Petitcodiac Red Cross.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Petitcodiac Red Cross Society was held on Thursday, April 27, the president, Mrs. H. H. Magee in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Reports of committees read and adopted.

Mrs. Stone, chairman of work committee, reported 19 pyjama suits, 38 hospital shirts, 12 towels, 12 hospital kits, containing 10 articles each, 12 property bags, and 36 pairs of socks, shipped to the Red Cross Depot in St. John, since our last meeting.

A vote of thanks was moved, and carried unanimously to be extended to the Glenvale and Hillgrove sewing circles, for donation of 10 sheets, 21 towels, and 8 shirts.

An interesting article by Miss McGee, of the Prisoners of War Department, was read by Mrs. Moran.

It was unanimously voted to send 50 pounds of maple sugar to our wounded soldiers, also $25.00 for medical supplies.

It was moved and carried by a standing vote, that a resolution of sympathy be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart in their anxiety concerning their son, Lt. Frank Lockhart at the front, who has been officially reported missing.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

On April 28th, the girls of the Junior Red Cross sold King Albert's photographs. The proceeds of sales amounted to $16.40, which was sent to the Royal Standard Chapter of the I. O. D. E. for the Belgian Relief fund.

Le Cafe de la Pie qui Chante, presented by the French Club in the Yacht Club of St. John, was certainly a great success. Even the spacious rooms of the knights were crowded and many found it difficult to find a seat at the tables. It was a pretty scene, the gaily decorated rooms, the ladies in waiting with their pleasant costumes, the white caps so becoming to the waiters and the variety of the programme. Light refreshments were served at small tables.

The programme opened with an overture by an orchestra consisting of Miss Mary MacLaren, Miss Marion Magee, Miss Leslie Grant and the Misses Lynch and their music all through was most enjoyable. The different dances were much admired especially Miss Heryl Mullin and Mr. Conrad Spangler who, though youthful, proved quite skilled in the art. Miss Constance Campbell's Spanish dance was the hit of the evening and she had to respond to an encore. The cabaret was a decided novelty, the dancers singing "Come Along Ma Cherie," and throwing favors as they passed between the lines of tables. The solos were much appreciated. His Worship Mayor Hayes made a speech voicing the thanks of the French Club to those who had attended and stating that the army would be available at the front, who has been officially reported missing.

Two Dreaming Hints.

In using hair cloth for interlining, it is a good plan to cover the joinings and bind the edges with some soft silk or lining material. Then there is no danger of the stiff hairs cutting their way through the fabrics of the gown.

Lead weights which are fastened in the linings of coats to keep the lower edges of the garment in position should be covered first with the material like the lining. Then there is no danger of the metal wearing a hole.

Use Old Newspapers.

Paper is really more serviceable as a cleaner than the dirt-collecting brush. The advantages of newspapers are many, but the fact that they are used to clean and polish stoves, windows or greasy pots and pans, to store furs, to fill up cracks and keep out drafts, to protect tables and fine furniture and to keep the dust particles from flying about on sweeping days establishes their usefulness without question.

A greasy kitchen stove should be first rubbed over with a thick pad of newspaper before applying the polish.

Spice Cake.

One and one-half cups of white sugar creamed with one cup of lard and butter mixed; three eggs, well beaten; one cup of sour milk, three cups of flour mixed with two teaspoons of cinnamon, one teaspoon each of allspice and cloves, one-half a grated nutmeg, one teaspoon of soda dissolved in the milk, a pinch of salt, one small cup each of raisins and currants, and a little sliced citron.

MUCHADLER-I-KA

USED IN ST. JOHN

It is reported by J. B. Mahoney, that much Adler-I-Ka is sold in St. John. People have found out that ONE SPOONFUL of this simple buckhorn bark and glycerine mixture relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. It is perfectly safe to use and cannot scribe.

The I. L. and B. Dramatic Society which so successfully produced Alias Jimmie Valentine, on St. Patrick's Day, are going to repeat this play at Moncton, on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Burlesque of Carmen Great Success.

When announcement was made of Charles Chaplin's debut as star of a four-reel burlesque of "Carmen," under the Esplanade V. L. S. E. banner, it was generally felt and predicted that the feature would prove a tremendous success. Several months having elapsed since Chaplin had been seen in a new picture, his legion of admirers naturally expected to gather in full force to welcome the eccentric comedian-extraordinary of the screen world.

Yet even the most optimistic believer in the drawing power of a Chaplin film would not have ventured to prophesy the utterly unprecedented reception which was given the "Carmen" fantasy at the Broadway Theatre last week. At the opening performance Sunday it was not merely a packed house that greeted the fitting form of the inimitable Charlie—it was a mad mob of enthusiasts tightly jammed together, with lines extending out into the street and down Broadway for several blocks. And the same crowds continued night after night.

the Imperial.

One hardly knows where to begin in describing yesterday's picture at the Imperial. "Greater Love Hath No Man," with Emmet Corrigan as "Verge," is full of deep dramatic interest, is crowded with incident, contains a spectacular fight in a prison yard, a terrifying fight with a heroic rescue act, the destruction by lightning at sea of a large schooner. It is really packed with sensation and there is never a dull moment. It is also a moral play, as the sacrifice was made by Vergé, who showed the "greater love" to prove his gratitude to those who had befriended him in his childhood days and brought him up to be the man he proved to be. The little boy who played the child Vergé won everyone's sympathy from the first and the whole orphanage arriving at the Merton's ground for a picnic made a very pretty scene. The prison pictures remind one of some of the sad things described in Galsworthy's play of "Justice." Emmet Corrigan gives a fine performance of the innocent man who takes another's guilt upon his shoulders. The love affair is well managed and not overdone. Some of the atmospheric effects are marvelously photographed. The author is Frank L. Packard and Metro the producers.

Letters Received by Uncle Dick From His Boys and Girls

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE.

Billy had just been corrected for a slip in table manners.

His small face assumed a thoughtful expression. Then he said gravely: "Father, when you was a little boy, did you ever dip your roll in your milk?"

"Never," replied father with quiet dignity. "Oh, father!" exclaimed Billy, giving him a fresh bath, "you ought to try it. It's great!"

Pepper Destroys Moths.

To preserve furs from moths, sprinkle the furs thickly with pepper, then rub it well in with the fingers. You will find this method even more efficacious than camphor.

Uses For Oil Cloth.

There are so many uses for oil cloth that only a few of them are given here. It makes the best cover for cook books and school books, as it requires only the application of a damp cloth to remove all soil. An apron made like a butcher's, bound with tape and having tape strings, will save the gingham apron when doing dirty work, such as cleaning stoves and scrubbing.

As the oil cloth is put on over the other, it can easily be slipped off if one is called to the door, and the clean one underneath makes one look neat and clean. It also saves on the washing.

Cut round pieces of oil cloth to fit the bottom of flower pots and they may be set on window sills without stains.

There is nothing so satisfactory for bedroom shelves and drawers as oil cloth covers. They can be bought to harmonize with any color scheme.

Take the utmost interest in your work, but do not force everybody you know to listen to your stories of your ambitions, abilities and successes. Do your task as well as possible and then dismiss it from your consciousness and relax. That way you will go back to the next day's work with added zest and you won't be a bore out in the world that is not bounded by the walls of business.

The fact that you are a woman isn't a sex question. It is just one of your assets; even as a college education or good home training, or health or a keen mind is one of your assets.

It means that you have certain qualifications—dignity, quietness, poise, sympathy, insight, and I hope, inherent good taste. And that will keep you from flaunting your femininity in the face of your masculine association.
