Under his tuition Eldon Mulmar school. Under his tuttion is don't have a lin received his early educational training. From this grammar school Mr. Mullin matriculated to the U. N. B., where he had a distinguished career. He graduated with A. B. in 1881, and three years later was awarded M. A. as a result of his diligent research in different branches

When a young man he developed a love for teaching and in this he attained a high measure of success.

He taught at Havelock, Petit Sursex, and was for a time principal of the school at Havelock. The educational authorities recognizing his ability appoint-ed him school inspector for York county in 1879, which position, he filled until 1883, when he was appointed principal of the when he was appointed principal of the Normal school. This position he honor-ably filled for 19 years.

Mullin accepted, and left on February 13, 1902, for the scene of his new labors.

During his stay there he accomplished wonderful things and had bright hopes and prospects for the future.

and prospects for the future.

A letter was received by Doctor Mulin from his brother some little time ago, stating that he had accepted a position with the government as deputy director of schools for the Transval and Orange River Colonies at a salary of $3,500 a year, and he had decided to stay five years, after which he would receive a pension of $1,000. Up to the time of his sickness he was writing a manual of school law for the

At the last Encoenia of the university At the last Encoenia of the university the honorary degree of Ph. D. in Absent's was conferred upon Mr. Mullin. As a citizen Mr. Mullin was upright and conscientious and enjoyed the highest respect of his fellow citizens at large. He was an Episcopalian and for a number of years was vestryman of Christ's Church Cathedral and also a member of the choir.

Mr. Mullin was also actively identified with the work of the Sahbath school, and was for a time superintendent and teacher of the school.

FOUR VICTIMS FOUND IN YORK COUNTY.

Saturday's Opposition Convention at Freder icton a Dismal Failure-Only 50 Present.

Fredericton, Feb. 15.—(Special)—After of four weeks, after being snubbed right and left by those to whom he appealed for assistance, Mr. Hazen has at last succeeded in finding four men willing to suffe martyrdom for his cause in this constitu ency. They are James K. Pinder, millman of Nackawick; Harry F. McLeod, barrie ter, of this city; Thos. Robinson, hotel keeper, of Harvey, and John A. Young, insurance agent of Nashwaak.

This remarkable combination was selected, or rather discovered, by an "agin the government" convention held in the county court house yesterday afternoon. It was heyond doubt the most frosty political gathering called to nominate candidates ever held in this county, a slim atendance and unrepresentative character of the delegates attesting more eloquently than words to the disintegration that the old party here has suffered in recent years. There were 50 persons present by actua rity, and six of the parishes were unrep resented. Major Howe, of Stanley, where an on the ticket last time, and was burie peneath a majority of 1,500, was first non nated, but had the good sense to decline and Mr. Young, after much coaxing, con-sented to step into the gap. Mr. McLeod worked an old game by asking for two or three days to consider and his reques

Mr. Hazen attended the convention with the intention of delivering one of his "boiled sawdust" orations, but the slim attendance and lack of enthusiasm, completely unnerved him and his remarks were brief. He afterwards left the court room in disgust, giving as an excuse that he had

The desperate straits to which Mr. Hazen's friends in this county have been driven was well illustrated by a remark made by one of the delegates, who, will H. F. McLeod asked for time to consider ejaculated excitedly: "For God's sake, don't hesitate one second. Accept now." The opposition ticket is beyond doubt the weakest ever put up in this county and it is freely predicted even in friendly quarters that those composing it will have quarters that those composing it will have to hustle to save their deposits.

The nomination of Messrs. Harrison and Peake in Sunbury has been well received throughout that county by friends of the government and the defeat of Mr. Hazen and his colleagues is gene Ly conceded. Many of those who gave Mr. Hazen active support in the last contest are now arrayed against him, the most notable deflection from the opposition camp being Arthur Glasier, ex-M. P. P., who was among the speakers at yesterday's convention.

St. Stephen, N. B., Feb. 13-(Special)-The adjourned convention of the Laberal party met this afternoon, J. G. Stevens, Jr., in the chair. Premier Tweedie and Hon. H. A. McKeown received an enthusiastic reception on entering the hall with the chairman.

After the roll call of delegates, R.E. Armstrong requested the privilege of plaining his position as to signing the resolutions for a coalition ticket, and his ction afterwards in accepting a position on that ticket after a conference of Lib-

He with the others may have erred, but it was for the best interest, and the morning when he learned that he was accused of betraying his party he notified his colleague, Hon. Geo. F. Hill, that he would not be a candidate on the coalition ticket. His explanation was accepted by the convention.

Premier Tweedie's Manly Course.

Premier Tweedie then addressed the convention on the prospects of success in ther counties of the province, and predicted a large majority, as conditions were more favorable than in 1899. He was very sorry that such a difficulty existed in this county, and they should make every possible effort to solve the matter amicably, and particularly to remember that in the event of the arrangement of Mr. Hill and another accepting a position on a coalition ticket, contrary to the wishes of the convention, he would be compelled reluctantly to ask for the resignation of Hon. Mr. Hill as a member of the government, but he trusted some way would be found whereby the difficulty would be solved,

Hon. Mr. McKeown followed on the same line offering many cogent reasons for solution of this unprecedented difficulty. He would be extremely sorry if the Premier should be forced to ask for the resignation of Hon. Mr. Hill, who has served the party and county for so many years honestly and faithfully, and for those reasons, if no other, he begged of them to proceed in a business as well as cool manner on the solution of the problem which would land four governm

Messrs. McMonagle, Gilmor and Byron addressed the convention in a spirit of conciliation and were followed by N. Marks Mills, who stated he could not understand why gentlemen who should be present absented themselves from the onvention and at the same time expected to be allowed to name the non on a ticket to control this county. A vote of thanks was extended to and accepted by the Premier and Hon. Mr.

McKeown for their presence and advice. The following candidates were then placed in nomination: N. Marks Mills, St. Stephen; H. V. Dewar, St. George; George Bryon, Campobello; M. N. Cockburn, St. Andrews. The convention then adjourned.
