

PORTLAND USE ALLEN LINE

Andrew A. Allen intimates this may be Result Unless Longshoremen Moderate their Demands.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Andrew A. Allen of the Allen Line, issued a statement today in which he intimated that unless the longshoremen at Portland, Me., moderate their demands, Portland will be cut out of the itinerary of the company's Glasgow-Boston-Portland service. Hugh Allen of London has already been asked to make preparations for the withdrawal of all Allen liners from Portland, should such action become necessary. The Portland longshoremen demand 35 cents an hour for handling general cargo and 40 cents for handling coal. They have been offered 33 cents an hour for general cargo and 35 cents an hour for coal, the rates paid at Boston and New York.

"The prospects of the shipping business in the immediate future are bad," continues Mr. Allen, "and the business we are going does not justify the demand made, and further than the terms offered we shall not go, even if we have to withdraw our ships from Portland."

"At Montreal we are paying thirty cents for general cargo and thirty-five cents for coal, while even the St. John longshoremen have accepted thirty-five cents an hour all round, for both day and night work."

Mr. Barracough throughout Methodist circles of the city and remarks of those present last evening were words of praise for his faithful and earnest work.

Child Had Bronchitis

Once people get acquainted with the wonderful control which Dr. Chase's Syrup of Sassafras exerts over bronchitis, whooping cough, croup and colds it is not easy to persuade them that anything else is "just as good." This is why the imitators never get very far.

In 1902 Mrs. Eugene Her, King street, Truro, N. S., wrote as follows: "From an infant one of my children was troubled with bronchitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We could not get anything to help him, and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Sassafras and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis, we used it, and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine and have never known it to fail to bring relief."

Mrs. Her now writes that she has since proven this medicine to be a cure for whooping cough, and would not be without it in the house.

OFFICIAL OF "RURAL" LINE IN THE CITY

Marine Superintendent Milburne here to Make Arrangements for Coming of the Big C.N.R. Liners.

Among the Montreal arrivals to reach the city yesterday was Harry Milburne, marine superintendent of the Royal line of steamers, who is here to complete arrangements for the handling of the big boats at this port.

Mr. Milburne said that he would give out the various contracts immediately. The matter of berth accommodation will be arranged probably today. An office will be opened in the city and a staff sent down from the head office, but as to where it will be located or who will be in charge, Mr. Milburne could not give out.

Mr. Milburne expects to meet here today Mr. Mooney, the agent of the Royal line in Halifax, and on his arrival the business will be expedited.

Referring to the sailings of the Royal steamers, Mr. Milburne said that the first sailing from here would be the Royal George on December 10th and fortnightly service thereafter. The Dominion line S. E. Canada will take the December 3 sailing of the Royal Edward, but Mr. Milburne was unable to say whether she would come to St. John or would take her mails at Halifax. There will be a break of one sailing later on owing to one of the steamers going off for a while, but another steamer would be secured to make the sailing.

When asked about the probable passenger traffic via the Royals from here, he said that the accommodation on the first sailing had been all booked up and that the traffic would be about the average winter bookings. The speed of the steamers, twenty-one knots per hour, five and a half days from Bristol to Halifax, and the rapid connection by rail between Bristol and London, the distance being made in two hours, would assure a normal passenger traffic.

Speaking about accommodations here, Mr. Milburne expressed satisfaction in the fact that the channel of the harbor would be for this year approximately 1,000 feet wider than formerly and that the depth of water at low tide could be guaranteed twenty-eight feet at low water with thirty feet depth for a great part of the channel.

Mr. Milburne was located in St. John fourteen years ago in connection with the Manchester line.

AUSTRIA WILL NOT PROBABLY PARTICIPATE

Manufacturers and Merchants have Little Hope for Exhibit at Panama Show at San Francisco.

Vienna, Nov. 20.—After an interview today with the minister-president and the ministers of commerce and public works, Austrian manufacturers and merchants retain little hope that the government will participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915. They were particularly irritated by the suggestion of the minister of public works, O. Traha, that the manufacturers should first raise a fund of $40,000, when perhaps the government might supplement the amount. They regarded this as petty bargaining, unworthy a minister of a great monarchy.

ATROCITIES IN JUAREZ EXAGGERATED

Pres. Wilson Says Consul Report does not Bear Out Sensational Stories—Treason Cause of Trouble

Washington, Nov. 20.—Although no complete report of the executions in Juarez by the constitutionalists has been received, it is understood that President Wilson recognizes that such executions in the past have been a result of the frequent treason of officers and men in the two armies. President Wilson received today a detailed report from the consul at Torreon, describing the alleged barbarities there during the series of days before and after the city was captured. The report said that while many sad things occurred, much of what happened was what naturally would be expected when there is a change of disloyalty and treachery in the two contending armies. While he condemns generally the inhumanity of the strife, the President takes the view that when one side or the other gets the upper hand under these circumstances, they naturally would avenge themselves for disloyalty. He let it be known that the consul report did not bear out the many sensational stories of atrocities at Torreon, and that Americans and foreigners generally were not harmed.

Delegates were present from all parts of the districts of Nipissing and Temiskaming. Strong emphasis was laid on the duty imposed upon the churches by the large immigration from Europe to Canada of making good Canadians out of these new citizens, who constitute a menace unless reached by the influences of Christianity.

NO MORE OIL CONCESSIONS IN COLUMBIA

Will Refuse to Grant Monopolies of all kinds Henceforth—Will Welcome American Capital.

Washington, Nov. 20.—That Colombia hereafter will grant no monopolies, either in oil concessions or of any other sort; that the proposition now pending of the Pearson syndicate of Great Britain, for oil concessions will not be granted; and that the South American country is anxious to see American capital come there was the message brought to Washington today by Roberto Ancizar, just arrived from Bogota to act as secretary of the Colombian legation here. The controversy between the United States and Colombia over the Panama question, Mr. Ancizar said, was nearing a successful conclusion, when American Minister Thompson recently was forced to return home on account of his wife's illness. The Colombia congress some time ago had been prorogued until November 30 in the hope that by that time it would be ready to take up for final settlement the long pending controversy. The President of Colombia, he added, would call congress together at any time before next July, when the regular session begins. If the negotiations when resumed by the American minister at Bogota should warrant such special call. The congress, however, would not meet in special session; he said, to consider oil or any other concessions.

LECTURE ON PUEBLO INDIANS.

At the Natural History Society on Thursday afternoon Mrs. A. M. Sayre gave an interesting lecture on the Pueblo Indians.

Mrs. Sayre lived among and taught these Indians for nearly seventeen years and she gave a vivid description of her experiences among them and told of their legends, habits, and religion. The lecture was illustrated by articles brought from the country of the Pueblo Indians. Among some of the interesting objects shown were some blankets woven by the Navaho tribe who are famous for their weaving, and some basket work made by the Hopi Indians. The lecture was also illustrated by photographs of the people, their dwellings and dances.

At the conclusion of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Sanford, seconded by Mrs. Zwicker. The lecture next week will be on Prehistoric Acadia, and will consist of a talk by Mr. Wm. McIntosh, and a paper by the junior members of the society.

SEVERAL CURES AT SANITARIUM HAD TAUGHT

Doing Good Work—Will be Best on Continent Premier Flemming Says.

The report of the superintendent of the River Glade Sanitarium, submitted to the commissioners at their meeting here last night showed that thirty-six patients had been at the sanitarium since it was opened in April. Sixteen had been discharged and several of these had been cured.

There are twenty-five patients at present and the superintendent has applications from several others. Twelve patients are from St. John. During the year the institution farm has produced $1,250 worth of vegetables. The greater part of this will be used at the sanitarium.

"We hope to have the best sanitarium on the continent," said Premier Flemming last evening. The equipment is the best money can buy and the surroundings are ideal. After a visit to the institution one cannot help but feel that there, those afflicted with the disease may win back their health and strength.

The electric light plant is now in working order and the buildings and grounds are nicely lighted. Three pavilions, each accommodating ten patients, have been built and there is room for two additional pavilions. These buildings cost in the vicinity of $5,000 each. The free ward will not be completed until next summer, and it is probable that the formal opening of the sanitarium will be held then. The Duke of Connaught is to be present and the announcement of the date will be made soon. In addition, an ornamental fountain and a bust of Queen Victoria for the grounds have arrived from England. The aim of the commission is to make this sanitarium the most modern in Canada, and the buildings which have already been constructed are well up to this standard. The number of patients at the Nova Scotia institution, which had been open for several years, is below that of the Jordan Sanitarium.

It is proposed next year to dam the river near the Sanitarium, making an artificial lake, and to build a highway bridge across the dam to the railway station, reducing the distance and effecting an improvement in the appearance of the surroundings of the institution.

Those in attendance at the meeting last night were: Hon. J. C. Flemming, premier of New Brunswick; Dr. A. F. Alcock, minister of health; Mr. Stumpner, Moncton; Hon. Dr. Landry, Bouchette, and the superintendent, Dr. David Townsend, of River Glade.

WORLD'S MOST FAMED SINGERS

Mme. Marchesi, who Trained Many Prima Donnas. Dead in London—Melba Among Her Pupils.

(Special to N. Y. Herald.) London, Nov. 19.—Mme. Marchesi, the famous teacher who had trained more prima donnas than any other voice trainer in the world, died yesterday in Greville place, London, aged eighty-seven.

Famous pupils of Mme. Marchesi included Mme. Emma Calve, Emma Eames, Sybil Sanderson, Ada Crossley, Jane Horwitz, Melba, Emma Nevada, Blanche Marchesi, Antoinette Sterling and Esther Palliser.

For some time Mme. Marchesi had been living in retirement. She was born at Frankfurt-on-Main, and her maiden name was Mathilde Grammann. She was originally a concert singer, but joined the Vienna Conservatory as a teacher as long ago as 1854. She afterward taught in Paris, then in Cologne and later returned to Vienna, which she left finally in 1881 to establish herself in Paris.

Mme. Marchesi's husband, Signor Salvatore Cavalleri de Castrone, Marchese della Rajata, also was a singer, who made his debut in New York in 1848. Her daughter, Blanche Marchesi, is a concert and opera singer, who has sung much in Canada and the United States, but has recently assisted her mother in teaching.

Mme. Mathilde de Castrone Marchesi for more than half a century had been ranked as the world's greatest singing teacher. Her fame was worldwide. Her pupils are favorites in all parts of the globe.

No other singing teacher, perhaps, was ever paid the homage she was by kings and queens and the nobility of the world. A score of medals were presented to her at various times by crowned heads in recognition of her services to the musical world. Her conservatory, the most noted abroad, was the gathering place of the nobility on frequent occasions.

At an early age her father sent her to London to study under the renowned Garcia. There she met her future husband, a banished Neapolitan, who had lost his fortune in the cause of the King, also under the tutelage of Garcia.

Those graduating together, the couple went on a tour to Berlin, Leipzig, Vienna and Frankfurt-on-Main and were triumphant everywhere. In 1854 she became a teacher for the first time, accepting a post in the vocal department of the conservatory at Vienna. She later served in Cologne and then went to Paris, where she opened her famous conservatory.

So great was the personal magnetism of the woman that her pupils made trips from remote parts of the world to see her occasionally.

In 1902 Mme. Marchesi celebrated the golden anniversary of her wedding.

Speaking of her Mme. Melba said, on hearing of her death:

"The great personality the world has ever known has gone out," quavered Mme. Melba. "My dearest friend is gone."

"I saw Mme. Marchesi last July in Paris," continued Mme. Melba. "She then was in her dotage. Again she was as a child. My onetime teacher recognized me instantly, however, and showed her pride in me."

"It is a pity that Garcia, the maestro who taught Mme. Marchesi and was instrumental in making her the greatest woman voice cultist in history, died just a year ago. He was 101 years old."

Mme. Melba said she became a pupil of Marchesi in 1887. "I was eighteen years old then," said the prima donna. "After Marchesi had tested my voice she started, then almost entranced me, by exclaiming, 'Ah! at last I have found a real star!'"

"We were drawn together. Marchesi's personality, her wonderful genius attracted me irresistibly. Her faculty for reading not only voices, but the hearts of her pupils lifted her above all others."
