

SWIMMERS GIVE Fine Exhibition

Results of Instructor Mark Burns Seen to Advantage at City Baths Yesterday.

The aquatic attractions proved too many for the large number of male swimmers who participated in the city's swimming bouts at Marble Cove, but the school was well represented there yesterday.

An attractive programme of races had been prepared by the popular swimming instructor, Mark Burns, but the slim attendance of male swimmers obliged him to substitute this by a perhaps equally pleasing exhibition and those who had gathered for the races were treated to a demonstration of the abilities of the young body swimmers present, representing some of the most accomplished in the city.

The various strokes, such as the side, breast, crawl, and others were demonstrated by the Misses Turner and Geraldine Neely, while Miss Joan Smith and Miss Constance Carleton gave a pretty performance of fancy diving.

In addition to the fancy diving and swimming, the young ladies also included in their programme the water polo game, and the young men were not the only ones who were admired for their mastery of the water. Frank Hatheway, a daily patron of the swimming baths, proved that the younger generation have yet something to learn in the art of bronzing the body.

Obituary

Mrs. Rebecca Jones. The death of Mrs. Rebecca Jones, widow of F. H. Jones, occurred suddenly Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. P. Logan, 173 Westworth street. The deceased was 78 years of age and had been in failing health for some time. She was the widow of the late Bandmaster F. H. Jones of the 62nd Fusiliers, who died ten years ago. She leaves to mourn four sons, F. C. Jones of Los Angeles, A. L. of Boston, W. H. and A. B. of St. John; also three daughters, Mrs. C. H. Henderson, New York, Mrs. E. P. Logan and Mrs. W. S. Charlton of St. John. The funeral will be held this afternoon from her daughter's residence, service at three o'clock.

Mrs. Jessie Porteous Daniel. The death of Mrs. Jessie Porteous Daniel, wife of Senator J. W. Daniel, which occurred at her late residence, Princess street, at seven o'clock yesterday morning after a lingering illness of some six or seven years, will be mourned with much regret by many friends both in the city and throughout the province and dominion as well. Mrs. Daniel was a daughter of the late period, had borne up patiently and cheerfully despite her intense suffering. To her friends it was apparent that she was becoming gradually worse, and death finally came to

Tennis Playing At Drury Cove

Annual Inter-Club Tournament at Summer Colony Yesterday.

As is always the case, Labor Day proved a gala day for the Summer colonists at Drury Cove. While the bright rays of the September sun had but driven the mists from the pretty anchorage, the courts of the Athletic Association were alive with players, and the annual inter-club tournament was on.

The men's doubles, which were begun on Saturday, were played through to the finish, with Thomas Lorne Scott and E. Goodall paired against Messrs. C. H. Scott and C. Clark. This event will be played during the course of the week, when the ladies' and mixed doubles will also be played.

In the afternoon the Married Men met the Single Men in the annual baseball match. The game proved a most exciting one, and was finally won by the Single Men by a score of 30 to 13. The phenomenal fielding of the Benedicts held the score down to the close margin, despite the heavy hitting favored by their opponents.

T. Inkpen, the campy second baseman for the Married Men, sustained a painful injury while sliding home early in the game and was obliged to retire. The teams lined up as follows: Married Men Catcher Single Men W. Drake Pitcher J. H. Drummlie T. F. Drummlie First Base B. Ryan W. J. Ryan Second Base W. J. Ryan T. Inkpen Third Base C. Ryan L. Young Left Field I. Scott Short Stop W. Stafford J. McLaughlin W. Wright W. Thomas Centre Field J. Arrowsmith Bartlett E. H. Hall Umpires—W. Sutherland and C. H. Scott.

In the evening a very pleasing music guards hall was given at the Marine Club by the Drury Cove A. A., at which all the residents of both the Cove and Brookville were guests. Many beautiful dances were in evidence, as well as several of a nature providing nature. A very pleasant evening of dancing, music and games concluded in a building summer use of the most successful season of the popular resort.

NEWS SCOOPS RARELY RESULT OF GOOD LUCK

More Often Follow Weeks or Months of Careful Preparation. FINAL ACTION IS USUALLY SWIFT. Sir Roderick Jones, Head of Reuter's, Lectures to Students in London.

London, Sept. 5.—Journalistic "scoops" are rarely the result of good luck, said Sir Roderick Jones, chairman and managing director of Reuter's Agency, in a lecture to students of Journalism at London University, quoted by the London Morning Post. They were more often the result of weeks or months of careful preparation, direct or indirect, of swift decision and of particularly swift action at the moment the news became news. Sometimes that moment took one by surprise and might find one unprepared. It was then that the really efficient correspondent showed his worth. He brushed aside everything, he sacrificed everything, he subordinated everything, to rushing his news to the telephone or to the telegraph, or both, and to being ahead of his rivals if only by a single minute. If by five or fifteen minutes to much the better.

The most dramatic fact about the Peace Treaty at Versailles was the signature. In order that they should be first in announcing this great fact to the world a certain news organization made elaborate arrangements, telephonic, telegraphic, wireless, motor and other, down to the smallest detail, for days beforehand, so as to secure swift transmission to London. In the final event several correspondents belonging to the organization, posted at different points between Versailles and London, were concerned in the transmission.

Good Working System. By means which need not be discussed, a Mr. A. had secured a place inside the Salle des Glaces. He wrote: "Despite the fact that I had practically a front seat, and so was far away from the door, I managed, by alternately tramping upon and crowding over people, to get out first to my special telephone with the news that the Germans had signed. I was the first person to send it from Versailles. "It was at the back of the room, along which I had to pass. When he saw me dash through the Chamber, his face lighted up. 'You have it!' he cried. 'Yes,' I said, and bolted on. We had a special line direct from Paris. C. there took my message down instantaneously, and inside a minute he was through to D. "D. had hypnotized the French official in charge of our line to London with the idea that Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Wilson and Waley Cohen (Colonel Waley Cohen was the
