most successful men in the church, was an American, but his Portland congregation would be indignant if he were called such, now. Believing that a classification of the Eng-

the Church of England in New Brunswick would be of interest, Progress obtained the appended classification from a gentleman who has tried to make it correct so far as personal knowledge goes: BEFFORM KINDWICKS CANADIAN.

The Metropolitan, Bishop Coadjutor, Cancon Brigstocke, Can. W. H. Devber, M. A., Canon Brigstocke, G. T. Carey, M. A., Canon C. S. Medley, B. A., Cano G. T. Carey, M. A., Canon C. S. Medley, B. A., Cano E. A. Warnford, Can. W. Q. Ketchum, D. Cano T. Neales, M. A., E. A. Warnford, B. A., S. Neales, B. A., S. Devales, B. A., S. L. S. L.

everything comfortable in about five minutes. We could accommodate 20 patients inside of an hour."

"Mr. Finnigan would nurse the patient, I suppose?"

"Yes! but I don't think any of the nurses at the general public hospital would object if called upon."

Here Mr. Finnigan, who happened to be present, asserted that he could procure at W. S. Covert,
W. LeB. McKiel, B. A.,
*H. B. Morris, M. A.,
H. S. Wainwright, B. A.
W. B. Armstrong, M. A.
*T. Hartin,
L. A. Hoyt, B. A.,
C. Willis,
D. Forsyth, B. A. Willis,
Forsyth, B. A.,
Forsyth, B. A.,
Forsyth, B. A.,
E. Flevelling,
M. Hansen
S. Newnham,
W. Millidge,
O. Raymond, B. A.,
J. Wilkinson, M. A.,
W. Brown, M. A.,
W. Brown, M. A.,
C. Dobbs, M. A.,
D. J. V. G. Willym, ontgomery, B. A., Vroom, B. A., C. H. Hatheway, B. A., J. O. Crisp, B. A.,

> Those marked with an asterisk (*) were born a ducated abroad, but ordained in this diocese. Rev. L. G. Stevens, B. D., having been ordain the United States, is not included in either list. With the list before us as above, severa omments can be made at a glance. Of the in this diocese. One came from the United States. That leaves 46 Canadians engaged in the Episcopal ministry in the diocese of Fredericton, out of a total of 76. Sixteen of the 22 have decrees from English colleges, and 39 of the 53 have similar honors from Canadian colleges. There can be no doubt but the more im portant stations and nearly all the best Then the merchant dipped into his file and largest churches in the provinces are provided with an English rector. There "This invoice," he said, "was shipped are notable exceptions, in Fredericton and many other places, but the majority of the

A BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

And What It Amounted To—A Task Indi tive of Some Reporters Work. "You reporters have a fine time of it!"
If there is anything that makes a reporte sick it is that expression and every news-paper man hears it at least once a day. I more sense than to say anything like this, but to show what is included in a "fine yesterday.

A rumor was going the rounds that a jections to importations, as they are called, are so numerous that it would be difficult to enumerate them—and as every one has heard them it is not necessary. Progress doesn't think much of them. It would rather proceed on the principle, Get the best men, no matter where they come from.

A rumor was going the rounds that a gentleman well known in both cities had transferred his affection from a young woman with whom he had been keeping company and was engaged to another damsel in a town about 40 miles from St. John, where he was said to spend his Sundays in a way that was very unbecoming in a man who entered their den. It was very easy tion. I was first to visit the alleged com-woman lived, rang every door bell in the hall, and presently a very prepossessing young lady, attired in a neat wrapper, ap peared on the stairs. I never for a mo ment thought that she was the lady I wanted to see, and afterwards wondered why she should find it necessary to sue anybody for breach of promise. I asked to see the lady whose name was mentioned in connection with the rumor and to my surprise was informed that I was speaking to her. Then I asked if there was any truth in the rumor, explaining what the said rumor was.

The smile with which I was greeted changed to one that showed her indignation as well as the words she uttered as she de nounced the rumor as false. She had never heard of it before and didn't know how it could have originated. She also informed me that she thought the question a very impudent one for any newspaper to want to have answered and wished to know what Progress intended to do with the matter I told her that if there was any truth in the umor we would publish it; and then I had the extreme pleasure of being thanked for being so thoughtful as to enquire into the case before publishing anything about it.

I had heard that the gentleman concerned had not denied the report and told the lady so. Her only reason for believing that he acted thus was that he was amused at the story. She had never heard of the rumo before and remarked that her triends had it. She seemed indignant no longer and concluded the interview by asking if I would be sure and see that the next number of Progress was sent to her, as sh was a subscriber and had not received the last number. Like everybody else, I suppose, she couldn't do without Progress. BROOKS.

She Burned Her Jewels.

A good story comes from the capital, the ruth of which is vouched for by a gentlenan, who avers that he heard it from the foundland. Of course, she is rich—has enough money to endow a university or support a hospital, and, naturally, plenty of the material accompaniments of riches, such as jewels, etc.

She was seated in her apartments, a short time ago, when in some way the sug-gestion came to her that when she left this 76 clergymen included, 22 were ordained world her relatives and friends would 76 clergymen included, 22 were ordained in England and came to Canada either at the call of the bishop or of the people. Seven of the remaining 54 were born and educated in the old country, but ordained in this diocese. One came from the United moments, then calmly and deliberately threw them in the grate, and watched ther melt in the flames.

She told the story with considerable satisfaction, and it spread like wild fire Of course, every woman is enraged at the act, for there are few who would have laughed at the fate of the jewels if they could only have shown them for a time.

many other places, but the majority of the congregations have evidently felt that there as nothing of Canadian culture in the Episcopal ministry which suited their wants so well as an "importation."

All honor to the latter! Coming to a new country, with strained and ill-concepted ideas of its people and its customs, it is truly remarkable how quickly he has adapted himself to the wants of his charge, and fallen in line (in most cases) with the expressed wishes of the people.

PROGRESS has no feelings against a new-comer, so long as he is better than can be obtained among us, but, all things being equal, choose from the home production.

Speaking of the affairs of the Owens Art institution, a short time ago, Mr. Robert Reed said that the principal of the Owens and need not be gone into at present. It may not be necessary to show the public how it is done, but, if it is, Progress has space for the article.

Must Be a Good Dentist.

"I feel as though I could stand on my head," said pressman Marshall of the Telegraph, to Progress. Thursday. "I was wild with the toothache when I went to Dr. John M. Smith, the Portland dentist, I. Was attaid he'd make me feel worse, but he indifferent. The insurance on the gallery would soon run out and Mr. Reed said it would not be renewed. Speaking of the affairs of the Owens

DRIVE IT OUT OF TOWN. THE BUCKET SHOP HAS BEEN HERE TOO LONG.

concern on King street that should close its doors as soon as possible is the "bucket shop," so called. The "rat hole" has ex-isted long enough; let everybody lend a best men, no matter where they come from.

An interesting phase of the professional importation problem is that which refers to the clergymen and more particularly to those in the Church of England. In this city there are so many Church of England clergymen who were born, educated and the came to the wire to induce young men in business or on salary to believe that they c

The scores who thronged the room at the thoroughly fleeced by the sharp gambling methods of the shrewd Yankees and upper Canadians, that they vanished from the scene, but others less wise held on with the vain hope of regaining what they had lost and getting ahead of the "shop." Of all those in St. John who have patronized these sharpers, not one can be pointed at as a winner in the long run. The "shop" gets the better of every one. Occassionally some dealer will make a large haul and everyone in the room will be so stimulated by his success that down they go into their pockets or rather, as is the case nine times out of ten, into the pockets of their credit-ors, and make further investments. These call for more "margins" and finally, after a long and vain wait for the market "to turn," the margin is allowed to run out and the investment belongs to the "shop." The latter has a hundred and one ways of coming out ahead every time, and bitter are the complaints made by its customers—but what can they do?

Drawn into the gambling vortex, induced to invest hundreds, perhaps thousands, on a chance, they are compelled, in self-defence, to remain in the business, getting deeper and deeper, until they disappear in the swamp.

If it were advisable, Progress could name at least a dozen young fellow, who have lost all they possessed in the "bucket shop." And still it exists, a trap for the shop." And still it exists, a trap for the present and future generations!

No one can doubt that the shop has an inviting air. Everything is in first-class order, the room is cool and airy in sweltering summer, and warm and comfortable in frigid January. The chairs are easy, the company agreeable, in fact, the induce-ments for a young man to spend his spare hours in the place are so numerous that many are induced who would never think of entering a gambling saloon, or engaging present on King street, was and is nothing but gambling resorts.

The fact that a judge of the supreme very fact a help to the "shop," because they set an example which others, who are less able to do so, follow.

It may be that many of the frequenters of the "shop" are old in the business, that they are as sharp as the sharpers and make it a part of their every day business to look

The bove were two collisions and two score of the circulation-mongers made up the grand total of 1789 papers sold on the streets—less than half the entire edition by 211 papers.

The bove were two collisions of 10 000 delices and two score of the circulation-mongers made up the grand total of 1789 papers sold on the streets—less than half the entire edition. after their "deals" on the board, but their followers, the clerks, young business men and scores of others have not the time to attend to their purchases and day by day they leave the place poorer and wiser.

PROGRESS is three months old. they leave the place poorer and wiser.

To any one who has watched the attendance at this place, the ever-changing crowd of frequenters is conclusive evidence of their luck in this one-sided game. But a three luck in this one-sided game. But a three lines of the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that the difference of the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that the difference of the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that the difference of the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that Mr. R. G. Larson that the paper and the man will be glad to learn that Mr. R. G. Larson that Mr. R. G. very few of those who first patronized Hanrahan's den remain in business in Ledden Bros'. place, on King street. Since Hanrahan opened, every month sees some new rule posted in the shop and always in its favor. Several times, when the rules were one-sided and palpably traudulent, the deals fell off so largely that they returned to their old ways and with the change their victims again flocked around them.

A MILE IN 2.20

Let me give you an idea of what a down east horse accomplished track on the 30th ult.

There were a number of persons representing various industries of Maine and New Brunswick. Presently Mr. C. H. Eaton came upon the course to exercise his mal awhile, he said, "I believe I will give not have expected such an exhibition of speed that followed. The timers were F. Watterson, J. Keys, J. Eagan, and J. Hill. Mr. Eaton then drove down the stretch and whirled. He came to the wire quarter in 87 sec.—a 2.28 gait. He was now pulled up without any signs of distress and surrounded by the party in great confusion. Mr. James Hill came to himself first and remarked that this was the fastest trotting he had seen in this section. Mr. Watterson could scarcely believe his own time, but it was sustained by three others and must be correct. Mr. Eagan spoke quietly and said it was a lively clip to contend with. Mr. Keys said he was astonished, but the best feature about it was a genuine performance without a skip —all level work. A doctor present said it was marvellous. All left the park clated.

The physician brought up in the Barter settlement, but, as he could not see the cotton mill, came to himself and drove home leaving a patient unvisited at Milltown where he intended to land. This horse has had very little fast work this season, and is not yet in the pink of condition. Therefore it was a grand achievement.

owner, who is confident that be will make a 2.20 mile over a mile track.—Correspon-

UNPRECEDENTED SALES.

Ask the Newsboys who Sell "Progress" How Well It Sells. Progress' newsboys broke every record had purchased every paper that was printed and then began an assault on the building because there were no more to sell. The edition was 300 greater than Saturday, June 23, yet it might have been 800 and all would have vanished!

Who ever heard of one boy disposing of 335 papers in three hours?

Yet that is Joseph Irvine's record for profits netted him $4.25 on Progress' sales alone. Not bad wages for one day!

Yet, though the fact is more completely hidden, the "bucket shop" which was on Prince William street, and that which is at sallied forth with 200 papers before 6 a.m., Here is another record breaker in the returned and secured another hundred betaken as many more, but, only seven re-maining in the office, he made his number She is a good woman—none better in the town—who lives all alone, save her servants and a faithful companion, a large New-relieve it of its character. They are in and Douglas went to bed happy because on Procures alone had need to be had need to b on Progress alone he had made $3.57. They were the two leaders. George

The boys want an edition of 10,000 this week, but they can't have it, though the

The friends of the paper and the man has joined the editorial staff of PROGRESS.

Mr. W. A. Brown has retired from the city staff of the Telegraph and Mr. E. W. McCready has been engaged in that departre ad an e, ip he ed at re e e e e e e e e e journalist of high standing, well known as the founder of The Current, was in the city during the week. He is gathering material for a series of papers on "Old Acadia."